Ninth Baby Dies as Grim Epidemic Continues

Insanitary Condition Blamed

Suburb Seeks Incorporation

A two-monthold Trimble road infant yesterday became the ninth baby to die of "infantile diarrhea" in the suburban area northwest of the city.

Gary Ray Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Perry, was stricken with the disease Friday and taken to General hospital, where death occurred yesterday, Dr. Harry Wain, Mansfield-Richland county health commissioner, said.

The infant lived in the Hanna road area, just outside the boundry of Country Club Allotment No. 3, center of the diarrhea epidemic which broke out early in July.

It was the first diarrhea death in the area since Sept. 13, when the disease claimed the life of six-months-old Stearl Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bryant, of Warren road, Country Club Allotment No. 3

Meanwhile, a committee of Hanna road residents are fighting to incorporate the area to obtain a safe water supply and a sewage disposal system, as well as other advantages available to an organized village.

Health department authorities have blamed contaminated water supplies and improper sewage disposal for the outbreak of the diarrhea epidemic.

MEETING CALLED

The Hanna road committee will meet at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Hanna road church, Harry Simpson, chairman of the group, announced.

Since the outbreak of the epidemic methods of improving conditions in the suburban area have been discussed and some action has been taken.

But officials are generally agreed that incorporating is the only real answer to the problems that confront tthe residents of the area.

The committee of citizens working for the incorporation hope to extend city water lines into the area, and set up a sewer district.

Other measures that have been discussed, such as the drilling of a group of public wells, with no distribution system, would only offer temporary relief, health department officials say.

Residents of the area are living in a suburban community, under rural sanitary conditions, Dr. Wain explained.

Wells and outdoor toilets are crowded together, and the water has become contaminated.

There is no reason to believe additional wells drilled in the area would not be contaminated, too, health department officials say.

Services for the Perry infant will be conducted at 2 p. m. Monday, at the Henderson funeral home, Vanceburg, Ky. Burial will be at Gilliam cemetery.

Survivors, beside the parents, include five brothers, Frank, Floyd, Earl, Kenneth and Junior, and two sisters, Leota and Odeling, all of Mansfield.

Funeral services will be in charge of Wolford funeral home. The body will be taken to Kentucky this afternoon.

DP Measure Pigeon-Holed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate voted last night to shelve the displaced persons bill for this session.

Adopting a motion by Senators Cain (R-Wash.) and Eastland (D-Miss.), the Senate sent the hotly-disputed measure back to its judiciary committee with instructions that it be returned for action by next January 25.

The bill, passed by the House and a prime feature of President Truman's program, would increase to 134,000 the number of displaced persons to be admitted to the U. S. and change the rules.

Last night's vote removed one of the stumbling blocks in the way of proposed adjournment of Congress next week.

UE Plans To Try Leftists

A meeting, at which definite steps will be taken to indict and try certain individual members of Local 711, United Electrical Workers, CIO, "who have been upholding and furthering the communistic stand taken by national UEW officers, has been called by Joseph Hawkins, president of Local 711, for 2:30 p. m. today.

The meeting, which will be held in John Simpson Junior high school auditorium, has been called for the Local 711 membership and Hawkins termed the meeting "a very important one."

"Specifically, the members will be charged with violation of the oath of membership, which compels them to follow the dictates of the local union and its duly elected officers," Hawkins said.

The action is an outgrowth of the charge of "encouraging and promoting secession of the local from the UE" filed against Hawkins by a group of left-wingers in the union two weeks ago.

TRIED BEFORE BOARD

Members are tried at a hearing before an elected trial board, Hawkins said.

The verdict of the trial board would be presented to the membership for a vote, and if upheld, the sentence would be imposed.

"In this case it would probably be suspension from the union," he added.

Hawkins said the charge against him of encouraging and promoting secession appears to be a "cut and dried charge thought up by national officers." He said similar charges have been filed against most right-wing leaders in the UE locals.

Today's session will be a follow-up of a recent meeting at which 175 of 180 of the local's stewards voted unanimously in favor of the right-wing stand taken at a recent UEW convention in Cleveland.

Reach Pay Bill Accord

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A $243,000,000 pay increase was in prospect today for 1,385,000 government workers under a compromise agreement reached by a Senate-House conference committee.

President Truman meanwhile put into effect a $700,000 salary hike already voted for 258 top federal officials including cabinet members and bureau heads.

These were the pay boosts set in the compromise for lower level government employes:

1. An average yearly increase of $141 for 885,000 civil service workers at a total annual cost of about $130,000,000. The $141 figure represents a compromise between the $160 previously voted by the Senate and the $113 hike approved by the House.

2. A flat $120 raise for nearly all regular postal employes with hourly increases for other postal workers on part-time or hourly employment. About 500,000 postal workers are covered by the agreement.

The two pay bills now must be approved by both chambers before being presented for the President's final OK.

Bradley Bares USSR Might

WASHINGTON — (AP) — General Omar N. Bradley Saturday pictured a big Russian army as able to double and almost triple its combat divisions within months, senators said, as he urged passage of the arms-for-Europe appropriation.

Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, was reported by Senate appropriations committeemen to have told them that:

Russia now has 175 combat divisions in readiness; she could put 300 divisions into combat within 60 days; and the Soviet could step up its military power to 502 divisions in a matter of months.

REDS RULE CANTON—The Chinese communist army advance into Canton, hurriedly evacuated Nationalist capital, gives the Reds, their first major base in South China. A mere 80 miles away is Hong Kong, which the British vow they will defend at any cost. The communist occupation of Canton furnishes the Red troops with a handy outlet to the whole of southeast Asia where the spread of Red influence is feared.

Event Opens Chest Drive

Kick-Off Breakfast Scheduled Monday

Mansfield's 1949 Community Chest campaign to raise $141,663 will open Monday.

Reservations for nearly 300 volunteer workers who will aid in the drive have been made for the Monday morning kick-off breakfast at the Mansfield-Leland hotel, starting at 8 a. m.

For further particulars about the Community Chest campaign, see Page 26.

Serving as host for the breakfast will be W. A. Brandenburg, who has sponsored this campaign event for the past five years.

This will mark the official opening of the Red Feather campaign to raise funds for the continued operation of the 10 agencies supported by the Community Chest.

Miss Janet Kelly will serve as chairman of the breakfast, a position she has filled for the past several years. Serving as usherettes at the affair will be Pat Becker, Phyllis McFarland, Betty Staninger, Martha Robertson and Sheila Constance, members of Girl Scout troop 12, and Patricia Kirkpatrick, Mona Hammett, Georgia McLelland and Janet Maver, officers of the Senior Blue Tri club of the YMCA, Miss Kelly said.

The principal speaker at the breakfast will be Elmer L. Lindseth, president of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating company, and the Edison Electric company.

Men Work Evenings, Saturdays

Members Help Build St. Mary's Church

The work of remodeling the old Newman school building into a church and school for the newly-established St. Mary's Catholic parish, "Our Lady of the Snows," has become a community project in the northeast section of the city.

Rev. Robert H. Ruffing, pastor, said men of the parish are working evenings aand Saturdays, salvaging materials which have been torn out for possible re-use in the building.

The major remodeling work is being done by Friebel and Hartman, Shelby contractors.

Workmen are tearing out partitions in the basement and first floor of the east, or Wayne street, section of the building.

This section, which will be one large room when finished, will be the location of the church. The other side of the building will be used for the parish school.

The church space will be 77 by 47 feet with a height of 20 feet. The main part of the church and a balcony will provide seating space for more than 500 persons, Rev. Ruffing said.

Rev. Ruffing said workmen have been repairing the roof of the building and this part of the project should be finished next week.

He said it is not known when work on the building will be finished and no date has been set for the opening of church services.

The school building was purchased in August as the first step toward establishing the new parish in the northeast section of the city. The parish, which includes about 1,500 members, serves the territory north and east of the Pennsylvania railroad, beginning with the northwest city limits and extending south and east to Richland county limits.

The school, which contained 15 rooms and an auditorium, was purchased for $35,000

Lauds Airmen After Tragedy

ISLEHAM, Eng. —(AP)— A British coroner said Saturday the crew of a bomb-laden U. S. B-50 plane which crashed near here Thursday died gallantly trying to save this village from disaster.

The coroner, V. O. D. Cade, said the pilot, identified as Maj. George H. Ingham, of Tucson, Ariz., "took every step he could" to avoid death and destruction. Eleven U. S. airmen and one Briton were killed.

Had the plane landed in the village, Cade said, the death toll and damage "would have been colossal."

Halloween Show Must Go on, Mrs. Doerr Says

Directs Carnival Plans From Sick Bed

From her sick bed at her home, 146 Parkwood boulevard, Mrs. Ada Hunt Doerr, sponsor of the annual "Help Hunt Halloween" celebration said yesterday that the "show must go on" in spite of her illness.

Mrs. Doerr will have plenty of help in lining up the big parade, buying prizes and judging at the stand near Central park.

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will back the celebration and have promised at least 15 floats.

Members of the judging committee, which includes Louis Them, Richard Mumford and T. M. Zerby, will be assisted at the judging stand by members of the Mansfield Boy Scouts. Floyd Dent, scout executive, said yesterday he will be glad to have members of Mansfield troops assist with the celebration.

The parade scheduled for Saturday night, Oct. 29, will present an array of masked revelers, bands, and gayly decorated wagons and floats. The parade will wind through the downtown area past the reviewing stand on the south side of Central park.

Although there will be no dance sponsored by Mrs. Doerr, the Tau chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi has made arrangements for a "street dance" that night immediately after the parade.

It will start about 9 p. m. at the A. B. Grafton parking lot, Park avenue west and Mulberry street, and will include in its dance program mostly square dances and a few old-fashioned round dances.

Tickets for the dance at 75 cents each, will go on sale shortly. Mrs. Herbert Holmes, sorority member, is chairman of arrangements. Proceeds from the dance will aid the sorority's charity program.

Vote Drive Goes Into High Gear

GOP Schedules First Rally

Mansfield's municipal campaign will get into full stride this week with the GOP officially stepping into the fight and the Democrats continuing the heavy campaigns they began the first of the month.

Tuesday night both parties will stage public rallies.

Republican Mayorality Candidate Thomas B. Wright opens his campaign Tuesday at Liberty park with a covered-dish dinner at 6:30 p. m.

Wright will speak and immediately following his address James V. Will, chairman of the central committee, will present the party's platform.

The public is invited to the meeting and dinner for which the Republican party will provide meat, coffee and ice cream, GOP spokesmen said.

A Democratic forum will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at Johnny Appleseed Junior high school

Charles O Anglin, Democratic candidate for mayor, will speak on city government, then throw the meeting open to questions from the floor.

Although the forum is planned for the Second and Third wards as the third in a series of meetings scheduled for each ward, the rally is open to the public, party officials said.

Both the Democratic and Republican parties will introduce their candidates at their meetings. The GOP office seekers will speak briefly.

The Republicans will hold two other conferences during the week. Thursday at party headquarters at 52½ North Main street a meeting of all committeemen and party workers will be held.

Carl G. A. Johnson jr., president of the Tom Wright for Mayor club, has called a meeting of the club's workers and members at the headquarters Saturday at 11 a. m.

Farm Plan Talks Fail

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A tentative agreement on bitterly-contested farm price legislation blew up last night.

Senate and House members of a conference committee were right back where they started. They stomped out of a long session apparently in complete disagreement over a fundamental section of their conflicting bills.

The basic dispute the bills presented was:

Shall the government continue to support at 90 per cent of parity all major crops, provided they are under maximum government regulation?

Or would a sliding scale of supports from 75 to 90 per cent be better?

A morning meeting brought agreement on a 90 per cent plan, by a vote of 11 to 3.

At nightfall, the 14 conferees wadded up this agreement and adjourned until Monday.

Conferees said a switch by Senate Majority Leader Lucas (D.-Ill.) and Senator Anderson (D.-N.M.) scuttled the compromise. Both had voted earlier in the day for support payments at 90 per cent of parity when maximum controls were applied.

Car Overturns, Woman Injured

Mrs. Catherine Thieding, 32, of 293 Grace street, was reported in "fairly good" condition at General hospital where she was admitted at 8:15 p. m. yesterday after an automobile in which she was a passenger overturned on Route 39, near Westbrook Country club.

She suffered multiple abraisions and bruises, hospital attaches reported. Cleveland M. Lewis, of 293 Grace street, driver of the car, escaped injury.

Boy Scouts Spurn Steel Union Parade

CHARLEROI, Pa.—(AP)—Boy Scouts of Charleroi did not march in a parade of striking steelworkers Saturday despite an appeal by the Scout executive of Washington and Greene counties.

In a published request, Scout Executive Don D. Rankin asked Charleroi Scouts to march in a parade. He said the unions had always supported the scouting organization.

Several floats in the parade depicted steelworker activities.

Armistice Day Parade Moved Up

Vets Will March In City at 5:30 P. M.

Mansfield veterans of three wars and members of auxiliary patriotic organizations will march in the city's annual Armistice day parade Nov. 11, the 31st anniversary of the signing of the armistice following World War I.

The parade will follow the traditional pattern with one exception. It will be held about 5:30 p. m. because of the night football game between the Mansfield Tygers and Toledo Waite high school. In past years, the parades have been late in the evening.

The traditional open house will be held at the American Legion home during the day for all veterans, auxiliary members and friends. A dance, open to the public with no charge, will follow the parade, another annual custom of the Legion.

Initial plans for the parade were announced by James Riser, commander of McVey post, American Legion, and members of the post entertainment committee.

Committee members include Edward Mason, Wen Murray, William Thull, Frank Mitsch jr., Richard Zimmerman, and Chalmer Harris.

Mason and Mitsch were named co-chairmen of the events by Rizer. They will begin working immediately on general plans.

Other committee chairmen will be announced later, Rizer said.

Thieves Take And Damage Mail Boxes

About three miles of rural mailboxes have been damaged or stolen along two county roads southwest of Bellville, Acting Postmaster Fred Sells reported yesterday.

U. S. Postal authorities in Cincinnati and the Richland county sheriff's department have been notified of the destruction and theft of the boxes, some of which contained mail, Sells said.

The acting postmaster last night was attempting to determine the number of mail boxes that were damaged.

The vandalism took place on Pleasant Church road and Pleasant road, located about four miles southwest of Bellville, he said.

"No one seems to know how the posts were knocked down, or who did it," he said. "We do know it happened sometime Friday night or early Saturday morning," Sells added.

Sees Federal Intervention

SALT LAKE CITY—(AP)—James G. Thimines of Pittsburgh, vice-president of the CIO United Steel Workers union, predicted Saturday that the federal government would intervene shortly in the nationwide steel strike.

"We anticipate the federal government to inject itself in the picture through the mediation service," he told a Salt Lake Telegram reporter.

"The strong United Steel Workers union, which now has 1,000,000 members who are in high spirits despite their forced idleness by the strike, will absolutely hold out for the union program and the federal fact-finding board's recommendations."

Favors Tri-Union Merger

Green Silent On Proposal

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— CIO President Philip Murray lined up in John L. Lewis' labor unity parade Saturday and proposed that they set up a war chest with the AFL to fight strike battles of all unionized labor.

This was the day's top development in the big steel and coal strikes. Murray's United Steelworkers spread their free pension strike to some steel fabricators and made ready to hit aluminum next. More than a million already are idle in the doubleheader strikes with no peace, only industrial grief in sight.

Murray said his steelworkers and "I am sure other equally minded affiliates" of the CIO stand prepared to join John Lewis' United Mine Workers and the AFL "to pool their resources for the common defense and general welfare of the labor movement."

Murray said he had consistently advocated unity of action on the part of all responsible and genuine American trade unions.

But his prepared statement did not mention specifically Lewis' proposal 24 hours earlier. Lewis urged that his UMW and the AFL contribute $2,500,000 a week to the steelworkers in an "un-compromising fight of all American labor."

Lewis had expressed sympathy for the striking steelworkers.

Murray did the same thing toward the miners who also are striking over pensions.

SHOULD AID MINERS

Murray said his proposed war chest should aid the miners also because the UMW is engaged "in a mighty struggle with powerful employers in the coal industry to protect the security of the miners and to gain benefits necessary to their continued well being."

Murray said the steelworkers will lend help and assistance to the miners and to all unions "which are forced into necessary strike action by the opposition of the monopolists and financial interests who dominate the great industries of this country."

There was no immediate comment from AFL President William Green. An aide in Washington said Green will make no statement before Monday.

Murray's counter-proposal caught most labor authorities flat-footed. It was generally believed that the long-standing Lewis-Murray feud would prevent anything but disagreement on the CIO leaders' part.

Few observers had expected Green to be sympathetic with Lewis' idea. But in light of Murray's statement, they reserved further judgment.

Army Veils Koch Case

MUNICH, Germany —(AP)— The U. S. Army issued orders Saturday for secrecy in the release to German authorities Monday of Ilse Koch, infamous mistress of the Buchenwald concentration camp.

Winding up a four-year sentence for war crimes against allied nationals, she will be turned over to the Germans for trial on charges of abusing and killing German nationals.

Mrs. Koch is held at the U. S. Army's Landsberg prison west of Munich, where the transfer is to occur.

The 42-year-old widow of the former commander of Buchenwald faces five major charges in a German court, including the deliberate slaying of 24 German Jewish prisoners in 1941.

Col. David M. Fowler, public information officer, said that, though civilian newsmen are barred, Army photographers will take official pictures of the turnover in the prison courtyard.

Construction Hints Cut Building Costs

Of the many dollar-stretchers available when building or remodeling, here are some often-overlooked ways to cut costs without cutting construction quality, according to Royal Barry Wills, widely-known architect.

A square house or room costs less than a rectangular one with the same amount of floor space.

A plain roof without dormers is least expensive. Carry the walls up three or four feet, give the roof less pitch, place short windows beneath the eaves for light and ventilation and eliminate the more expensive dormers.

Concrete or cinder blocks cost less than poured concrete for basement walls. If native stone is available near the building site this may cost even less.

Insulating the house at time of construction costs less than applying this protection later.

Areaways around cellar windows may be made of bent iron or asbestos board, which is less expensive than ready-made devices.

Large sheets of plasterboard or similar dry-wall construction eliminate expensive lath and plaster.

Extending the second story out with a two-foot overhang to provide shelter over entrances will eliminate porch roofs and give more second floor area without foundation cost.

Use stock lumber and millwork without curliques. Eliminate all superfluous moldings and trim. The house looks better without these and savings are important.

Costs can be cut by omitting a porch if a terrace will serve as well. If a roof is desired in summer, use an awning over the terrace. A plain cement floor marked off in squares costs less than brick.

Bay windows cost money, but if a bay is wanted an oriel window is cheaper since it requires no foundation.

A large slab of stone or an old slab of concrete paving will make an inexpensive yet pleasing front entrance step for a ranch or country-style home. To further cut costs one can do some of the work, such as laying a brick or flagstone walk.

Use a simple stock front door and make the entrance distinctive by flanking it with full-length shutters. This saves the cost of an elaborate entrance.

Use stock timbers for porch roof support instead of ornate columns.

A space-saver as well as a money-saver is a broad hinged shelf in the kitchen that drops down against the wall when not in use for eating or kitchen work. A variation of this is the shelf that folds up flat against the wall after use.

Save money and space with built-in kitchen cupboards and dish shelves, built-in drawers or clothes closets, built-in desks and bookshelves. Built-ins cut down the need for furniture, save floor space and give the home individuality.

Eliminate the fussy fireplace mantel; frame the opening with wide stock molding. This gives a pleasing design for either traditional and modern houses.

Let interior wood paneling retain its natural finish to avoid frequent painting. A light coat of wax will bring out the natural beauty of the wood.

Interior doors made of boards and battens and securely cross braced on one side cost less than ready made doors and add a picturesque touch to a ranch-type house.

Keep the plumbing pipes as close together as possible, to save building and material costs. Plan kitchen and bathroom back-to-back with the kitchen sink on the wall next to the bath, if a two-story house, place the bathroom directly above the kitchen.

Some of these suggestions will save a little, others save a lot. Utilize those which are appropriate to the style of the house and comply with local building codes.

FOUR KINDS OF WEATHER—ON SAME HILL—Take a good look at this sketch of a hill in Ohio. It illustrates just one phase of the "Climate Control Project" currently being presented by House Beautiful magazine. The sketch shows clearly why a building plot's specific "angle to the sun" can give to a house any one of several different kinds of climate. In the illustration, the house on the level plot catches its full share of Ohio sunshine. The house on the left (south slope) catches tropical sunshine because it, like the tropics, faces the sun more squarely than the level Ohio plot does. And the house at right, (north slope) is at an angle to the sun like the region of Ontario where, on a March day, it is still winter. The eight prominent scientists who worked on the "Climate Control Project" point out that, since spring comes sooner and winter later to a south slope, you can move your climate 500 or 1,000 miles south by building your house in that position.

Ready-Built and Custom-Built Homes Both Have Advantages

Erecting one's own home or buying it ready-built each has advantages and disadvantages, says the Construction Research Bureau, New York clearing house for building information.

In the custom-built home, a wider choice of location is permitted. A vacant plot can be utilized in a well-established neighborhood with fine trees, good transportation and convenience to schools, churches and shopping. In many ready-built new developments, these amenities may be years in the future.

Greater satisfaction comes from planning a home to fit one's family needs, hobbies and permits self-expression since the owner-planned home can be entirely distinctive without the made-in-a-mold appearance. Rooms can be arranged as the family wants, and there is always the assurance that material and equipment in the custom-built house is exactly as specified. Wall space and floor areas can be planned to fit specific furniture.

The cost of a mass-produced dwelling is 15 per cent to 30 per cent less than custom-building of an identical house. The buyer knows what he is getting before closing the deal, as he can inspect the finished product. In custom-building, a layman often finds the house is entirely different on completion than he expected, due to his unfamiliarity with sketches and blueprints.

A ready-built home usually is a complete package, including landscaping, utility connections and mechanical equipment. Anxiety over the countless details that must be worked out by owner, architect and contractor is avoided. Then there is always the possibility that the home will go beyond one's means due to what seem to be minor changes during construction.

Consultation with one's banker and a good architect before deciding whether to buy or build is usually the best procedure.

POLICE FORCE GROWS

KUALA LUMPUR — (AP) — The Federation of Malay's police force is now at full strength — 14,522 men — for the first time since the liberation in August, 1945. At the time of the liberation the police force strength was 7,663 which was considered 289 below the approved pre-war establishment. With the declaration of an emergency in Malaya as a result of the outbreak of a Communist campaign last year it was decided to bring the total to its present peak.

Hen 21 Years Old Still Laying Eggs

LINCOLN, NEB. — (AP) — A hen old enough to vote is claimed by Pearl Hallerty, a stock feeder for a railroad.

He said the 21 year old hen is the last survivor of a flock of 50 roosters and 48 hens he bought in 1928. She still lays an egg now and then, he said.

SOLAR HOUSE—Typical of the small house of tomorrow, according to scale plans recently exhibited by some of the country's leading architects at the New York Museum of Modern Art, is this house designed by George Fred Keck. Laid out on a rectangular plot, the house faces south to trap the low winter sun, but has deep eaves to provide shade in summer. Water on the roof helps maintain a cool interior in summer. The house's kitchen is at the left, the living-dining room is next, with bedrooms in a line to the right. Storage rooms and garage are behind the kitchen.

Careful Inspection of Old House Reveals Its Value

BY HENRY J. WINGATE
(Architectural Engineer)

An older house can prove a good buy if the purchaser determines the value in advance by careful inspection.

Since much of the construction is hidden and a buyer cannot examine structural details as when building a new house, it is wise to employ a disinterested appraiser, an architect and a heating engineer to inspect the house.

The appraiser will know whether the house is worth the asking price, the architect will advise on costs and methods of alterations and repairs, and the heating contractor will know whether the heating plant is adequate.

POINTS TO WATCH

The buyer himself can detect the sun pools that will combine to bring the family discomfort and reduce or increase repair and operating expenses.

Look for settlement of the concrete foundation without large patches of stucco. Excessive settlement or chips easily under light hammer blows is not sound. Tapping the basement floor and cellar windows which are commonly of the concrete beam drop.

Center of the house should be supported by steel or metal lally columns topped by a girder of heavy beam through the middle of the house.

Joist should be cross-braced [illegible]

[illegible] plete new roof may be needed. Look for water stains on walls and ceilings that indicate roof or plumbing leaks.

Check the stairwell for sufficient headroom. If stairs turn, there should be a broad, square landing; triangular winding stairs are dangerous.

Don't let a flashy paint job or a recently modernized bath or kitchen distract attention from basic structural soundness. Part of the cost of owning a home is its repair and operation and only a house in which these items can be held to a minimum is a good buy.

Construction Rules Check Fire Losses

More than 750 fires will break out in American homes in the next 24 hours. Many will bring serious loss because of poor construction. Here are 10 ways to build more fire-safety into a home.

1. The chimney should be lined throughout with flue tile, the chimney top should extend at least 2' above the highest part of the roof and be screened to prevent the escape of sparks.

2. No wood should touch a chimney, allow a 2" clearance and fill this space with naturally non-combustible mineral wool.

3. Install a furnace large enough for sufficient heat without "forcing."

4. Place the furnace and water heater on a non-combustible floor and at least 18" from walls and ceiling.

5. Install fire-resistive material on the basement ceiling above the furnace.

6. Bury oil tanks of over 275 gallons capacity; do not store coal near the furnace.

7. Hollow walls and other spaces through which flames can spread should be fire-stopped at both ends of each stud and joist space with solid blocks of wood or gypsum; or the hollow spaces should be filled with mineral wool insulation, which cannot burn.

8. Use solid, flush-type doors instead of thin-paneled doors.

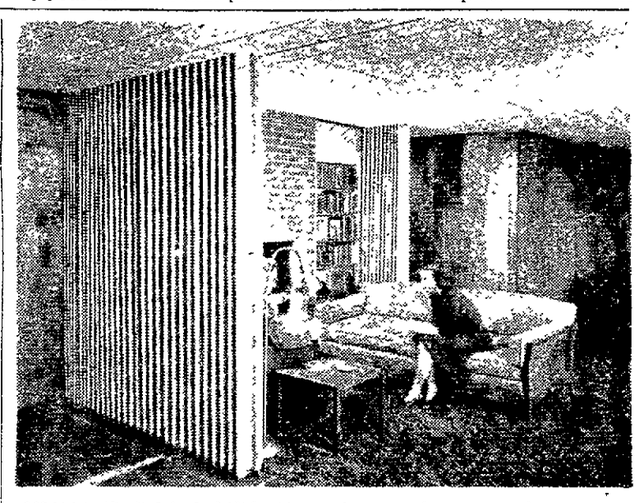
9. Place a self-closing metal-clad door between basement stairs and living quarters.

10. Provide ventilation in the attic and basement storage room to prevent spontaneous combustion.

Hearing Set For Tuesday

Failing to appear in court yesterday to answer a charge of molesting a female, Otren V. Lott, 21, of 147 South Adams street will stand trial Tuesday, Clerk of Courts Paul Ritchie reported.

Lott, who pleaded innocent to the charge, was released last Tuesday on $200 bail. He was charged by a North Main street man with molesting his 15-year-old daughter last Sunday.



CHANGES ROOM SIZE—Use of a modern-type door which folds to small size makes possible the dividing of a large room into two or more smaller ones, as illustrated in the above picture. These doors, made of plastic coated with fabric, open and close with accordion action, requiring no "swing" space.

Choose Future Home Site With Sun, Wind Relation

By HENRY J. WINGATE
(Architectural Engineer)

Orientation, the placing of a house on a plot of ground according to compass directions, should be carefully considered before buying a house or purchasing a plot for a future home site.

The house or site should allow prevailing summer breezes to sweep through the house and the dwelling should be planned with a minimum of exposure to winter winds.

In most sections of the United States, prevailing summer breezes are from a southerly direction and since modern planning strives to bring sunlight into the rooms most lived in, southern exposure of large glass areas is usually preferable.

If major glass areas face the south the sun will light the home most of the day. A wide roof overhang will provide summer shade. Because the sun is low in winter, the overhang will not shut out its rays during the cold months.

If large glass areas face east or west, the early morning or late afternoon sun will make an overhang useless and much undesirable summer sun and light will enter the house. Little or no sun will reach the interior with a northern exposure.

To properly orient a house, living-room, porches, terraces and as many bedrooms as possible, should be planned for exposure to summer winds.

A house to be located on the north side of a street, may be designed with living-room and bedrooms at the front facing south; on the opposite side of the street, living-room and bedrooms are placed at the rear with windows overlooking a rear garden or yard. The front or north facade of the house is given an architectural design that does not suggest that the kitchen is at the front.

Mansfield-Massillon Contest Tops State Card

Golden Gophers Belt Ohio State, 27-0

Powers Battle Friday

By CHARLEY STINE

Mansfield Senior high's biggest football game of the season — for at least five reasons — comes up Friday night when the hard-running Tygers invade Massillon for a battle with vaunted Washington high.

Here are just a few of the things which a victory for Mansfield would mean.

1. A possible state championship if the Tygers win their remaining three games.

2. Continued first place and probable championship of the Ohio Scholastic conference.

3. The end of Massillon's ten-game winning streak.

4. Continuation of the Tygers' victory streak to five games.

5. Last but not least, the first victory over Massillon in the school's history. This would make it the top game over whether the other conditions were present or not.

Not that Senior high is expected to beat Massillon but it might. The Tygers have been improving in each game and building up for this one ever since the 33-7 defeat of last year. Defense will probably be the big question as Mansfield's attack is certainly versatile enough.

With a passing combination like Don Cline-to-Ed Demyan and runners like A. C. Jenkins and Tommy Tucker the Tygers match Massillon on the offense.

Stopping a team which has sometimes been rated stronger than any Paul Brown ever produced is a different matter.

Massillon has averaged 49 points per game and has been held to less than 40 only once. That was in its "closest" game, a 34-6 win over Barberton. Other Massillon victories were: Cathedral Latin, 40-6; Canton Lincoln, 60-0; Steubenville, 63-0; and Alliance, 48-14.

The Alliance game, played Friday night is only the means for comparison. Mansfield defeated Alliance 28-14. Senior high has one thing in its favor — it has played a much tougher schedule. Senior high has beaten: Cleveland East 33-15; Alliance, 28-14; Warren, 20-0 and and Euclid, 42-6. It lost to

Five Matches Added To F-H Ring Program

Five additional boutshave been added to the first Friendly House amateur boxing program of the season, Coonie Miller, co-matchmakeer, announced last night.

Seven three-round matches have now been lined up for the Oct. 24 show in the new Friendly House gymnasium. Three more goes will be booked early this week to complete the card. Miller and Doc Whisler are serving as the matchmakers.

Latest matches are: Jack Sawyer, F-H, 132 vs Gene Hunt, Marion, 132; Gene Armbruster, F-H, 147 vs. Spike Jones, Marion, 145; Ollie Mayweather, F-H, 162 vs Melvin Bowen, Akron, 160; Dick James, Marion, 134 vs. Joe Greenwood, Akron, 136 and Elliott Wallace, F-H, 158 vs. Russell Middleton, Marion, 160.

Greenwood won the novice lightweight title in the Akron and Cleveland novice Golden Gloves tourneys last year while James is one of the scrappiest fighters in the Marion stable.

Don Esbenshade, top man on the Friendly House boxing team, battles Dick Butcher of Akron in the main event. Both are middleweights. The semi-final pits Howard Carney, former F-H bantamweight champion, against Jesse Smith, Akron.

Tickets for the show go on sale Tuesday afternoon at City News, Corner Lunch, Hunt's News, Sandy Maxwell's, Friendly House and D. and M. Cigar store. Reserved seats are $1.25 with general admission, 75 cents. Admission for students is 35 cents.

Wildcats Surprise Michigan

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY

EVANSTON, Ill. — (AP) — Twice - defeated Northwestern yesterday registered the most stunning upset of the Western conference gridiron season by defeating once mighty Michigan, 21 to 20.

Michigan, 1947-48 conference champion, had blazed through 15 successive "Big Ten" games without defeat, losing its last to Illinois, 13-9, in 1946.

The proud Wolverines, 1948 mythical national champions, had rung up a string of 25 consecutive victories until Army upset them 21-7 a week ago.

The surprising victory was Northwestern's first over the Wolverines since scoring a 7-0 decision over them in 1937. Two games had been tied in ten conflicts since then.

A stunned standing room crowd of 55,000 saw the Wildcat passing attack completely overshadow the heavily-favored Wolverines. Northwestern, first beaten this season by Pittsburgh in an upset and then bowled over by Minnesota, completed five passes in eight attempts for 124 yards—an average 24.1 yards per completion.

Michigan's air attack was good for eight completions in 21 attempts for only 66 yards. The Wolverines, however, excelled in ground power gaining 215 yards against 159 for the Wildcats. Michigan's land thrusts were good for 15 first downs against only six for Northwestern.

Harry Allis' unsuccessful attempt for point after touchdown towards the end of the third quarter spelled defeat for the maize and blue. The kick sailed an inch wide of the goal post.

With Northwestern leading 14-13 at the start of the fourth period, Wilcat Halfback Tom Worthington made the upset victory certain, on a sensational 56-yard touchdown gallop.

SCORES ON BOOT

He took a punt from Michigan's Walt Teninga on his own 44, faked a handoff to Fullback Art Murakowski and then skirted down the sideline for the score.

Michigan started the touchdown parade midway through the second period. The Wolverines climaxed a 50-yard march over land and through the air when Fullback Don Dufek crashed over center from the one. Allis converted.

The Wildcats tied the score when Quarterback Don Burson pitched a 31-yard pass to Halfback Ed Tunnicliff who raced 35 to score. Eddie Nemeth added the point.

After Fullback Gasper Pericone set the Wildcat grid machine rolling with a 35-yard sweep, Burson passed to End Don Stonesifer in the flat zone and the Denver product raveled seven yards for the second Northwestern touchdown.

Nemeth then added the all-important extra point to give last year's Rose Bowl champions a 14-7 lead.

The vaunted Michigan running attack started clicking at the end of the third period. Big Dick Kempthorn dove over left guard from the five-yard line and the touchdown to end a 51-yard march. Allis then missed the game-tying point.

The Wolverines tried to come back, after Worthington's gallop, and finally did late in the game. They moved from their own 29 to the Northwestern two in ten plays and Dufek went through center to score.

Penn State Gridders Romp Over Nebraska

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. —(AP)— Penn State, scoring touchdowns in each of the first three periods and a safety in the final quarter, defeated Nebraska, 22-7, yesterday, before a crowd of 23,600. Nebraska's lone touchdown came on an 82-yard third period gallop by Ronald Clark.

MAKES FINE RETURN — Walter Klevay (16), Ohio State sophomore halfback, took a Minnesota kick on his own three yesterday and ran it back 23 yards in this second period action. (60) is John Sundin, Minnesota tackle. (Associated Press Photo)

Army Rolls Easily Over Harvard 11

By BILL KING

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. —(AP) —Continuing its drive to the nation's highest football peak, mighty Army, with its supposedly ailing Gil Stephenson scoring four times, overwhelmed an out-manned but hard fighting Harvard team, 54-14, yesterday at the stadium.

The Cadets' terrific power shocked the 48,000 crowd that viewed the most humiliating defensive stand Harvard has made during its long history. The previous high score against it was Yale's 48-0 victory back in 1884.

When the hard-smashing fullback Stephenson was not tearing the Crimson line to shreds, numerous other black-shirted West Pointers were. The only respite Harvard had was during the third period, when Coach Red Blaik, bent on mercy, had his third and fourth stringers in action.

The Cadets scored thrice in both the first and second sessions, were blanked in the third and then, with a breath-taking demonstration of the attack that toppled mighty Michigan last week, added two more touchdowns in the finale.

Jim Cain accounted for two Army touchdowns and the others were made by Vic Pollard and Elmer Stout. The latter's was the most spectacular play of the game, a 76-yard dash with an intercepted pass.

Harvard, previously beaten by Stanford, Columbia, and Cornell, made a brave showing after taking the game-opening kickoff. But it soon put itself hopelessly out on the running by fumbling on Army's 28-yard line.

IN 38 SECONDS

Thereupon, the Cadets settled down to scoring business in grim fashion and their first two tallies were registered within the short space of 38 seconds.

After being banged and bruised about almost at the Cadets' will for nearly a half hour, Harvard gained its second wind against scrub opposition and Jim Henry ended a 98-yard drive, mostly through the air, by smashing over from Army's one-yard line.

Blaik had his top performers back in action when the fourth period opened but a half-dozen Harvards appeared to block a punt on Army's 30 and, after six plays and two Army penalties, Henry smashed over again from a foot out.

'Game of Week' Becomes Romp for Notre Damers

By JERRY LISKA

SOUTH BEND, Ind. —(AP)— In just 10 blazing minutes, thunderous Notre Dame pounded Tulane's touted green wave into a helpless ripple yesterday. The stunning 46-7 victory made a debacle out of the "football game of the season."

If there was a hero for the furious Irish who reached terrific inspirational heights in their seven-touchdown explosion it was Halfback Larry Coutre who scored the first three touchdowns of the game.

Thus, top ranked Notre Dame, for the first time this season, demonstrated its crunching potentialties for a fourth straight win.

In all, the Irish slashed through Tulane for four first period touchdowns, but it was the first three within the opening 10 minutes of play which completely whipped a bewildered Tulane eleven.

Notre Dame scored a touchdown each in the final three periods which only emphasized that previously unbeaten Tulane was in far over its head.

The lone Green Wave score came on a pass play covering 76 yards, from Bill Bonar to George Kinek in the third period.

For the pulverizing Irish, who outrushed Tulane 280 yards to a mere 23, it was their 32nd game without defeat, a skein stretching from the opening of the 1946 season.

Tulane which proudly came here after wins over Alabama, Georgia Tech and South Eastern Louisiana didn't know what hit it.

Irish backs never were stopped at the first impact, which is why Coutre streaked 81 yards for his second touchdown and Billy Barrett in the final quarter scooted 59 yards to score.

Quarterback Bob Williams, who did a magnificent job in calling plays against the sagging Tulane defenses, completed eight of 11 passes for two touchdowns and 177 yards.

Halfback Frank Spaniel grabbed a 34-yard pass from Williams for the first of his two touchdowns. That was the fourth touchdown in the devastating first period Spaniel's second touchdown came in the third quarter on a slashing 12 yard run.

EASY SCORE

The seventh Notre Dame touchdown materialized with ridiculous ease on Williams' 18-yard shot to hulking end Leon Hart in the end zone.

Steve Oracko booted only four of his seven conversion tries, but it was not a day for the Irish to worry about extra points.

Coutre carried only four times. His efforts paid off with three touchdowns and 101 yards. Fullback Emil Sitko carried six times for a 64 yard total.

Notre Dame has an open date next week, and then meets Navy at Baltimore.

Princeton Smashes Brown to 1st Loss

PRINCETON, N. J. — (AP) — Dick Kazmeir led Princeton to an Ivy league victory over Brown yesterday, 27 to 14, knocking Brown from the dwindling list of undefeated football teams.

The upset avenged Brown's 23-20, last second triumph in 1948.

Grid Double Header Listed At Arlin Field

Mansfield's first double-header football program will be presented at Arlin field Friday night with four area junior high and reserve teams battling in a pair of games.

John Appleseed, undefeated, untied and unscored upon in three games, will meet the Madison reserves in the first game, set to get under way at 7 p. m.

Approximately an hour-and-a-half later, John Simpson will face the Bellville reserves in the second tilt. Bands of both junior high schools will be in action and up to 4,000 students and adults are expected

READY FOR BATTLE

Both Simpson and Appleseed will be girding for their traditional contest set to come off just one week later on the same gridiron. Both will also have a score to match Wednesday. Appleseed has already beaten Bellville, 27-0, while Simpson has trounced Madison, 20-7.

Appleseed will be gunning for its 11th consecutive triumph, having had a record of seven victories without defeat last season. The Pioneers last loss was to Simpson in 1947.

Proceeds from the twin bill and from the annual championship clash are the only methods Simpson and Appleseed have to raise money to finance their sports programs.

Hot Stovers Session Today

Ohio chapters of the National Hot Stove league will meet today in Wooster to decide on sites for 1950 junior baseball tournaments.

The 1949 tournaments were staged in Wooster with two Mansfield teams winning state championships. The Ohio Sport Center outfit copped the 13-14 age group while the Police Recreation club came through in the 15-16 bracket.

Stan Kamen will represent the Mansfield Hot Stovers in today's meeting. Kamen was a member of the three-man committee which supervised Wooster tournament.

Bucky's Brother Signs With Tulsa

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Jack Walter, 18, brother of Bucky Walters, former manager of the Cincinnati Reds, was signed to a pitching contract yesterday by Tulsa of the Texas league. Tulsa is a farm club of the Reds.

Jack, a right hander, is six feet tall and weighs 165 pounds. He pitched for a Philadelphia high school this year, then visited the Reds for a time. Brother Bucky said the kid has a good fast ball and thinks he is a comer.

Eagles Rip To Fourth Win, 18-0

Ashland — The Ashland college football Eagles overpowered Defiance college, 18 to 0, here yesterday in a Mid-Ohio league game.

In winning their fourth victory in five games, the Eagles scored in each quarter except the second. Ashland's all-Ohio backfielder, Kenny Funk, was the big offensive gun in the game, which was played before a crowd of 2,000 at Redwood stadium.

The speedy Funk was equally proficient on the ground and in the air as he passed for one touchdown and ran for the other two. In addition he had a 60-yard heave for an apparent TD to Herb Hart called back. The Eagles were penalized on the play.

However, another Funk to Hart pass accounted for the first TD late in the opening stanza. This time Hart gathered in the toss on the 37 and sprinted across. The play covered 67 yards but Leo Strang missed the conversion try.

Late in the third quarter, Funk, Hart and Warren Thompson spearheaded a 71-yard drive with Funk slicing over from the six.

The final Ashland TD came with only one minute remaining in the ball game. Funk uncorked a beautiful bit of open field running to tally from the 21. Press box observers estimated that Funk travelled 80 yards on the play.

Ashland stalled on one other drive to the Defiance four-yard line while the invaders moved inside the Eagles' 30.

Most unusual play in the game came in the third quarter when Defiance's Shek Spicer surprised Ashland with a 49-yard boot. Funk ran back to field the pigskin and saw he couldn't return it so cut loose with a pretty return kick which covered 79 yards and came to rest on the Defiance one-yard stripe

STATISTIC LEAD

Ashland had 17 first downs to five for the opposition and outgained the losers in total yardage, 376 to 116. Defiance's best defensive was against Ashland passes as five of the Eagle tosses were intercepted

Massive Minnesota Leads Bowl Parade

By KEN DAVIS

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Minnesota moved a lengthy piece down the Rose Bowl road yesterday by belting Ohio State, 27-0, in a Western conference football game before 82,111 fans.

The running of halfbacks Billy Bye and Dick Gregory, with the help of savage blocking, sparked the Golden Gophers' four-touchdown parade.

The result never was much in doubt after the first few plays.

Minnesota's giant line took command of the situation almost immediately. Led by Center Clayton Tonnemaker and Tackle Leo Nomellini, the Minnesota forwards simply smothered any Ohio State attack that became even slightly dangerous.

Bye counted the first Minnesota touchdown late in the first period, going 14 yards over Ohio State's right guard. End Gordon Soltau kicked the first of three straight conversions.

Gregory, set up the second touchdown with a 51-yard run around his own right end and another 20-yard scamper. He scored it on his second plunge from the eight-yard line.

Balked on the ground, Bye tossed a 20-yard pass to Quarterback Jim Malosky in the Ohio end zone early in the fourth quarter. The final marker came a few minutes later after Ohio's Halfback Jim Clark fumbled on his own 13. Fullback Ken Beiersdorf threw to End Bud Grant on the Ohio one, then dived over two plays later.

With the victory Minnesota grabbed the inside track to the Western conference Rose Bowl selection. Unbeaten Minnesota appears the only logical choice—barring late season upsets. Neither Northwestern nor Michigan, the conference's representatives in the 1948 and 1947

Minnesota collected 14 first downs to 10 for Ohio State, 284 net yards rushing to 48 yards for Ohio State, and 55 yards passing to 183 for the losers.

But, cold figures don't reveal the savagery of the Minnesota blocking and tackling. Many times Ohio State Blockers just seemed to melt before the defensive rushes of Tonnemaker and Nomellini.

BUCKEYES THREATEN

Nevertheless, Ohio State gave the third largest crowd in the history of the stadium some thills. Principally they were the result of passes, or the fine, sharp running of Halfback Jimmy Clark in the third quarter.

Twice in the second period Ohio State threatened. The first time, Halfback Jerry Krall pitched to Halfback Ray Hamilton behind the Minnesota defense. The play began on the Ohio State 26 and Hamilton ended out of bounds on Minnesota's 19. It was a 55-yard gain.

But the attack bogged down on Minnesota's four-yard line where the visitors took over on downs.

In the last seconds of the first half, Ohio State's Clark tossed to End Tom Watson from the Ohio 20. Watson nearly broke away, but was pulled down on the Minnesota 20 for a 60-yard advance.

Ticket Sale Ends Monday

Tickets on the Mansfield Tire special train to the Senior high-Massillon Washington schoolboy football game Friday night will be available to Tyger fans today and tomorrow.

Tickets are being sold at the Tire Service store on Park avenue west from 8 a. m. until 8 p. m. both days. Round trip fare to the game is $2.50

The special train will leave the Pennsylvania station at 5:15 p. m. and return to Mansfield about 30 minutes after the game ends.

Pro Rangers Play Tough Foe Today

Mansfield's pro football Rangers will go after their fourth Ohio football league victory in five games today when they host the strong Sandusky Maroons at 2:15 p. m. at Stadium field.

The Rangers and Sandusky both have a chance to take the league laurels this year, but each needs a win today to stay in the running. The undefeated Massillon Chevrolets pace the circuit. Mansfield has won three of four league games while Sandusky has copped two of three.

Comparative scores point towards a Sandusky victory over Coach Jimmy Lymper's Rangers, who have shown a lot of spirit in drills this week and are confident of taking over the Maroons. Sandusky has reportedly added six stars of the Dayton Rockets pro team to insure a victory over the Rangers.

With the exception of injured ends Harold Luckie and Jim Burrage, the Mansfield team is in tip-top shape. Jim Showecker, the 230 - pound tackle, has returned to his offensive job, while husky Dave Worner will probably alternate with Elroy Jones at fullback. Jones has been slow in recovering from an injury sustained last week.

Remainder of the Mansfield starting lineup has Eldon Pritchard and Bill Yosick, ends; Don Ryland, tackle; Pete Keiser and Cliff Stevens, guards; Dan Stevens, center; Ralph Majors, Al Schwaner and Pete Bautz, backs.

The passing of Majors and the receiving ability of Yosick and Pritchard is expected to furnish most of the Rangers' offensive spark.

The Bellville high school band will play at halftime and a soft drink concession stand will be provided.

Tickets for the Mansfield-Massillon pro game here next Sunday will go on sale tomorrow morning at Penn Auto-Sporting Goods, City News and D. & M. Cigar store.

Michigan State Rolls Over Foe In Easy Fashion

EAST LANSING, Mich. —(AP)— Michigan State rolled over William and Mary 42-13 in an intersectional football fight witnessed by 32,655 fans here yesterday.

The battle was tighter than the score indicated, however, for the southern pass attack caused MSC considerable trouble. William & Mary also did not compare too badly in the statistics, particularly in the second half.

It was the second successive Saturday that MSC has fought off a Southern conference bid for glory. Last week Michigan State downed Maryland 14-7.

Lynn Chandnois, the lanky right-half from Flint, Mich., was the offensive sparkplug of the MSC backfield. Chandnois carried for three of his team's touchdowns.

Ex-Harvard Gridder Dies In Car Accident

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Thomas H. Graydon, 63, who was killed with his wife, Marian, in an automobile accident Friday night, was an All-American fullback in 1901 and 1902.

The socially prominent Graydon was the late Walter Camp's choice for the mythical eleven during those years. He played fullback at Harvard.

Fesler 'Sobs' About Big Gophers

COLUMBUS—(AP)—"Those guys would like the Chicago Bears."

That was Ohio State Coach Wesley Fesler's sharpest comment yesterday after Minnesota's great line led the Gophers to a convincing 27-to-0 victory over a game, but out-weighed and outplayed, Buckeye football team.

The obviously stunned Fesler declared:

"That's the most powerful football team I've ever seen in all my life. I can't get over how a college can get so many big and powerful men. I still can't believe that guys that big can be that agile.

"I knew in the first five minutes what it was going to be. Our kids would come out and say: 'What are you going to do? You try to block them and you bounce off and they go right on'."

Minnesota Coach Bernie Bierman, as usual, was sparing of his comment, but he termed the victory, which boosted his charges a long way down the old Rose Bowl road, a "team victory."

Dr. George Hauser, the Gophers' line coach, had a little more to say in a mild sort of way:

"Ohio has a good line, a good knifing line, but our line played its best game today, I believe. They played pretty well."

Sooners In Waltz Over Kansas

BY SAUL FELDMAN

NORMAN, Okla. —(AP)— A relentless ground-gaining attack swept the University of Oklahoma over Kansas 48-26 here yesterday for the Sooners' 14th straight victory.

A dad's day crowd of 37,000 watched Oklahoma open defense of its Big Seven crown.

The victor wasn't as decisive as pre-game predictions of a duplication of last year's 60-7 triumph over Kansas.

Oklahoma, named the nation's third best team by sports writers scored twice in the first quarter and picked up at least one touchdown in each of the other three.

The passing fullback, Dick Gilman, kept Kansas in the game. He scored one touchdown, passed 27 yards to Forrest Griffith for another and his tossing drove Kansas within position so Jerry Bogue and Bud French could register.

Oklahoma made 306 yards on the ground while Kansas was making 51. In passing, Kansas completed 13 to 32 for 189 yards while Oklahoma hit six of 10 for 91.

Looking Through

The Fashion Spyglass

Cocktail or "dressy" dresses are featuring that elegant look this season. We have never seen such lush fabrics or combinations of fabrics. Just as the sportswear designers have gone all out for that casual "tweedy" look, the designers of milady's "stepping out" frocks are clothing her in filmy tissue taffeta, rich brocaded taffeta and satin, heavy velvet and charming metallic fabrics.

Red in a myriad of shades is seen in every fabric. Copper, especially in metallic taffeta seems to be greatly favored too. Black velvet trims on every fabric, on the lapels, pockets, around the waists and on the collars is a new and flattering touch.

Dressy suits, touched with fur are another new note for cocktail parties. Black velvet suits, in the very upper price brackets, are also fashionable today.

But our favorite dress this week is not so pretentious, nor is the price beyond your reach. This frock features a black wool jersey plunging-neckline bodice, very simple in design, with bracelet length sleeves. The waist is gathered and from it flows a wide plaid taffeta skirt featuring the colors of torquoise, pink, and black.

We like this dress because of its combination of simplicity and elegance, because we would be at home in it at a sorority dance or dining in a simple restaurant. It is priced right at $25.

If you have no occasion to wear satin, taffeta or velvet, but need a "Sunday best" dress that is suitable to a variety of occasions, look over Mansfield's stock of wool jersey. Keep it simple for club meetings and dress it up with costume jewelry and accessories for dances and parties. You'll find that wool jersey is extremely versatile and very smart this year. You can also find this fabric in any price range, depending on the workmanship and styling of the dress.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT—Announcement is being made of the engagement of Miss Rose Marie Adelsberger, 390 South Linden road, to Mahlon Elton McLaughlin of Shelby. Miss Adelsberger is employed as a secretary at the American Texolite corporation and is also an instructress at the Ethyl Battin Dance Academy. Mr. McLaughlin is employed at the Shelby Auto Call company. No definite date has been set for the wedding.

CIRCLES TO MEET

Seven circles of the Central Methodist church are listed for the coming week. They are as follows; Circle One with Mrs. P. C. Davis, Lexington-Springmill road, as hostess for a 1 p. m. dessert luncheon. Circle Two with Mrs. Tracy Gongwer, 617 Park avenue west, hostess for a 1 p. m. dessert luncheon; Circle Three with Mrs. L. M. Daugherty, 645 Courtright boulevard, hostess for a 1 p. m. dessert luncheon; Circle Four with Mrs. Earl Hartley, hostess at 97 Ausdale avenue for a 1 p. m. dessert luncheon; Circle Five with Mrs. Ray Paulson 205 Fairlawn avenue, hostess for a covered dish dinner at 12:15 p. m.; Circle Six with Mrs. Camp Smeltzer, 247 West Third street, hostess at 7:30 p. m.; Circle Seven with Mrs. Max Flack, 43 Bradford avenue, hostess at 7:30 p. m.

Just Ask Ann

To start this week's column rolling we'll start off with a couple of "fast ones." Monday afternoon Ed Demyan and Johnny Sazdanoff were at Simpson, looking at pictures of "the good ole days" and talking over old times. After a short visit they realized they had only three minutes in which to reach Senior High school. Well, they made it, but how, we can not reveal. A hint: they were riding with George McNew.

* * *

Another thing which was rolling, only not at the same speed, was the Delta Sigma Zeta sorority hayride. A few of the couples attending were: Ken McCally and Marilyn Williams, Monk Russell, and Marilyn Wittmer, Jim Anderson and Shirley Dunham, Chuck Marchant and Susie Cummins, Gay Rosenburg and Lewie Birmelin, Betsy Clark and Chuck Young, Cynthia Ackerman and Cliff Knarr, Jim Geiger and Sally Ritzenthaler.

* * *

Who or what is Jack Wise looking for every Sunday night around Woodland and Prospect Park in his little Ford? . . . Direct from Massillon—Rumors from Massillon, state that they plan to use their third squad against Mansfield next Friday night. Don't you think we're being underestimated, Tygers?

* * *

Bob Hartnett had to use his power to rise early last Saturday morning. His father discovered a couple parts of his car missing, after Bob went over a few bumps on the corner of Davis and Crescent roads last Friday night, escorting Nancilee Clark to her door. . . . Shirley Yoakam had quite a time picking out Lew Birmelin's graduation picture. They all seemed pretty nice. . . . What goes between Center Walter Maurer and Coach Augie Morningstar? We saw them holding hands on the field during the Warren game!

If you've seen some of the junior girls walking around and looking stiff, they're probably a few of the girls who tried out for cheerleaders. The five will be announced later in the week. . . . Seen driving around in a new 1948 black Ford is Carl Kalinoff. . . . Larry Goldsmith, Jim Rubino and Larry Daly are telling everyone that German is their favorite class. Why, we are still wondering!

* * *

The new program which Senior High has on is quite a success. A few of the dedications which were especially clever were: The football teams' dedication of "Your So Understanding" to Coach Augie, and Augie's dedication of "Again" to the football team. Could he mean Massillon? . . . Jack Bargahiser must have quite a time figuring out an Olsmobile from a Buick, at least he did last Sunday.

Plan Talks On Orient

British Take Quick Action

LONDON —(AP)— The foreign office announced Saturday British diplomatic, civil and military officials are to meet in Singapore for talks on the situation in the Orient—where Chinese communist forces are approaching the crown colony of Hong Kong.

British representatives across Asia from Tokyo to New Delhi will attend, a foreign office spokesman said.

He declined to give the date of the meeting, but other sources said it will be in early November.

During recent months British military forces at Hong Kong have been built up to approximately 40,000 men—nearly four times the strength prior to Hong Kong's fall to the Japanese in the Pacific war.

Strong air and naval units have reinforced the normal garrison. Officials here said they expect no immediate trouble along the frontiers with China.

They explained that this strengthening was largely precautionary

Rabbits Like City

NEW YORK — (AP) — Despite the increasing number of people in the New York metropolitan area, small game still is available not many miles from the downtown skyscraper area. Particularly is this true with rabbits, who seem to delight in making home gardens an important source of their food supply.

Washington Letter on Display Here

A letter, written by President George Washington in 1790 to the Hebrew congregation in Newport, R. I., expounding religious freedom, is another in the series of Freedom Train documents on display at the Richland Trust company.

It will be mounted on the bulletin board tomorrow morning for a two-week period.

This letter, in which Washington detailed his personal ideas on the subject of freedom and toleration, was written following a tour of the New England states and a welcome by the clergy of Newport.

This document and its accompanying historical background, is one of 26 that is being displayed in the local bank as a part of its public service program.

Mother Nature (and G. A. A.) Beckon

BY MARILYN SCHULER

Autumn leaves are blanketing the landscape and Mother Nature has nipped the last acorns from their boughs. Whom do we see trudging through this underbrush and foliage? If you look closely you may discover a sophomore girl earning the required 100 points for joining G. A. A. by hiking. The soccor tournaments, for which points are also given are well under way and archery was begun last week.

For those girls interested in swimming during the winter months, indoors of course, Swan club was organized. New members were announced Oct. 13. They are Sally Ritzenthaler, Meredith Nail, Susan Benzing, Shirley Szuraki, Diane Hoffman, Shirley Pirrgo, Nancy Ward, Susie Cummins and Joan Herring.

MARILYN

The G. A. A. meeting was held last Thursday and a new project was announced. The girls are going to sell small replicas of the M. H. S. Tyger, painted in red and white, as lapel pins. White gym shorts are also being sold for girls to make themselves; this will depend upon your sewing ability but when completed a red Tyger head will decorate the left-hand corner.

This year the German club will sponsor dances featuring polkas and will send aid packages to Germany, as was done last year. Officers elected for the current year are: president, Jack Bargahiser; vice-president, Howard Tipper; secretary, Shirley Lay; treasurer, Donna Loesch. Richard Nixon is the adviser.

Would you like to be in pictures? Most Senior High students will have experienced this pleasure by the time you read this article. Underclassmen's photos were taken Oct. 13 and many Seniors have already received their proofs from the studio.

Arrangements are now being made for the taking of club and activity pictures. These will appear in the Manhigan.

Those Seniors whose names were included on the primary ballot for the Senior class election were Phil Bolin and Larry Inscore, president; Charles Green and Bob Ward, vice-president; Miriam Schroeder and Barbara Staples, secretary; Jean Hathaway and John Wakely, treasurer.

Chatter . . .

Mrs. Ralph Griffith, South Main street road, in General hospital recovering from an operation she underwent early last week. Mrs. Griffith, the former Georgeann Kyle, was seriously injured in an automobile accident 8 months ago.

Current estimates are that by 1956 the country will have 24,000,000 television sets.

Institute Scheduled At Hospital

District Nurses To Be Here Oct. 27

District No. 5 of the Ohio State Nurses' association will hold an all-day institute at Mansfield General hospital Oct. 27.

The district includes Richland, Ashland, Knox, and Holmes counties. In addition all graduate nurses in the Mansfield area, whether members of the association or not, have been invited to attend.

Theme of the institute, which will be the first held in Mansfield since the war, will be "the cardiac patient."

Registration from 8 to 9 a. m. will be in charge of Miss Ruby Doolittle, Mansfield private nurse, and Mrs. Dorothy Fletcher, public health nurse of Mt. Vernon.

A devotional service will be conducted by Rev. Carveth Mitchell, pastor of the First Lutheran church, and the welcome will be given by Wayne Copeland, superintendent of General hospital, and Miss Ida Hunter, president of District No. 5.

The first session, on nursing procedures, will begin at 9:30 a. m. It will be in charge of Miss Elaine Guiher, science instructor at General hospital, and Miss Naomi Linsenmayer, clinical instructor at the hospital.

Miss Gayle C. Rife, afternoon supervisor at the hospital, Miss Betty Caldwell, assistant night supervisor; and Miss Doris Kindinger, assistant afternoon supervisor, will conduct the session on maintenance and development of a public relations program.

A discussion on "Anasthesia" by Dr. Carl R. Damron, and one on "Vein Ligation" by Dr. J. L. Stevens will conclude the morning program.

Following a luncheon at the hospital, Dr. D. W. DeWald will discuss coronary thrombosis and the use of dicumeral and heparin.

Obstruction of the common bile duct will be discussed by Dr. Myron S. Reed and nursing care of such obstruction by Miss Grace Boyer, supervisor at General hospital.

A panel discussion on "The Key to Better Living in a Community," by visiting nurses and public health nurses, will conclude the afternoon session.

Entertainment and a song session led by John Grabler will open the evening session at 8 p. m.

Miss Ruth MacFadon of the State Bureau of Juvenile Research at Columbus, will be the evening speaker.

Appleseed 'Tag Day' Brings $640

Members of the Johnny Appleseed band raised approximately $640 for uniforms and equipment during their tag day Oct. 8, it was announced yesterday.

G. W. Harmony, principal of Johnny Appleseed junior high school, said he was well pleased with results of the tag day.

He said part of the money will be used to purchase additional caps and sweaters needed by band members. The Appleseed band uniform consists of sweater, trousers, cape, and cap.

The rest of the money will go for large instruments which the school provides. Smaller instruments belong to band members.

Harmony pointed out the money for such large instruments does not go far, since a tuba purchased last year cost $300.

Band members raise additional funds for their uniforms and equipment at their annual spring concerts.

British, Reds Trade Slave Labor Blows

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—Britain and Russia Saturday accused each other of abusing immigrants and using slave labor.

The charges and countercharges were made in the United Nations assembly's social committee. They were the outgrowth of a Polish resolution introduced Friday in the committee and aimed at the United States, France, Belgium and unnamed South American countries for alleged mistreatment of immigrant workers.

Soviet Delegate Alexander Panyushkin said Britain is "forcefully recruiting" displaced persons in Germany, "forwarding them to England" and keeping them in a "continuation of the slavery begun under Hitler."

Replying for Britain, Mrs. Barbara Castle, youthful member of parliament, accused the Soviet Union of genocide, forced emigration and the use of slave labor. Genocide is defined as mass destruction of a race or people.

Auto Crash Injures One

A 47-year-old Shelby man was confined to the Shelby hospital yesterday following an accident on the Springmill road, two and a half miles north of Mansfield at 9:30 p. m. Friday.

John F. Griffen, of 90 Second street, Shelby, was treated for severe brush burns on both legs and his right arm, received when the car he was driving sideswiped a truck and overturned into the ditch.

Griffen's three-year-old son, John jr., received slight lacerations of the head in the accident, but was released from the hospital after treatment.

Shelby hospital attaches reported yesterday that Griffen's condition was good, but x-rays were being taken to determine the extent of his injuries.

Mrs. Jeaniel Baumgardner, 91 Leppo Lane, received slight injuries to her neck and shoulder, when the car driven by her husband, Thor P. Baumgardner was struck from the rear by a car driven by Arthur C. Yahraus, 565 Wayne street, on West Fourth street, just west of Helen

Death Claims F. McLaughlin

BELLVILLE — Fred G. McLaughlin, 82, of Washington township, died at noon Saturday in Mansfield General hospital, where he had been a patient for four weeks. He had been a prominent farmer in Butler township for 42 years prior to coming to Washington township about 10 years ago.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Anna L. McLaughlin; three sons: Howard of Washington township, Arthur, near Lexington, and Milo of Cleveland; 11 grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Snyder funeral home in Bellville, where friends may call. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday, conducted by Rev. Harley Bennett, former pastor of the Pilgrim church in Mansfield. Burial will be in Bellville cemetery.

Football Special Tickets Gone

All tickets and train reservation for the Ohio State-Michigan special football train to Ann Arbor on Nov. 19, have been sold, Max Worthley, Ohio State alumni president, said yesterday.

The football tickets have arrived and may be obtained at the Farmers bank by persons who purchased them and who can show evidence of payment, Worthley said.

The train will leave early Saturday morning, Nov. 19 with about 800 football enthusiasts abroad. They will include persons from Akron, Youngstown, Canton and Mansfield. The train will return immediately following the game.

Given Period To Answer

Roger J. Au, a defendant in the Daumit Construction company's $88,087 suit, has been granted leave to plead by Nov. 15, 1949, Howard P. Wenning, county clerk of courts, reported yesterday. The action was filed Sept. 13, 1949.

Au, principal conaractor on the Clear Fork project, is being sued for $50,000 for breach of contract. The Daumit firm claims Au entered into a subcontract with it and later prevented Daumit from doing further work.

Daumit also seeks a judgment of $38,087 from Au as due for work on the project as a subcontractor.

Other defendants in the action are the City of Mansfield and the General Casualty Company of America.

Speak at Ceremonies

The cornerstone of the new First Congregational church will be laid during ceremonies at 3:30 p. m. today.

The new brick structure at Cline avenue and Millsboro road is expected to be under roof before winter sets in.

Although the actual laying of the cornerstone will not take place until 3:30 p. m., the ceremonies today will begin with the noon worship service. Dr. Everett A. Babcock, superintendent of Congregational-Christian churches in Ohio, will give the sermon at this service.

Rev. Matthew G. Madden, pastor of the church, will conduct the ceremony at the church site with the congregation taking part in the appropriate litany and ritual.

Rev. John C. Melchert, pastor of St. John's church, will give the invocation, and Rev. A. F. Lindbeck, pastor of the Mayflower Congregational church, will give the final prayer and benediction.

A variety of articles will be placed in a metal box which will be sealed and placed in the cornerstone for posterity.

Among these articles will be a photograph of those taking part in this afternoon's ceremony. The photograph will be taken at the beginning of the ceremony with one of the new cameras which develops prints in two minutes.

OFFER HORSE AS PRIZE

Just about everything is being offered for prizes in contests these days, and now Mansfield children have the opportunity to win a pure-blooded Arabian stallion. The horse is being offered as a prize in a contest sponsored by Walter Farley, author of the Black Stallion series of books for children. Miss Eva Leonard, children's librarian at the Mansfield Public library, said the library has received a letter from the author giving details of the contest. The prize will be awarded to the boy or girl submitting the best name for the horse in Farley's new book in the series. A picture of the prize horse and details of the contest may be seen at the library.

NEW 'FACE'

Another Mansfield school paper has come out with a "new face." Friday the first issue of the John Simpson Times was off the presses, showing a radical change in front-page layout. The paper has taken on a new size, too. This year it will be 17½ inches long and 11½ inches wide, with eight pages in each issue. The change in paper format was suggested by the National Scholastic Press association and the Columbus Scholastic Press group.

Auto Hits Pedestrian

Kenneth Milo, 45, of 73 North Willis avenue, suffered a severe head injury when he was struck by an automobile while crossing East Fourth street at Adams street at 8:05 p. m. yesterday.

His condition was described as "fair" at General hospital where he was admitted for x-rays today.

Police said Milo was crossing against the traffic light and was struck by a car driven by Floyd F. Messmore, 45, of 402 Fairlawn avenue, which was traveling west on East Fourth street.

According to police Milo suffered a severe laceration on the left forehead, a brain concussion and a possible skull fracture.

P-TA Plans School Day

Members of the Johnny Appleseed P-TA will "go to school" next Thursday night, duplicating their children's schedule for a day, when members meet at the school for their first session of the year.

All parents are asked to report to their children's home room, pick up their child's schedule and go on from there for 10 minute classroom periods. Just what will happen to the parents who have more than one child in Johnny Appleseed hasn't been figured out yet, according to Louis Schaefer, P-TA president.

"We are particularly anxious for the parents of seventh grade children to attend this meeting," Schaefer said. "Since this is their first year and there will be problems to iron out."

Following the school session, there will be a short business session.

Kansas is by far the greatest wheat state in the union, producing nearly twice as much as its nearest competitor — North Dakota.

MANSFIELD LADY LOST 50 LBS. WITH RENNEL

Mrs. D. A. Hart, 64½ S. Main St., Mansfield, Ohio writes, "Since taking Rennel I have lost 50 lbs. and believe me I can truthfully say I am well pleased. Before losing these extra pounds I was certainly in a rut, as I could hardly do my own house work. Now I feel and look younger, enjoy my work and love to take long walks. I have just returned from visiting my daughter, who was surprised and pleased at the weight I had lost and the pep I now have."

Imagine, eat plenty and lose weight with this simple yet effective amazing home recipe. After purchasing a bottle of Rennel from your druggist pour the contents into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Don't be switched to another product, insist on genuine Rennel.

Mansfield-Massillon Contest Tops State Card

Golden Gophers Belt Ohio State, 27-0

Powers Battle Friday

By CHARLEY STINE

Mansfield Senior high's biggest football game of the season — for at least five reasons — comes up Friday night when the hard-running Tygers invade Massillon for a battle with vaunted Washington high.

Here are just a few of the things which a victory for Mansfield would mean.

1. A possible state championship if the Tygers win their remaining three games.

2. Continued first place and probable championship of the Ohio Scholastic conference.

3. The end of Massillon's ten-game winning streak.

4. Continuation of the Tygers' victory streak to five games.

5. Last but not least, the first victory over Massillon in the school's history. This would make it the top game over whether the other conditions were present or not.

Not that Senior high is expected to beat Massillon but it might. The Tygers have been improving in each game and building up for this one ever since the 33-7 defeat of last year. Defense will probably be the big question as Mansfield's attack is certainly versatile enough.

With a passing combination like Don Cline-to-Ed Demyan and runners like A. C. Jenkins and Tommy Tucker the Tygers match Massillon on the offense.

Stopping a team which has sometimes been rated stronger than any Paul Brown ever produced is a different matter.

Massillon has averaged 49 points per game and has been held to less than 40 only once. That was in its "closest" game, a 34-6 win over Barberton. Other Massillon victories were: Cathedral Latin, 40-6; Canton Lincoln, 60-0; Steubenville, 63-0; and Alliance, 48-14.

The Alliance game, played Friday night is only the means for comparison. Mansfield defeated Alliance 28-14. Senior high has one thing in its favor — it has played a much tougher schedule. Senior high has beaten: Cleveland East 33-15; Alliance, 28-14; Warren, 20-0 and and Euclid, 42-6. It lost to

Five Matches Added To F-H Ring Program

Five additional bouts have been added to the first Friendly House amateur boxing program of the season, Coonie Miller, co-matchmakeer, announced last night.

Seven three-round matches have now been lined up for the Oct. 24 show in the new Friendly House gymnasium. Three more goes will be booked early this week to complete the card. Miller and Doc Whisler are serving as the matchmakers.

Latest matches are: Jack Sawyer, F-H, 132 vs Gene Hunt, Marion, 132; Gene Armbruster, F-H, 147 vs. Spike Jones, Marion, 145; Ollie Mayweather, F-H, 162 vs Melvin Bowen, Akron, 160; Dick James, Marion, 134 vs. Joe Greenwood, Akron, 136 and Elliott Wallace, F-H, 158 vs. Russell Middleton, Marion, 160.

Greenwood won the novice lightweight title in the Akron and Cleveland novice Golden Gloves tourneys last year while James is one of the scrappiest fighters in the Marion stable.

Don Esbenshade, top man on the Friendly House boxing team, battles Dick Butcher of Akron in the main event. Both are middleweights. The semi-final pits Howard Carney, former F-H bantamweight champion, against Jesse Smith, Akron.

Tickets for the show go on sale Tuesday afternoon at City News, Corner Lunch, Hunt's News, Sandy Maxwell's, Friendly House and D. and M. Cigar store. Reserved seats are $1.25 with general admission, 75 cents. Admission for students is 35 cents.

Wildcats Surprise Michigan

BY CHARLES DUNKLEY

EVANSTON, Ill. — (AP) — Twice - defeated Northwestern yesterday registered the most stunning upset of the Western conference gridiron season by defeating once mighty Michigan, 21 to 20.

Michigan, 1947-48 conference champion, had blazed through 15 successive "Big Ten" games without defeat, losing its last to Illinois, 13-9, in 1946.

The proud Wolverines, 1948 mythical national champions, had rung up a string of 25 consecutive victories until Army upset them 21-7 a week ago.

The surprising victory was Northwestern's first over the Wolverines since scoring a 7-0 decision over them in 1937. Two games had been tied in ten conflicts since then.

A stunned standing room crowd of 55,000 saw the Wildcat passing attack completely overshadow the heavily-favored Wolverines. Northwestern, first beaten this season by Pittsburgh in an upset and then bowled over by Minnesota, completed five passes in eight attempts for 124 yards—an average 24.1 yards per completion.

Michigan's air attack was good for eight completions in 21 attempts for only 66 yards. The Wolverines, however, excelled in ground power gaining 215 yards against 159 for the Wildcats. Michigan's land thrusts were good for 15 first downs against only six for Northwestern.

Harry Allis' unsuccessful attempt for point after touchdown towards the end of the third quarter spelled defeat for the maize and blue. The kick sailed an inch wide of the goal post.

With Northwestern leading 14-13 at the start of the fourth period, Wilcat Halfback Tom Worthington made the upset victory certain, on a sensational 56-yard touchdown gallop.

SCORES ON BOOT

He took a punt from Michigan's Walt Teninga on his own 44, faked a handoff to Fullback Art Murakowski and then skirted down the sideline for the score.

Michigan started the touchdown parade midway through the second period. The Wolverines climaxed a 50-yard march over land and through the air when Fullback Don Dufek crashed over center from the one. Allis converted.

The Wildcats tied the score when Quarterback Don Burson pitched a 31-yard pass to Halfback Ed Tunnicliff who raced 35 to score. Eddie Nemeth added the point.

After Fullback Gasper Pericone set the Wildcat grid machine rolling with a 35-yard sweep, Burson passed to End Don Stonesifer in the flat zone and the Denver product raveled seven yards for the second Northwestern touchdown.

Nemeth then added the all-important extra point to give last year's Rose Bowl champions a 14-7 lead.

The vaunted Michigan running attack started clicking at the end of the third period. Big Dick Kempthorn dove over left guard from the five-yard line and the touchdown to end a 51-yard march. Allis then missed the game-tying point.

The Wolverines tried to come back, after Worthington's gallop, and finally did late in the game. They moved from their own 29 to the Northwestern two in ten plays and Dufek went through center to score.

Penn State Gridders Romp Over Nebraska

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. —(AP)— Penn State, scoring touchdowns in each of the first three periods and a safety in the final quarter, defeated Nebraska, 22-7, yesterday, before a crowd of 23,600. Nebraska's lone touchdown came on an 82-yard third period gallop by Ronald Clark.

Army Rolls Easily Over Harvard 11

By BILL KING

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. —(AP) —Continuing its drive to the nation's highest football peak, mighty Army, with its supposedly ailing Gil Stephenson scoring four times, overwhelmed an out-manned but hard fighting Harvard team, 54-14, yesterday at the stadium.

The Cadets' terrific power shocked the 48,000 crowd that viewed the most humiliating defensive stand Harvard has made during its long history. The previous high score against it was Yale's 48-0 victory back in 1884.

When the hard-smashing fullback Stephenson was not tearing the Crimson line to shreds, numerous other black-shirted West Pointers were. The only respite Harvard had was during the third period, when Coach Red Blaik, bent on mercy, had his third and fourth stringers in action.

The Cadets scored thrice in both the first and second sessions, were blanked in the third and then, with a breath-taking demonstration of the attack that toppled mighty Michigan last week, added two more touchdowns in the finale.

Jim Cain accounted for two Army touchdowns and the others were made by Vic Pollard and Elmer Stout. The latter's was the most spectacular play of the game, a 76-yard dash with an intercepted pass.

Harvard, previously beaten by Stanford, Columbia, and Cornell, made a brave showing after taking the game-opening kickoff. But it soon put itself hopelessly out on the running by fumbling on Army's 28-yard line.

IN 38 SECONDS

Thereupon, the Cadets settled down to scoring business in grim fashion and their first two tallies were registered within the short space of 38 seconds.

After being banged and bruised about almost at the Cadets' will for nearly a half hour, Harvard gained its second wind against scrub opposition and Jim Henry ended a 98-yard drive, mostly through the air, by smashing over from Army's one-yard line.

Blaik had his top performers back in action when the fourth period opened but a half-dozen Harvards appeared to block a punt on Army's 30 and, after six plays and two Army penalties, Henry smashed over again from a foot out.

'Game of Week' Becomes Romp for Notre Damers

By JERRY LISKA

SOUTH BEND, Ind. —(AP)— In just 10 blazing minutes, thunderous Notre Dame pounded Tulane's touted green wave into a helpless ripple yesterday. The stunning 46-7 victory made a debacle out of the "football game of the season."

If there was a hero for the furious Irish who reached terrific inspirational heights in their seven-touchdown explosion it was Halfback Larry Coutre who scored the first three touchdowns of the game.

Thus, top ranked Notre Dame, for the first time this season, demonstrated its crunching potentialities for a fourth straight win.

In all, the Irish slashed through Tulane for four first period touchdowns, but it was the first three within the opening 10 minutes of play which completely whipped a bewildered Tulane eleven.

Notre Dame scored a touchdown each in the final three periods which only emphasized that previously unbeaten Tulane was in far over its head.

The lone Green Wave score came on a pass play covering 76 yards, from Bill Bonar to George Kinek in the third period.

For the pulverizing Irish, who outrushed Tulane 280 yards to a mere 23, it was their 32nd game without defeat, a skein stretching from the opening of the 1946 season.

Tulane which proudly came here after wins over Alabama, Georgia Tech and South Eastern Louisiana didn't know what hit it.

Irish backs never were stopped at the first impact, which is why Coutre streaked 81 yards for his second touchdown and Billy Barrett in the final quarter scooted 59 yards to score.

Quarterback Bob Williams, who did a magnificent job in calling plays against the sagging Tulane defenses, completed eight of 11 passes for two touchdowns and 177 yards.

Halfback Frank Spaniel grabbed a 34-yard pass from Williams for the first of his two touchdowns. That was the fourth touchdown in the devastating first period. Spaniel's second touchdown came in the third quarter on a slashing 12 yard run.

EASY SCORE

The seventh Notre Dame touchdown materialized with ridiculous ease on Williams' 18-yard shot to hulking end Leon Hart in the end zone.

Steve Oracko booted only four of his seven conversion tries, but it was not a day for the Irish to worry about extra points.

Coutre carried only four times. His efforts paid off with three touchdowns and 101 yards. Fullback Emil Sitko carried six times for a 64 yard total.

Notre Dame has an open date next week, and then meets Navy at Baltimore.

Grid Double Header Listed At Arlin Field

Mansfield's first double-header football program will be presented at Arlin field Friday night with four area junior high and reserve teams battling in a pair of games.

John Appleseed, undefeated, untied and unscored upon in three games, will meet the Madison reserves in the first game, set to get under way at 7 p. m.

Approximately an hour-and-a-half later, John Simpson will face the Bellville reserves in the second tilt. Bands of both junior high schools will be in action and up to 4,000 students and adults are expected.

READY FOR BATTLE

Both Simpson and Appleseed will be girding for their traditional contest set to come off just one week later on the same gridiron. Both will also have a score to match Wednesday. Appleseed has already beaten Bellville, 27-0, while Simpson has trounced Madison, 20-7.

Appleseed will be gunning for its 11th consecutive triumph, having had a record of seven victories without defeat last season. The Pioneers last loss was to Simpson in 1947.

Proceeds from the twin bill and from the annual championship clash are the only methods Simpson and Appleseed have to raise money to finance their sports programs.

Hot Stovers Session Today

Ohio chapters of the National Hot Stove league will meet today in Wooster to decide on sites for 1950 junior baseball tournaments.

The 1949 tournaments were staged in Wooster with two Mansfield teams winning state championships. The Ohio Sport Center outfit copped the 13-14 age group while the Police Recreation club came through in the 15-16 bracket.

Stan Kamen will represent the Mansfield Hot Stovers in today's meeting. Kamen was a member of the three-man committee which supervised Wooster tournament.

Bucky's Brother Signs With Tulsa

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Jack Walter, 18, brother of Bucky Walters, former manager of the Cincinnati Reds, was signed to a pitching contract yesterday by Tulsa of the Texas league. Tulsa is a farm club of the Reds.

Jack, a right hander, is six feet tall and weighs 165 pounds. He pitched for a Philadelphia high school this year, then visited the Reds for a time. Brother Bucky said the kid has a good fast ball and thinks he is a comer.

Princeton Smashes Brown to 1st Loss

PRINCETON, N. J. — (AP) — Dick Kazmeir led Princeton to an Ivy league victory over Brown yesterday, 27 to 14, knocking Brown from the dwindling list of undefeated football teams.

The upset avenged Brown's 23-20, last second triumph in 1948.

Eagles Rip To Fourth Win, 18-0

Ashland — The Ashland college football Eagles overpowered Defiance college, 18 to 0, here yesterday in a Mid-Ohio league game.

In winning their fourth victory in five games, the Eagles scored in each quarter except the second. Ashland's all-Ohio backfielder, Kenny Funk, was the big offensive gun in the game, which was played before a crowd of 2,000 at Redwood stadium.

The speedy Funk was equally proficient on the ground and in the air as he passed for one touchdown and ran for the other two. In addition he had a 60-yard heave for an apparent TD to Herb Hart called back. The Eagles were penalized on the play.

However, another Funk to Hart pass accounted for the first TD late in the opening stanza. This time Hart gathered in the toss on the 37 and sprinted across. The play covered 67 yards but Leo Strang missed the conversion try.

Late in the third quarter, Funk, Hart and Warren Thompson spearheaded a 71-yard drive with Funk slicing over from the six.

The final Ashland TD came with only one minute remaining in the ball game. Funk uncorked a beautiful bit of open field running to tally from the 21. Press box observers estimated that Funk travelled 80 yards on the play.

Ashland stalled on one other drive to the Defiance four-yard line while the invaders moved inside the Eagles' 30.

Most unusual play in the game came in the third quarter when Defiance's Slick Spicer surprised Ashland with a 49-yard boot. Funk ran back to field the pigskin and saw he couldn't return it so cut loose with a pretty return kick which covered 79 yards and came to rest on the Defiance one-yard stripe.

STATISTIC LEAD

Ashland had 17 first downs to five for the opposition and outgained the losers in total yardage, 376 to 116. Defiance's best defensive was against Ashland passes as five of the Eagle tosses were intercepted.

Massive Minnesota Leads Bowl Parade

By KEN DAVIS

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Minnesota moved a lengthy piece down the Rose Bowl road yesterday by belting Ohio State, 27-0, in a Western conference football game before 82,111 fans.

The running of halfbacks Billy Bye and Dick Gregory, with the help of savage blocking, sparked the Golden Gophers' four-touchdown parade.

The result never was much in doubt after the first few plays.

Minnesota's giant line took command of the situation almost immediately. Led by Center Clayton Tonnemaker and Tackle Leo Nomellini, the Minnesota forwards simply smothered any Ohio State attack that became even slightly dangerous.

Bye counted the first Minnesota touchdown late in the first period, going 14 yards over Ohio State's right guard. End Gordon Soltau kicked the first of three straight conversions.

Gregory, set up the second touchdown with a 51-yard run around his own right end and another 20-yard scamper. He scored it on his second plunge from the eight-yard line.

Balked on the ground, Bye tossed a 20-yard pass to Quarterback Jim Malosky in the Ohio end zone early in the fourth quarter. The final marker came a few minutes later after Ohio's Halfback Jim Clark fumbled on his own 13. Fullback Ken Beiersdorf threw to End Bud Grant on the Ohio one, then dived over two plays later.

With the victory Minnesota grabbed the inside track to the Western conference Rose Bowl selection. Unbeaten Minnesota appears the only logical choice—barring late season upsets. Neither Northwestern nor Michigan, the conference's representatives in the 1948 and 1947

Minnesota collected 14 first downs to 10 for Ohio State, 284 net yards rushing to 48 yards for Ohio State, and 55 yards passing to 183 for the losers.

But, cold figures don't reveal the savagery of the Minnesota blocking and tackling. Many times Ohio State Blockers just seemed to melt before the defensive rushes of Tonnemaker and Nomellini.

BUCKEYES THREATEN

Nevertheless, Ohio State gave the third largest crowd in the history of the stadium some thills. Principally they were the result of passes, or the fine, sharp running of Halfback Jimmy Clark in the third quarter.

Twice in the second period Ohio State threatened. The first time, Halfback Jerry Krall pitched to Halfback Ray Hamilton behind the Minnesota defense. The play began on the Ohio State 26 and Hamilton ended out of bounds on Minnesota's 19. It was a 55-yard gain.

But the attack bogged down on Minnesota's four-yard line where the visitors took over on downs.

In the last seconds of the first half, Ohio State's Clark tossed to End Tom Watson from the Ohio 20. Watson nearly broke away, but was pulled down on the Minnesota 20 for a 60-yard advance.

Ticket Sale Ends Monday

Tickets on the Mansfield Tire special train to the Senior high-Massillon Washington schoolboy football game Friday night will be available to Tyger fans today and tomorrow.

Tickets are being sold at the Tire Service store on Park avenue west from 8 a. m. until 8 p. m. both days. Round trip fare to the game is $2.50.

The special train will leave the Pennsylvania station at 5:15 p. m. and return to Mansfield about 30 minutes after the game ends.

Pro Rangers Play Tough Foe Today

Mansfield's pro football Rangers will go after their fourth Ohio football league victory in five games today when they host the strong Sandusky Maroons at 2:15 p. m. at Stadium field.

The Rangers and Sandusky both have a chance to take the league laurels this year, but each needs a win today to stay in the running. The undefeated Massillon Chevrolets pace the circuit. Mansfield has won three of four league games while Sandusky has copped two of three.

Comparative scores point towards a Sandusky victory over Coach Jimmy Lymper's Rangers, who have shown a lot of spirit in drills this week and are confident of taking over the Maroons. Sandusky has reportedly added six stars of the Dayton Rockets pro team to insure a victory over the Rangers.

With the exception of injured ends Harold Luckie and Jim Burrage, the Mansfield team is in tip-top shape. Jim Showeckker, the 230 - pound tackle, has returned to his offensive job, while husky Dave Worner will probably alternate with Elroy Jones at fullback. Jones has been slow in recovering from an injury sustained last week.

Remainder of the Mansfield starting lineup has Eldon Pritchard and Bill Yosick, ends; Don Ryland, tackle; Pete Keiser and Cliff Stevens, guards; Dan Stevens, center; Ralph Majors, Al Schwaner and Pete Bautz, backs.

The passing of Majors and the receiving ability of Yosick and Pritchard is expected to furnish most of the Rangers' offensive spark.

The Bellville high school band will play at halftime and a soft drink concession stand will be provided.

Tickets for the Mansfield-Massillon pro game here next Sunday will go on sale tomorrow morning at Penn Auto-Sporting Goods, City News and D. & M. Cigar store.

Michigan State Rolls Over Foe In Easy Fashion

EAST LANSING, Mich. —(AP)— Michigan State rolled over William and Mary 42-13 in an intersectional football fight witnessed by 32,655 fans here yesterday.

The battle was tighter than the score indicated, however, for the southern pass attack caused MSC considerable trouble. William & Mary also did not compare too badly in the statistics, particularly in the second half.

It was the second successive Saturday that MSC has fought off a Southern conference bid for glory. Last week Michigan State downed Maryland 14-7.

Lynn Chandnois, the lanky right-half from Flint, Mich., was the offensive sparkplug of the MSC backfield. Chandnois carried for three of his team's touchdowns.

Ex-Harvard Gridder Dies In Car Accident

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Thomas H. Graydon, 68, who was killed with his wife, Marian, in an automobile accident Friday night, was an All-American fullback in 1901 and 1902.

The socially prominent Graydon was the late Walter Camp's choice for the mythical eleven during those years. He played fullback at Harvard.

Fesler 'Sobs' About Big Gophers

COLUMBUS—(AP)—"Those guys would like the Chicago Bears."

That was Ohio State Coach Wesley Fesler's sharpest comment yesterday after Minnesota's great line led the Gophers to a convincing 27-to-0 victory over a game, but out-weighed and outplayed, Buckeye football team.

The obviously stunned Fesler declared:

"That's the most powerful football team I've ever seen in all my life. I can't get over how a college can get so many big and powerful men. I still can't believe that guys that big can be that agile.

"I knew in the first five minutes what it was going to be. Our kids would come out and say: 'What are you going to do? You try to block them and you bounce off and they go right on'."

Minnesota Coach Bernie Bierman, as usual, was sparing of his comment, but he termed the victory, which boosted his charges a long way down the old Rose Bowl road, a "team victory."

Dr. George Hauser, the Gophers' line coach, had a little more to say in a mild sort of way:

"Ohio has a good line, a good knifing line, but our line played its best game today, I believe. They played pretty well."

Sooners In Waltz Over Kansas

BY SAUL FELDMAN

NORMAN, Okla. —(AP)— A relentless ground-gaining attack swept the University of Oklahoma over Kansas 48-26 here yesterday for the Sooners' 14th straight victory.

A dad's day crowd of 37,000 watched Oklahoma open defense of its Big Seven crown.

The victor wasn't as decisive as pre-game predictions of a duplication of last year's 60-7 triumph over Kansas.

Oklahoma, named the nation's third best team by sports writers scored twice in the first quarter and picked up at least one touchdown in each of the other three.

The passing fullback, Dick Gilman, kept Kansas in the game. He scored one touchdown, passed 27 yards to Forrest Griffith for another and his tossing drove Kansas within position so Jerry Bogue and Bud French could register.

Oklahoma made 306 yards on the ground while Kansas was making 51. In passing, Kansas completed 13 to 32 for 189 yards while Oklahoma hit six of 10 for 91.

Just Some Stuff Picked Up From Cuff of Stuffer

By Fred Tharp
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

WHEN CUFFS GET cluttered with a bunch of stuff from here and there in sportdom is naught to do but to erase the scribblings one by one . . So here some stuff from a soiled Cuff from the Stuffer:

Much of Joe DiMaggio's value to the Yankees is not in his individual brilliance but the fact that he believes the welfare of the team is the most important. For this the majority of the major leaguers have the deepest respect for DiMag.

An example happening sometime after the '41 series between the Yanks and Dodgers and a gal in a hotel lobby heckled Joe—reminding him that Whitlow Wyatt had held him hitless in one of the games. The femme gave DiMag the razzberry with, "Wyatt made you look like a monkey."

"You forgot one thing ma'm," Joe said. "I wasn't playing against Wyatt. The Yanks were playing against the Dodgers and the Yanks won."

Errors Aid Wisconsin In Surprise

By ARTHUR BYSTROM

MADISON, Wis. —(AP)— An alert and capable Wisconsin football team capitalized on Navy errors and smashed to a 48-to-13 victory yesterday.

The Badgers passed and ran for four of their seven touchdowns and intercepted Navy passes to score two and set up a third.

It was the largest score run up by a Wisconsin team since 1930. A capacity crowd of 45,000 turned out.

Navy exhibited a powerful ground game in spurts. The Middies went 84 yards on the ground and in the air for one of their scores in the first period. And in the final period they went 78 yards for another. But in between the Badgers completely dominated the play.

The opening period indicated a bruising battle with the Badgers getting off to a 7-to-6 lead. Three rapid fire touchdowns by Wisconsin in the second quarter changed the picture completely.

Bob Teague, Badger fullback, got his team off to a flying start with a 49-yard touchdown sprint through tackle before the game was two minutes old. Lisle Blackbourn added the first of his six extra points with a place kick. Navy pounded back, marching 84 yards on runs by Duff Arnold and passes by Bob Zastrow. Arnold scored on a 19-yard pass play.

In the second period Zastrow's passes began to back fire. Bob Radcliffe, Badger back, intercepted one and ran it back for 39 yards and a touchdown. Jerry Schaefer scored from the one for a second after another interception by Radcliffe and Teague went over from the one for a third.

FIFTH COUNTER

A pass, Bob Petruska to Schaefer, good for 23 yards brought a fifth Wisconsin touchdown in the final period. Roland Strehlow added another with a 35 yard dash through the middle and Radcliffe wound up the scoring for the Badgers with a 42-yard return of a pass interception.

Navy's last period score was made by Elvis Purvis after a steady march down field with Purvis and Mike Sorrentino doing the brunt of the ball-carrying work. Roger Drew added the extra point. His try after the first touchdown was blocked.

Navy	0	0	0	7	—13

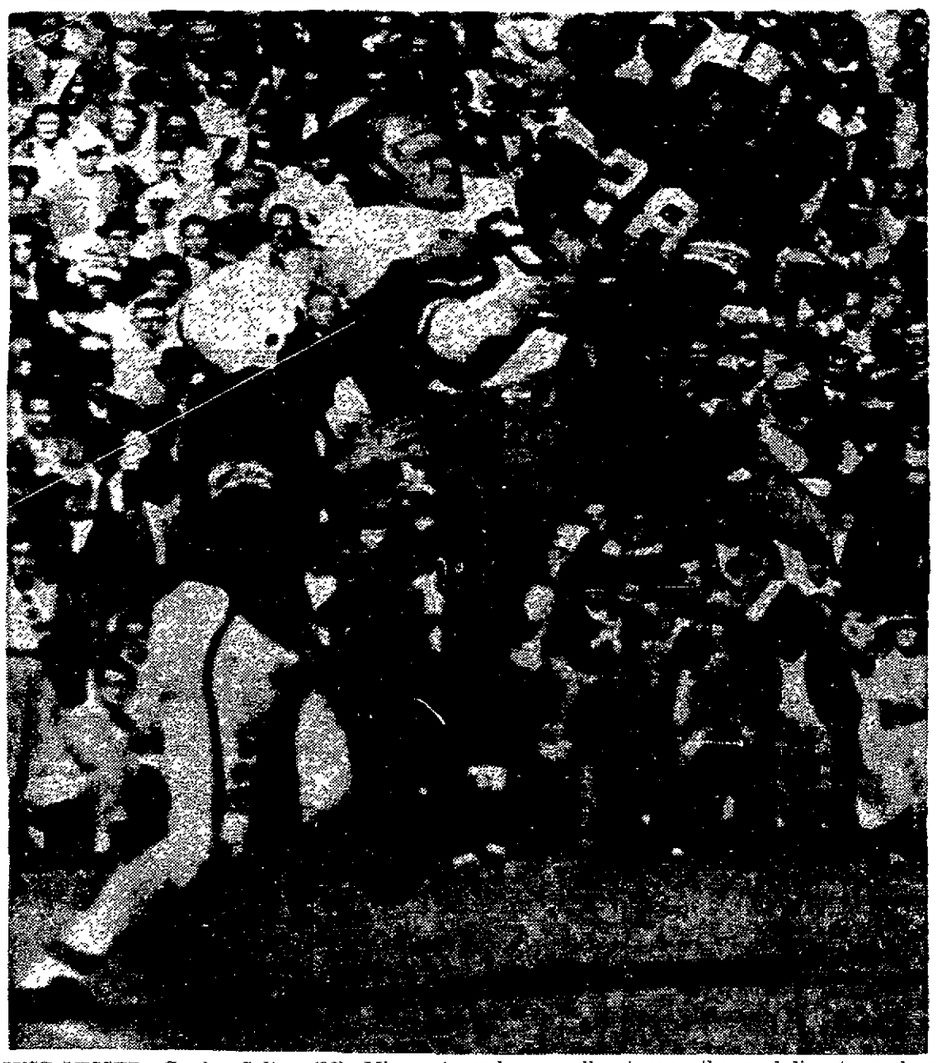
Navy scoring: Touchdowns—Arnold. Purvis; point after touchdowns—Drew.
Wisconsin scoring: Touchdowns—Teague 2 Schaefer 2. Radcliffe 2. Strehlow. Points after touchdown—Blackbourn 6.



JUST MISSED—Gordon Saltau (36), Minnesota end, was all set over the goal line to grab a touchdown pass in the second period of yesterday's game with Ohio State, but two Buckeyes stepped in to block it. They were Dick Widdoes (28), halfback, and Pandel Savic, quarterback. (Associated Press Photo)

Miami Throws Scare At Undefeated Pitt

By WILLIAM G. SMOCK

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—(AP)— Undefeated Pitt squeaked through to its fourth straight victory yesterday by a score of 35-26, turning back a fighting Miami University football team which overcame a slow start to rock the Panthers back on their heels in the last three periods.

Three touchdowns by Miami's fleet-footed, slippery John Pont, sophomore halfback from Canton, Ohio, almost provided 20,393 fans with a major upset.

Pont overshadowed Melvin Olix, quarterback and passing ace from Ashtabula, Ohio, who was generally bottled up by a stout Pitt aerial defense.

Pont started his scoring spree in the second quarter when he caught a pass from Olix on the Pitt 25-yard line and ran down the side lines for the first Miami score. He ran 26 yards for a second touchdown in the third period and skirted the Pitt left end for his final score in the last quarter.

Lou (Bimbo) Cecconi and Jimmy Robinson, Pitt's star half backs, lived up to their billing. Cecconi racked up two Pittsburgh touchdowns and Robinson accounted for two others. Left End Ted Geremsky got the fifth touchdown when he caught a 19-yard pass from Carl De Pasqua, over the goal line.

The fourth Miami touchdown was scored by Halfback Jack Bickel, Newark, O., who thrilled the crowd in the third quarter when he ran 79 yards through a broken field for Miami's second touchdown.

Miami fell behind the game in the first quarter when Pitt hurried to two touchdowns while holding the Ohioans scoreless. The first Pittsburgh score came in the first five minutes of play on a 10-yard run by Cecconi.

SCORE FOR SCORE

The visitors matched Pitt touchdown for touchdown the rest of the game. In the third period they chalked up two touchdowns for one by Pitt.

Nick Bolkovac, Pitt tackle, made all five points after touchdowns good. That showing made it look like Pitt might eke out a victory by the margin of his sure toe. Before the final Pitt touchdown in the fourth quarter, the Panthers were ahead by only two points. Miami was able to make good on extra points for only two of the Ohioans four touchdowns.

Justice Holds Sway In 28-14 Grid Victory

By KEN ALYTA

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. — (AP) — All America Charlie Justice went on a three-touchdown spree yesterday to pace unbeaten North Carolina to a 28-14 victory over Wake Forest.

The Tarheel football forces had to come from behind in the second quarter against their neighborhood Southern conference rivals before they notched their fourth straight victory. The loss was the fourth in a row for the Deacons.

Wake Forest opened the scoring 75 seconds before the end of the first period when it capped an eight-play, 38-yard advance by sending Quarterback Carroll Blackerby over on a sneak. Tackle Bill George's placement made it 7-0.

In the waning moments of the first period the Tarheels began a 45-yard march that ended in nine plays with Justice racing around left end untouched from the five. Sophomore Tackle Egbert Williams tied it with his first of four conversions.

The Tarheels, sixth - ranking team in the last two weekly Associated Press polls, went ahead to stay late in the period when Dick Bunting, intercepted a pass on the Wake Forest's 31 and ran all the way.

Pledge of Allegiance to Flag

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Community Fund Meets Many Needs

TOMORROW this community dedicates itself to the task of raising $141,663 to operate its ten Red Feather agencies during the coming year. Rightly, it is a community job. People from industry and labor, retailers and clerks, housewives and members of the professions—representatives from every segment of the city—pitch in together. They get a dollar here, $100 there, possibly several thousand dollars from another source.

When the donations are all totaled it is fervently hoped they will equal the goal. It is a goal that has been carefully set to insure efficient operation of agencies which minister to the aged, the ill, the hungry, and especially to youth.

Many an unfortunate man or woman has found the difference between despair and happiness through the help of the Community Chest. Most of their stories must remain untold because the Chest is there to help those whose private misfortune is not the province of tax supported charities.

Worker or donor or both, it is your responsibility in the days just ahead to see that the Chest goal is reached promptly and fully.

National Bible Week Coming Up

ANNUAL observance of National Bible week is to start tomorrow and extend through next Sunday, and, while the Bible has long held place as the "best seller," there still seems need for development of more widespread acceptance of its guidance in the principles of right living.

In the United States, for instance, where coinage constantly proclaims the motto, "In God We Trust," we are in the midst of internal dissension that is far removed from Bible teaching, coupled with the highest rate of crime and delinquency in our history.

It is a startling revelation that three times as many people are incarcerated in penal institutions as are attending universities and colleges, and that more then eight million persons are under treatment for mental disorders.

Religions and morals are often openly ridiculed, and totalitarian principles which directly oppose religion are advocated and taught.

Looking at the international scene, it is clear that failure to live up to any form of religious teaching has led to misery and despair for millions in other parts of the world; to the enslavement of once-free peoples, and to a cold war which is absorbing more and more of our energies, thoughts and resources.

A pessimistic thought is that the world is moving toward a cynical materialism which may destroy it unless the trend is checked, and at a time like this, observance of National Bible week has vast significance, as it points the way toward a higher stage of civilization than has yet been attained—and toward the permanent world peace which is so ardently desired, even by those whose conduct delays its attainment.

Progress of Benelux Nations

THE BENELUX combination of nations, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg, is moving ahead toward accomplishment of its goal of a working customs union. Agreements have been reached lifting customs restrictions from about a third of the trade among the three nations, and there is expectation that the complete union may be achieved by the middle of 1950.

When the full agreement is set up, all trade is to move freely among the three nations. It cannot yet be predicted what arrangements will be made for the movements of people, but it would seem that the full benefits of customs union could not be realized unless it is made fairly simple and easy for people to cross the borders where customs barriers are dropped.

The Benelux nations will become as one nation as far as trade is concerned. It is hard to imagine that they could trade freely among themselves without being drawn closer together in other ways. The world may at last be witnessing the creation of the first real international union in Europe.

Looking Through 'Picture Window'

THERE is quite a fad at present for the "picture window."

Where there is a lovely vista through one's own or neighboring yards, parkway or orchard or bit of rippling water, that is fine. It brings the beauty of outdoors into the comfortable house.

Where the big window looks out on the small backyard garden it has the same value on a small scale as the greater view. It adds the outdoor charm and an indoor sense of more generous space.

But when the picture window merely looks out on a busy street where the views of cars and trucks and pedestrian strangers, the expanse of clear plate glass loses point. There it takes away home privacy and adds restlessness at the same time. It is something for the home-builder to think about before it is too late.

One Opinion of High Schools

THE OPINION that high schools serve only 40 per cent of their students reasonably well is held by J. Dan Hull, assistant federal director of secondary education. He believes further that the other 60 per cent of students are the ones who might get the most benefit from their high school studies.

Hull's picture of the high schools of the nation has them doing "a fair job" for 20 per cent of the students, who will later go to college, and for another 20 per cent who take vocational courses which they will subsequently use in skilled occupations.

The remaining students are the ones not preparing for college or for a chosen trade. For them Hull calls the traditional high school curriculum "far below subsistence level."

A claim for "the modern woman" is that "we can get noplace faster than ever."

A Voice From the Country

Danger Signals Reveal Nation's Peril

By LOUIS BROMFIELD

THERE are times when I have the impression of assisting helplessly at the spectacle of a great nation destroying herself—and I don't mean Soviet Russia. I mean the United States of America. I cannot see how any honest thinking citizen can see it any other fashion. To list some of the elements in the destruction let us take them in order.

BROMFIELD

(1) No country throughout history has ever exploited and destroyed its immense natural wealth and resources from minerals through forests to agricultural land so rapidly as this one. (2) No nation has ever distributed such vast amounts of wealth, both in natural resources such as steel, aluminum, etc., and in vast amounts of money, wholesale through the world.

(3) In order to do this, wealth has been taken away from the individual American citizen not only in the form of higher and higher taxes, whether direct taxes or hidden ones on every item of American life from cigarets, gasoline and railroad tickets to bread, but in the form of the basic real wealth of which Lend Lease left billions of dollars worth scattered over the face of the earth from the tundras of Soviet Russia to the beaches of the South Pacific.

(4) The government, both the administration and even Congress, which was designed to protect the rights of the citizen, seem to be seized with a spending hysteria in which virtually no move is made toward efficiency and economy, but only and constantly toward spending more and more money and creating more and more a confused and overwhelmingly burdensome and stupid bureaucracy.

(5) More and more minorities—old people, veterans, farmers, labor—seem bent upon seeking more and more special privileges and more and more money which in the end comes only out of their pockets.

• • •

Heavy Taxes Ruinous.

(6) Heavy taxes tend more and more to destroy all possibilities of saving and acquiring capital as well as the investment of that capital in the kind of action which made this nation great and rich, makes employment and purchasing power.

Again as one destroys capital and nationalizes industry and increases the cost of government by a constantly growing bureaucracy to administer every sort of restriction, regulation and payment, the burden falls, more and more on the people as Great Britain has discovered.

The people have to pay out of their pockets the billions which capital and industry no longer pay. It is paid not only in taxes but in lowered purchasing power and living standards which in turn depresses the whole of the economy.

(7) Moreover it appears that despite the billions spent on education, the average citizen grows constantly more careless of his responsibilities and feeds his increasing slackmindedness by the imbecilities of the comic page, the radio, television and the hysterical over-emphasis upon sports.

(8) Government even turns the abundance which it encourages along with bad agriculture by endless subsidies, price guarantees and parity arrangements.

Add these factors all together—and I think every one of them is undeniable—and it seems to me that they spell disaster. Put on top of them the whole philosophy of deficit spending and I think the best our children can hope for (and even some of us in our old age) is a life in which, in return for the meagre and even sordid living standards of the socialist nations, we submit to every sort of regulation and indignity.

• • •

Solution Up To Voters.

WHAT can be done about it? I don't know—so long as the administration uses the taxpayers' money constantly to re-elect itself and no congressman or chamber of commerce president is willing to accept the least economy in his own area but always wants it elsewhere—so long as citizens do not trouble to vote against the men who are bringing about this condition or even to write a postcard to bring their congressmen into line—so long as we elect to Congress so many men of limited intelligence, stature and integrity.

There is I think, a forlorn hope that the evils listed above may become the real political issue of future elections. I think the Republican party could well make these shameful factors an issue in 1950 and 1952. It will have to do so in terms of the man in the street, making it clear to him the impending tragedy which is already a fact in bankrupt Great Britain.

That nation provides us with a horrible example of how the Welfare State actually operates. It is no good to use in the political fight for decency a stupid and meaningless word like "statism." It merely sets up a straw man which no one can define and which means nothing.

The proper expression already exists and we have examples of its operation in Soviet Russia, in England and we had it in fascist Italy and in nazi Germany. It is simply "state socialism" in which everybody is supposed to get everything for nothing and in which nobody gets very much of anything except dismal regulations, low living standards and higher and higher taxes.

It is not too late for this nation to turn back. Judging from the defeat of all efforts at government economy and the apparent quiet shelving of the Hoover report which might have started us on an honest, decent and efficient government nobody seems to care enough.

In the end, as all history shows, when catastrophe arrives, it is the great body of people themselves who get hurt. The cheap demagogues and ward politicians who brought about the ruin take care of themselves, as indeed they are doing at this moment.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Wednesday, Oct. 16, 1929.

John Simpson junior high faculty held steak roast at Orchard park.

Hollis Moorhead was elected commander of McVey post, American Legion.

Forty-five received citizen papers in special ceremonies.

W. J. Bissman, Mansfield attorney, talked to members of the Hedges P-TA.

Mrs. Evangeline Pesano of Mansfield aged 59 died.

Mr. and Mrs. William Betz began vacation trip, motoring to Riverside, Calif.

Mrs. Lucinda Johnson, aged 55, died at her home here.

TODAY IN HISTORY

An Americanized version of the Anglican Book of Prayer was formally adopted on October 16, 1789, by the Protestant Episcopal Convention assembled at Philadelphia.

As Cerf Tells It

On Groucho Marx's radio program, a cocky lad stepped to the mike and inquired, "How about letting me tell a joke now?" "Proceed," said Groucho wearily. "All right," said the lad. "Did you hear the one about the moron who cut a hole in a rug so he could see the floor show?" "No," admitted Groucho. "I never heard that one. I'd like to!"

Assignment: America

Just Give Inez Venice

By INEZ ROBB

VENICE—All I want for Christmas is Venice. And no one has to bother about wrapping it up in ribbons and tinsel. I will just take it as is. This is the most incredibly romantic, beautiful and fascinating city I have ever seen. It has knocked me into a heap of superlatives as no other community except Marrakesh, that rosy city at the foot of the Atlas mountains. It looks exactly like a piece of its own intricate and delicate Venetian glass, adorned with the glistening and baroque frosting of a Park Avenue wedding cake.

INEZ ROBB

The landlubber like myself must reverse all his mental processes here. This begins with the simple realization that the man who absent-mindedly steps off the curb in Venice had best wear water wings, that he is in no danger of being run over by a bus but may be sideswiped by a gondola.

This backs us squarely and neatly into the subject of the gondola, which has been the symbol and trade-mark of Venice for centuries. These antique water taxis, powered by Venetian brawn, are without doubt the most romantic vehicles surviving in this gas-engine age.

They cast such a spell on every tourist that even a middle-aged banker from Iowa who hasn't made a pass at anything except a government bond in twenty years climbs into a gondola and promptly begins acting like a Brooklyn boy in the tunnel of love at Coney Island.

My own spouse, a staid American of thrifty scottish ancestry, so far forgot himself in a gondola last night as to ask me tenderly if I thought my old mink coat would do another year. Only quick action on the part of the gondolier kept me from falling into the Grand Canal.

But nothing suprises a gondolier in Re Toujours L'Amour. He has seen everything once and confidently expects to see a repeat performance at any moment.

"Ah, signore, I could tell you such things!" our gondolier said last night. "But I spare blushes to the lady. I will only say that whoever says the Americans are a cold and frigid people with no talent for the tender passions lies in his teeth."

Just For the Tourists.

A NEW gondola costs much money, our gondolier said, as much as a small motor car, maybe $1000, maybe $1200. So there are few new gondalas on the canals today. And only the very rich can afford a private gondola anymore.

The gondola is strictly for tourists. The average Venetian either rides the ferry boats or legs it. I doubt if the inhabitants of any other city of 300,000 persons in the western world walk as much as the Venetians.

Innumberable islands are connected by even more innumerable bridges, mostly marble and, all beautiful. The average venetian does more walking in a day than a New Yorker or a Chicagoan in a month.

It is hard to realize that in Venice, a city of 300,000, there is not one motor car, truck or bus. There are a handful on the Lido, but that is a suburb, and not regarded as Venice proper.

Our gondolier inherited his gondola and his profession from his father, and his father—in turn—from his father. If all gondoliers are bandits, as tourists suspect, at least they are amiable bandits. And they love love.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

THE 140-year-old Soviet farmer who has a 100-year-old daughter still living at home may as well know the truth. She's going to be an old maid.

• • •

When a girl gets to be that age and is still unmarried either she isn't interested IN or interesting TO men.

• • •

No one seems to know whether she dislikes men or whether she's just a poor hand with a bear trap.

• • •

But a girl of 100, married or single, is rare in the United States. We have an automatic birthday reduction plan set to slow down after 23.

• • •

That explains why so many men of 45 are married to girls of 35 who were born before them.

• • •

Secty. Johnson Makes Quick Decisions

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — In view of the B-36 probe, a lot of people are asking questions about Secretary of Defense Louie Johnson—what kind of man he is, how does he operate, what makes him tick. A thumbnail answer is that Johnson fancies himself a great politician, but is one of the world's worst. He considers himself a smoothie when it comes to personal relations, though actually he's a bungler. It was Johnson who neglected his personal relations with Chairman Carl Vinson of the House armed services committee, while the admirals were buttering him up.

PEARSON

But, as secretary of defense, Johnson has one quality absolutely essential to running the armed services of the United States. He can make decisions. He isn't always tactful about them, but when the brass hats have finished talking to Johnson they at least know where they stand.

Prior to Johnson's assumption of office, the joint chiefs of staff never came to decisions. Now they do.

• • •

Defense Meetings.

THE JOINT chiefs of staff consist of Adm. Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations; Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, chief of staff for air, and Gen. Omar Bradley, chief of staff for the Army. The three secretaries—Stuart Symington for Air, Francis Matthews for the Navy and Gordon Gray for the Army—sit with Johnson and the joint chiefs every Tuesday.

When they leave the conference table there is nearly always either a definite decision on policy or a command to get more information in order to make the decision.

In the latter case, Johnson will always set a date when his information must be on his desk. Sometimes — if told the information will take three months to collect—he replies: "make it three."

In addition to the Tuesday meetings of the joint chiefs of staff, Johnson meets on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays with the joint chiefs and his own staff. This consists of Undersecretary Steve Early, the assistant secretaries for defense, the joint chiefs and the research and development branch.

Johnson goes the rounds of the services, calls on the Army, Navy and Air Force; and, if any conflicts develop, they are decidedly on the spot. The secretary of defense listens carefully to both sides, then says:

"We'll do it this way, gentlemen."

• • •

Admiral Halsey in Reverse.

IN MAKING his decisions, Johnson shows a tremendous knowledge of the three services. Part of this was gained when he was assistant secretary of the army in the Roosevelt administration, but part obviously was gained from a great deal of personal study.

Johnson's decisions in favor of economy are now what have got him in so much trouble with the Navy, which had found a more sympathetic listener in James Forrestal, its former boss.

However, Forrestal, harassed, tired, and anxious to please, frequently postponed making decisions in his latter years.

This may have been what promoted Adm. "Bull" Halsey to testify at the secret hearings of the Richardson board on unification:

"I am probably one of the lone naval officers in favor of a single department (of national defense). In other words, I believe in unity. I want a department headed up by someone who could tell them (the brass hats) to do this, do that."

However, when Admiral Halsey got a secretary of defense who told the brass hats to do this, do that, he squawked high heaven.

• • •

Tieless Kentucky Senator.

HOMESPUN, easygoing Garrett Lee Withers is probably the most unaffected man in the U. S. Senate. The Kentucky Democrat takes his job, but not himself, seriously. If it's more comfortable to work in his office without a tie—off comes the tie.

The same applies to his shoes—if he isn't talking to visitors.

Withers was sitting thus comfortably dressed when the Senate bell rang, announcing a quorum call. Quickly, the sen. .or slid into his shoes, but forgot his tie. And with his neck thus unadorned he rushed onto the floor of the dignified Senate.

Finally, senate special officer Bill Brennan, who also hails from the Blue Grass country, beckoned Withers into an anteroom.

"Senator, do you know that you aren't wearing a tie?" he asked.

"My goodness!" exclaimed Withers, feeling his neck, "you're right. What am I going to do?"

Brennan solved the "crisis" by slipping off his own necktie, a snappy, multitoned job, and looped it on the senator who then answered his name on the quorum roll call.

• • •

Merry-Go-Round.

IF THE steel strike ended tonight, the nation would still lose more than 8,000,000 tons production — equal to one-third of all the steel Russia produces in a single year. . .Dictator Peron of Argentina has proclaimed himself the great friend of labor, but last week he issued secret instructions that Argentine judges should decide on labor disputes in favor of management. . .Adm. Leland Lovett, ace public-relations officer for the Navy, has been picked by Commander Clyde Lewis of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to handle VFW public relations. . .The state department is losing one of its best young executives, assistant secretary Ernest Gross. He will now assist Sen. Warren Austin as deputy ambassador to the United Nations. . .The state department has been smart in picking a man who served 12 years as secretary of the house appropriations committee to handle its relations with Congress. He is newly appointed Assistant Secretary Jack McFall.

Listen World

A Great Light Shining

By ELSIE ROBINSON

Saul of Tarsus was a bad actor by any count though many Romans hailed him as a hero.

He was a Roman citizen, trained in the creed of Gamaliel to abhor every Christian, which he proceeded to do with quite unnecessary zeal. Man, woman or helpless babe—he spared not one of them. One and all he killed or cast into prison or submitted to horrible torture. He watched unmoved while they stoned young Stephen to death. And of course, like most wrongdoers, he thought he was doing the right and progressive thing.

Then came the time when his masters told him to ride to Damascus and jail all Christians there. You can almost see him as he set forth with his retinue—a big man swollen with arrogant power, ruthless and fearless, with his cruel armor jangling as a symbol of his might. What had he to fear from the poor sniveling fanatics who followed this strange cult of Christ? Even his horse, whose fetlocks often had been soaked in human blood, must have reflected his brutality. It certainly never occurred to any of that crew that there was a Force behind their driven victims greater than all the power of mighty Rome.

Yet, as he himself told it later, when he came near to Damascus about noon, suddenly there shown from heaven a great light. And Saul of Tarsus fell to the ground, blinded, hearing a terrible voice crying out—"Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?" And Saul answered, "Who art thou, Lord?" And the voice which none but Saul could hear answered, "I am Jesus of Nazareth whom thou persecutest."

Blindly he rose, and he was not to see again until a holy man restored his sight. And blindly, stumbling with a humble heart, he took the hands that guided him into Damascus.

This is the true story of the man who was to become Saint Paul of Christendom and to fight for Christians against an armored world. And I have written it here because it applies as well to 1949 as it did 2000 years ago.

• • •

It Really Works.

I have seen many wrongdoers I haven't been any shining example myself. But I have yet to see the man who could be beaten into righteousness or shackled into goodness or preached or coaxed into respectability. I think that there must come to us all "a great light shining all about" that will show us as we really are in our weakness and viciousness and arrogant pride.

You can call it what you will—divine inspiration or simply human decency. It all amounts to the same thing in the end. Some time, somewhere, on our ruthless road to Damascus our own self respect will shine like a blinding light and something within us will cry, "Turn back. Be your true self again. You are on the wrong trail!"

I've seen it work with men so vicious that guards had to stand on either side. . .and with women so weak and frivolous you couldn't trust them around the corner. And if I learned anything at all from my experience, it is the tremendous power of self respect and its ability to drag a human being from the lowest gutter in which he can wallow. And I don't believe any other power will work.

Moreover, I believe that if we applied more of this principle to our delinquent boys and girls and shiftless parents, our crime wave would diminish like an ebb tide. Trust a man to trust himself. . .teach a man to believe in his own greatness. . .guide a man back to his own greatness . . .guide a man back to his lost pride and you'll be surprised by the results.

It Says Here:

—By KEN WOODMAN

YOU can't help wondering what would happen if the billion-odd dollars we are about to give Europe to buy weapons were used instead to get information inside Russia about what Americans and America are really like.

• • •

It's a fairly safe bet that not only the average Russian but even Josef Stalin himself knows very little that is accurate about this country and its people. The view through the iron curtain is bad.

• • •

Of course, the Russian leaders don't want the truth about us spread around. They know, just as our state department ought to, that people who understand each other seldom fight. (They often compete, but they don't resort to senseless, blind slugging.) That's where the billion-bucks comes in. Folks can be made awfully hungry for information with that much money.

Child's Prayer

—By ANNE CAMPBELL

Use me, Lord, to do Thy will.
Use my fingers, untrained still;
Use my feet to run for Thee.
Use my eyes and make them see.

Use my heart that it may beat,
Tuned to music high and sweet.
Use my powers to express
Only thoughts of helpfulness.

Make me, Lord, Thine instrument.
Fill me with divine content.
Help my earth-borne soul to rise
To its dream of Paradise.

Long TD Jaunt Sends Southern Cal to Defeat

California Halfback Scoots 102 Yards

By RUSS NEWLAND

BERKELEY, Calif.—(AP)—With a thrilling 102-yard touchdown run in the final quarter, California's Bears came from behind to chalk up a 16 to 10 upset victory over the Southern California Trojans yesterday in their crucial Coast conference football game.

While an overflow crowd of 81,500 fans stood and screamed, Left-halfback Frank Brunk, just off the injured list, caught a Trojan kickoff behind his own goal. He started back down the middle, picked up fine interference and raced through the whole Trojan team for the winning tally.

Brunk outran the last opposing tacklers by swerving toward the sideline. Jim Cullom, place-kicking artist, added his second conversion and California had posted what turned out to be the winning marker.

With only seconds to play, California clinched the game with a safety for two more points. Southern California's quarterback, Wilbur Robertson, making a final desperate passing attempt to get his club back into the game, was trapped behind the goal line.

The gun sounded the end of the game soon after.

California, outcharging the big Trojan team, had scored a second period touchdown lead and maintained the margin until early in the last quarter.

Tygers Battle Tigers In Big Game Friday

Akron South in the opening game, 34-27.

PLAY 13 TIMES

Washington high and Senior high have met 13 times in the past 27 years with the Tygers winning 10 of the games. Three resulted in ties, the latest being a 12-to-12 deadlock in 1946. Mansfield, and Canton McKinley are rated the toughest teams on the Massillon schedule.

The game will be the top attraction in the state as well as in this area. Madison will be idle this week and no important class B games are on the card.

Willard will be out to protect its Northern Ohio league lead at Norwalk while other loop games will send Bucyrus to Crestline, Galion to Upper Sandusky and Shelby to Bellevue.

One of the top attractions will be at Ashland where the Taylor Tots will battle the powerful Wooster eleven. Wooster was tiedl, 7-7, last week by Canton Catholic Central.

Bellville and Mt. Gilead clash at Bellville in a top Class B E E OTHER CNTE STISN (AP) game while other contests include Rittman at Loudonville, New London at Huron and Middlebranch at Millersburg. Loudonville will be after its sixth straight victory.

Eight Players Ruled Off Grid

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. —(AP)—A strict enforcement of Southeastern conference rules is putting a fair-sized dent in the Big 12's football ranks.

Eight players—most of them awfully handy lads to have around in a tough game—have been ruled off the gridiron in recent days.

The latest sent to the showers permanently, as far as the SEC is concerned, are Alabama Captain Doug Lockridge, 212-pound center; Georgia Tech's starting right tackle, Clay Matthews, and Jocko Norton, an Auburn back.

They were caught by a new interpretation of a 1945 rule that play on "B" teams (junior varsity) counts as varsity competition from 1946 on.

Cornell In Waltz

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — (AP) — Cornell's unbeaten Ivy league champs yesterday walloped Yale, 48-14, before 45,000 in the Yale bowl. The New Yorkers, led by Hillary Chollet, Pete Dorset and Jeff Fleischmann, tallied at least once in each quarter.

Time Limit Halts Bozic, Anaya Fracas

Despite a rampaging battle in which all known ethical wrestling holds and at least two-thirds of the unethical holds known were used, Gentleman Fred Bozic and Cyclone Anaya fought to a draw at the Ashland road armory last night.

Anaya, using straight stuff, climaxed with a cobra hold, knocked Bozic off his sedate perch in 41 minutes and 30 seconds to cop the first fall. Gentleman Fred, a misnamed mug, if there ever was one, popped back with jolting smashes to the face and followed them up with a crucifix hold, to grab the second fall in 1½ minutes.

The two fought to the time limit on the final fall. No rematch is planned at present.

A near riot gets things lively in the first half of the double main event. The disdainful attitudes of Lord Blears and his manager, Capt. Leslie Holmes, kept things lively. When they left the ring after the second fall irate fans took turns at slugging both of the Britishers and Holmes had his shirt ripped.

Then Blears wouldn't return for the final fall because he said his dignity was injured. Blears had won the first fall in his match with Dr. Ed Meske and the Rubber City chiropractor took the second.

Promoter Clete Kauffman got permission of the Mansfield boxing and wrestling commission to bring Blears back next week against the popular Don Eagle. However, the commission ruled that Holmes will not be permitted in Blears' corner.

The 30-minute prelim ended in a draw between Billy Weidner and Farmer Tommy Martin.

Iberia Baseball Team Ends Sked

IBERIA — The Iberia Presidents completed their fall baseball season with a record of six victories and one defeat and a well-balanced team which should prove a formidable foe in the Morrow county league next spring.

Sees Limit to Aid

MARIETTA — (AP) — "Federal aid to education is desirable and necessary, but it must stop at the point where it involves a threat to freedom," says Sen. Robert A. Taft. He so declared in Marietta Saturday.

Penn Schoolboy Grid Game Concludes In a Wild Riot

WEST CHESTER, Pa. — (AP) — West Chester high school won a football game, 1 to 0, yesterday after a riot forced officials to forfeit the contest.

Two hundred rioting fans broke up the game with Downingtown high by sweeping onto the field to protest a ruling by the officials.

The incident came near the end of the game while West Chester was leading 20 to 14.

Trouble started after Downingtown completed a 19-yard forward pass on what was ruled an "illegal sleeper play" in which Left End Pete Hayes slipped over to the sideline unnoticed before the play started and hence was unguarded when the pass was thrown.

Elmer Haupt, West Chester coach, called the attention of Referee Sam Thompson to the play and protested it as illegal. When Thompson picked up the ball to bring the play back, a crowd of Downingtown rooters ran out on the field and surrounded the officials. One excited fan tore Thompson's shirt.

The Downingtown coach also raced on the field to discuss the play. Half a dozen police were required to rescue the officials, who were being roughed up. State police also were rushed to the scene.

When it became apparent play could not be resumed Thompson forfeited the game and said he would report the incident to the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association at Harrisburg.

Lopez In Line For Buc Post

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Al Lopez, veteran Major leage catcher now managing Indianapolis of the American association, is slated to succeed Billy Meyer when Meyer retires as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

General Manager Roy Hamey made the announcement yesterday. He pointed out quickly Meyer's contract has another year to run but that no one knows whether Meyer can stand the physical grind of managing a Major league club.

The Pirates finished a disappointing sixth this year. Meyer became ill during the past season but rejoined the club after a few days.

Penn Retains Lead In Ivy League, 27-7

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — University of Pennsylvania retained the Ivy league lead yesterday, winning over a game but overpowered Columbia football team, 27-7, before 34,373.

Penn had trouble manufacturing a sustained offensive, but struck three times from far away for touchdowns.

Duke Slips Past Carolina, 14-13

DURHAM, N. C. —(AP)— Duke squeezed by North Carolina State, 14-13, yesterday in a Southern conference football game played before 20,000 homecoming fans in Duke stadium.

State Tailback Ogden Smith passed to End Tony Romanowsky in the end zone with 10 seconds to play for the Wolfpack's second touchdown. Sophomore Tailback Charles Westbrook's failure on the extra point try meant the difference.

Ohio State came from its halftime rest with the apparent secret of the Minnesota running. The Ohio forwards began scrapping well above their previous level and the Minnesota runners, including the redoubtable Gregory, just couldn't keep up any sustained drive.

Minnesota began moving again in the fourth period. From the Minnesota 18, Gregory broke loose for 30 yards around his own left end. Again the Minnesota runners slowed down on the Ohio 20. There, Bye slipped his touchdown pass to Malosky.

The Minnesota offense had nothing like the versatility, or in general even the speed, of the Ohio State attack, but had the most nearly perfect blocking seen in the old concrete horseshoe in many years.

Salesman Tries To Bribe High School Player

MASSENA, N. Y.—(AP)— A 29-year-old man was arrested last night and charged with offering a $200 bribe to a Massena high school football player to "throw a game" with Saranac Lake high school.

The man was identified by police as Daniel Opalka, a paper products salesman.

Police said the player told school authorities he was approached by Opalka last Monday and was offered the money to "lose the game or cause the loss of the game."

The youth, whose identity was not disclosed, reported that Opalka said he had $600 to lay on the game," police added.

The Massena football team walloped Saranac Lake, 32-6, yesterday at this northern New York village.

Missouri's Fourth Quarter Rally Tops Illini, 27-20

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. —(AP)— Missouri slammed 65 yards to a winning touchdown in the final quarter yesterday repulsing an Illinois rally inspired by Dick Raklovits' 75-yard scoring dash and snatching a 27-20 intersectional football victory.

After ties with Iowa State and Wisconsin, and a win over Iowa, Illinois' undefeated streak ended before a crowd of 42,184 fans. Missouri's well-earned triumph was its second in four starts.

Missouri's split-T formation exploded for two markers the first eight minutes of the opening quarter and another in the second as the Tigers rolled into a 20-6 halftime margin.

Then Bernie Krueger's wobbly 22-yard pass was snagged by Johnny Karras for a touchdown to push Illinois' drive to a tie in the third period. The Illini made it 20-20 when Raklovits took Phil Klein's punt and spriated 75 yards to score. Lou Kevanti converted twice.

Missouri's 65-yard push at the start of the finale was set up on Dick Braznell's 30-yard toss to Gene Ackermann. Winfard Carter eventually shot across from the three and John Glorioso added the point for the 27-20 tab.

Illinois twice threatened before the fourth period was over. Russ Steger's line-knifing and Krueger's pitches escorted the Illini to the 15, where a 15-yard roughness infraction stalled the thrust.

Later Karras and Sam Piazza drilled to the 30 and Krueger hit Slip Kersulis for 15 more. Krueger, who added 91 yards on nine out of 18 tosses, then elected to pass on first down. It was intercepted in the end zone by Glorioso.

SCORE ON BOLT

In the first 2½ minutes of the game Missouri scored on Glorioso's 49-yard bolt. He also booted the first of his three extra points. Some 5½ minutes later, the Tigers struck again, covering 45 yards in nine plays as Carter cracked 35 yards in three runs. Braznell capped it with a three-yard smash.

Krueger's 27-yard toss to Ronnie Clark touched off Illinois' first score in the second. Clark rammed over from the one. Then Missouri capitalized on Clark's fumble of Klein's punt to snare the ball on the Illinois' 43. Eight plays later Klein went over from the two on a quarterback sneak.

Missouri	13	7	0	7	—27

Missouri scoring: Touchdowns—Glorioso, Braznell, Klein, Carter. Points after touchdown: Glodioso 3.

Illinois scoring: Touchdowns — Clark, Karras, Raklovitz. Points after touchdowns: Levanti 2.

'Ez' Charles Still Seeking 'Full' Crown

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—In the wake of his knockout victory, Ezzard Charles, the NBA heavyweight champion, asked last night "What more must I do to get recognition from the New York Athletic commission?"

Charles flattened Pat Valentino, California state titleholder for the full count in 35 seconds of the eighth round of their scheduled 15-round bout Friday. A record indoor boxing crowd for this state of 19,666 saw Charles end the fight with a smashing right cross to the jaw.

Gate receipts grossed $166,688.50. The fight paid off on a net after taxes of $132,895.90. Charles, with a guarantee of $40,000 and option of 35 per cent, received $46,048.43 on the percentage basis. Figures were announced officially by the California Athletic commission.

The Cincinnati Negro said he wanted to defend the title again before the year is out. He also expressed hope the New York commission would soon recognize him as world's champion. He is the titleholder in all the states affiliated with the National Boxing association.

Underdog Santa Clara Gridders Upset UCLA 11

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—An underrated Santa Clara football team struck the clock for the Cinderella-like Bruins of UCLA yesterday, knocking them out of the ranks of the nation's undefeated elevens, 14-0.

Breaking a dull, scoreless duel in the fourth quarter as 28,911 unbelieving spectators looked on, the astonishing Broncos from Northern California ended the UCLA winning streak at four games with a two-touchdown blast.

It was a non-conference game, having no direct bearing on the UCLA standing in the Pacific Coast conference Rose Bowl game.

Hero of the victory was an 18-year-old sophomore from Chicago, Quarterback Johnny Pasco, who came off the bench late in the third period — unannounced and virtually unknown—and promptly piloted the Broncos on two drives from midfield for the pair of touchdowns.

Girls' League Set To Open

The Women's Volleyball program of the City Recreation department will open at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at Johnny Appleseed junior high gym, City Recreation Director Stan Kamen announced last night.

A regular schedule will be played with the split-season system in effect. Six teams will comprise the league, each team having a roster of ten girls.

Teams and captains are: Old Smugglers, Doris Miller; Strugglers, Pat Arnold; Amazons, Barbara Keipp; Unknown, Janice Inscore; Prevaricators, Joann Dent, and Lillies of the Valley, Iola Magan.

Iowa TD Spree Whips Hoosiers

BY KNOX CRAIG

IOWA CITY, Ia. — (AP) — Outplayed for better than a half by an underdog Indiana team, Iowa went on a fourth quarter scoring spree to wallop the Hoosiers 35 to 9 in a Big Nine football game yesterday.

Behind 7-9 at halftime, the Hawkeyes sent a home-coming crowd of 44,081 home happy by scoring once in the third and three times in the final period.

It was the reserves who got a stalled Iowa machine rolling. Quarterback Fred Ruck put the Hawks back in front 14-9 with passes of 34 and 42 yards to end Jack Dittmer, the latter good for a score near the end of the third period.

All Iowa's final period scoring was by reserves. Bob ((Chug) Wilson, playing his first collegiate game, galloped 32 yards around his left end for Iowa's last touchdown.

Don Riley had punched over from the three early in the fourth period after Iowa recovered an Indiana fumble on the Hoosier 20. Six minutes later reserve Jerry Faske scored from the one-foot marker after earlier runs of 17 and 13 yards.

It was Indiana's 11th consecutive loss. The Hoosier's were ahead for the first time in a ball game this year on their first quarter touchdown. Indiana went 85 yards in 15 plays to score on a 21-yard pass from Nick Sebek to Clifton Anderson.

Iowa's first score came on a 15-yard gallop by Bill Reichardt around his right end with three seconds left of the first quarter.

When an Indiana drive stalled on the Iowa seven midway in the second period, Don Henkle dropped back to his 15-yard line to boot a perfect field goal and put Indiana back in front for the lead it held at halftime. Indiana outdowned Iowa 12 to 15.

Indiana	6	3	0	0	—9
Iowa	7	0	7	21	—35

Indiana scoring: Touchdown—Anderson. Field goal: Henkle.
Iowa scoring: Touchdowns—Reichardt, Dittmer, Riley, Wilson, Faske. Points after touchdown—Reichardt 5.

Don Miller

There is nothing more boring to the average person than a book or pamphlet filled with large figures and statistics. Ordinarily, I am the same as any other person in this respect—I wouldn't move two feet to read the thickest doggoned book of figures ever published. Mathematical figures, that is.

At any rate I happen to have a little booklet sent out by the Ohio Division of Conservation and Natural Resources and the Ohio Cooperative Wildlife Research unit. The booklet is crammed from cover to cover with figures pertaining to wildlife—and what a revelation it is!

For instance: the annual raw fur crop in this state is worth $2,000,000 to the hunters and trappers. Two million bucks! That alone is enough to put the wildlife crop into the big money brackets, but there's more coming.

The value of the fish crop as taken by commercial fishermen (1941-46 average) is $2,752,804 per year. Added to that is another half-million dollars worth of fish taken in recreational fishing.

So fishing chalks up as another portion of the big business field. But hold your hats, there's still some more!

Hunters annually take 12,865,125 pounds of dressed game. This was the 1946 figure. At only $.50 per pound, this made the meat worth $6,432,562. Who says figures are boring?

You and I are the guys who take the game and fish and help to put wildlife on the map. We're the ones who are footing the bill for the development of these resources. But more of that later. We still have a few figures proving wildlife is big business.

• • •

Take the game farms for just another point. The income from the sale of game for restocking and field trials (estimate based on replies to questionnaires; is $75,000 yearly.

Add 'em upside down, right side up or any way you want to and you can't escape the one fact these figures prove.

The annual monetary value of Ohio's wildlife crop, that portion which is harvested, is $14,486,128! And that ain't peanuts, gentlemen!

Now comes the payoff and the reason for citing all the above figures. Hunters and fishermen through their purchases of licenses and their donations to various projects are footing the bill for the rearing and increase in any of these crops. The legislatures in various states—Ohio is not alone in this respect—don't deem the industry worth giving any legislative appropriation. Just stop to think for a moment. Fourteen million bucks per year and the state assemblies don't like to dig into the general funds for a little added cash to help keep this recreational business on a sound footing.

• • •

As an added thought, 21,716 persons in Ohio make a living by dealing directly with the sporting world, either through sale of bait, handling of furs or selling of sporting goods etc. It's a tremendous thing in just this state, let alone the entire country, and it's well worth bringing to the attention of the state's lawmakers.

A few added dollars spent on research and development of wildlife would undoubtedly increase the benefits of the program.

Just for the sake of befuddling our already befuddled readers a little further here are a few more facts and figgers on outdoors activities:

1. In 1947 the average hunter spent $41.88 for his hunting and the fisherman spent $56.95.

2. The hunters spent $25,546,800 for miscellaneous items; $652,700 for hunting licenses; and $388,600 for club dues. A mere matter of some 26½ million shekels.

3. The fishermen spent $44,136,250 on miscellaneous, and $852,500 for licenses. That's $44,988,750. But still the wildlife program isn't worth spending a few of the state's dollars—outside of those pouring into the coffers from sportsmen—to aid the program. You figure it out I'm too dizzy from reading figures!

'Oh, yes, for those few who have survived the body blows hurled so far, here are two more:

There were 610,000 hunters in 1947 and 775,000 fishermen active in Ohio. Both groups added greatly to their number in 1948 and the 1949 figures bid fair to set a new record.

Now what's the wildlife program worth, gentlemen.

Geese Flood James Bay

Canada geese, snow geese and "wavies" (blue geese) are swarming to the tide flats of the James bay area in larger numbers than for many years, according to Len Hughes, Canadian outfitter, well known to Ohio sportsmen.

"Canada geese are here in numbers ten to one over last year," he stated in a telegram to Jim Stuber, wildlife technician of the Ohio Division of Wildlife a few days ago. He added that wild ducks are also showing a big increase.

This is good news to Ohio sportsmen since thousands of ducks and geese from the James bay area cross western Ohio on the Mississippi flyway. Many come to the waterfowl refuges at Grand Lake St. Marys and Indian Lake as well as other inland waters of the State.

Last year more Canada, snow and blue geese were seen and killed at Lake St. Marys than at any time in 20 years, according to veteran waterfowl hunters.

Rider Sees Good Duck Season Due

Excellent Hunting On Inland Waters

Although Ohio is not considered a hunter's paradise for waterfowl shooting, thousands of hunters will be crouched in the marshes of Ohio's lakes and streams on October 21.

The season opens at 12 noon (eastern standard time). After the first day the hunting hours will be from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset. The season closes November 29.

H. A. Rider, chief of the Wildlife division of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, said this week that just because a hunter doesn't own a private marsh on Lake Erie doesn't mean he can't enjoy duck hunting.

"Ohio's lakes and streams," he said, produce good waterfowl shooting every year. They aren't equipped with permanent heated blinds with hot coffee, but there are plenty of ducks when the weather is right."

Hunters consistently have enjoyed good shooting on the Muskingum Watershed Conservancy lakes in eastern Ohio, under lease agreement to the Division of Wildlife for public hunting, as well as on all of the lakes and several streams in Ohio.

Hunters over 16 years of age are required to purchase a federal duck stamp costing $2, available at U. S. post offices. The hunter must sign his name across the face of the stamp in ink. The stamp is required in addition to the regular Ohio hunting license.

Reports from the northern duck nesting areas are that duck and goose shooting may be better this year than for many past seasons.

Free Chestnut Seeds Offered By Foresters

Outdoorsmen were served notice this past week that the Ohio Forestry association intends to do something about returning the chestnut to Ohio.

The group announced that packages of five blight resistant nuts would be sent to anyone desiring to plant them and asked in return that a report be submitted next August describing progress of the seedlings.

The association advised recipients to plant the nuts in fertile soil near the house where they would be protected, then to transplant them to suitable locations once they became established.

Persons desiring some of the seeds along with instructions may obtain them by writing to the Ohio Forestry associations, Southern Hotel, Columbus, Ohio. There is no charge.

Game Plentiful—So Are Hunters

Prospects Bright For Hunting Season

With hunting season just around the corner, the cottontail and the ringneck are preparing for a hectic few weeks. From game census reports taken throughout the state, there is an ample supply of game on hand for the hunters to pursue.

Pursue is a particularly appropriate word in view of the way a rabbit can stretch out and disappear over a nearby hill. The pheasant, while not endowed by the long hind legs which give a rabbit all his power, don't do badly with their wings.

Few persons will deny that they've been frightened half out of their wits by a cackling old cock bird when he's flushed unexpectedly. The colorful ringneck provides excellent sport and even better eating.

The season will get underway at 9 a. m., Nov. 15, on both the rabbit and pheasant, with shooting confined to the hours between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. daily except Sunday.

Four rabbits may be taken daily, and the possession limit has been pegged at four. Two cock pheasants may be taken daily and the same number kept in possession.

The pheasant season runs through Nov 25, giving hunters an 11-day season. Rabbits may be taken through Dec. 26.

Opening on the same date is the seasen on raccoon, mink and other fur-bearing animals. Raccoon cannot be taken before 6 p. m. of the opening day, and after that until the season closes Jan. 15, hunting hours are limited to those between 6 p. m. and 6 a. m. of the following day. Two coon may be taken for each member of a hunting party.

No hunting is permitted in Ohio on Sundays.

Adding to the pleasure of the bird hunter will be the grouse in the southwestern section of the state where they are fairly numerous. The season on them opens Nov. 15 and closes Nov. 30.

The bag and possession limits are the same as the pheasant, two birds.

Reports from the Upper Sandusky and Findlay areas peg the number of pheasants as above the number noted in the past three or four years. Adding to the bright outlook is the fact that various wildlife organizations have been releasing pheasants right in Richland county during the past year.

Checks have shown that these birds have had a high mortality rate but enough brood stock has been saved over the past two or three years to provide good hunting.

Tularemia, which formerly took such a terrific toll of Ohio rabbits, appears to be on the down trend although still prevalent enough that caution should be exercised in the handling of rabbits.

Along this line, state officials have warned hunters to discard any carcass in which the liver contains white spots. In addition, hunters or those dressing rabbits are warned to use rubber gloves in order to avoid catching the disease.

It is believed by wildlife experts that the diminishing number of skunks which resulted in closed seasons in recent years could be blamed on tularemia or rabbit fever, since the skunk is highly susceptible to the disease.

Lauds Coon Chase Field

A large entry list was predicted for the Oct. 23 coon chase of the Richland county Fish and Game association's Coon club yesterday by Bob Leather, Coon club official.

"This should turn out to be one of the best trials ever held in this section," Leather declared.

The club is offering $300 in prize money for the finals, $100 for first tree and for first line and $50 for second spot in each.

In addition, heat money will be awarded at the rate of $20 per heat.

The chase will be held four miles northeast of Mansfield on Route 39, and signs will be posted to direct visitors. Club officials invited anyone intrested to either participate in or watch the trials.

Crappies Hitting At Charles Mill, Duck Flocks Reported

Crappies have responded to cooler weather with renewed vigor, reports from Charles Mill dam indicated yesterday.

Creel census reports revealed that crappies averaging 11 inches are biting well and average catches are topping the 16 mark. The fish have been striking well for several days and show no preference as to any particular section of the lake.

"They're hitting all over," one fisherman exclaimed, displaying a string of 19 beauties.

Kenny Wassem, concessionaire, revealed that preliminary work has been completed for the new concession buildink. The cellar has been dug and the 60 by 35 foot building will be ready for early spring fishing.

Meanwhile, Wassem reported the present boat house will remain open all winter to accomodate ice skaters and duck hunters.

He reminded hunters and trappers that the north end of Charles Mill dam will be closed but that ducks have been using Mud Lake and Bell lake portions of the waterway and have also been hitting the shallow flats on the portion of the lake nearest Mansfield.

According to weekly reports by the state Natural Resources department, Charles Mill was among the best fishing lakes in the state this past week and prospects are good for better fishing this coming week.

Fishing didn't hold up so well at Pleasant Hill, but indications are that better fishing is in sight there also.

The yellow rail bird, a good swimmer, generally swims only at night.

Kills Bear, Badly Hurt

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — (AP) — Dan Luddington fought a close-in bout with a grizzley bear and won, but he was hospitalized Friday with 200 stitches.

Luddington met a she-grizzley with her cub head-on near Summit lake.

"My rifle failed to fire the first bullet," he recounted, "and she got me down. She was pawing, mauling and raking me with her claws and I was trying to get away and at the same time reload my rifle.

"It seemed like my head was in her mouth when I got another shell in the chamber. I managed to get my rifle around while she was dragging me by one leg.

"The bullet hit her in the chest and she dropped."

Luddington painfully inched himself a mile to a road where he was picked up by an Alaska Freight lines truck.

He told his story in the Fairbanks hospital. Luddington, owner of a roadhouse near here; had 200 stitches taken in his face, scalp, arm and leg.

Wood Ducks Receive Benefit of Housing

Housing conditions are tough all over.

But the wood duck is finally getting some relief. The Massachusetts Department of Conservation has devised a method of erecting nesting boxes on cedar poles in ponds and marshes used by waterfowl's most beautiful family.

Club Plans Trap Shoot

LOUDONVILLE — Amateur trapshooters will get a chance to compete for prizes next Tuesday, October 18, at the Loudonville Wild Life's rifle range east of town.

It is also the night the group will throw open to the public its new club house. Theodore Ullman is chairman of the committee in charge of the shoot.

Anyone is invited to come but it is strictly an amateur shoot.

Opening of the new club house is one of the most important gains the Wild Life club has made in its steady growth in the past few years.

Their first project was a piece of land they bought and on which was a small pool they improved for a minnow hatchery.

This furnishes live bait for fisherman each year and provides an income for the club. They also built a boat dock at Pleasant Hill lake. Several members have boats which they keep there.

This past year the Wild Life club, merged with the Gun club and they now have a 16-year lease on the rifle range property where the new club house has been built. Earnest Richardson is president of the club.

Plymouth Men Get Two Deer

TIRO — The Tiro Frozen Food Lockers now includes deer meat in the collection of food stores in the food lockers. The carcases of two deer were processed last week end by L. M. and Donald Pope, operators of the plant and placed in the lockers of Justice Cornett and M. Burr of Plymouth.

The two men brought the deer back from a hunting trip in Canada when they returned last Saturday.

The animals weighed 90 pounds each rough dressed. These are the first deer brought to the local locker plant this season. Last year six deer were processed and stored at the plant Pope stated.

Idaho 'Fish Farms' Paying Good Money

LEWISTON, — Idaho — Fur farming and crop farming have proved profitable in the past —so why not fish farming? At least 15 men thought so and are proving the correctness of their views on the Snake river where they are making good money raising fish.

"A profitable venture," declares Thomas Hunter, employment service analyst.

Shooting Without a Gun

Cameras Can Add to Outdoor Pleasure

Many hunters and fishermen, when asked what they consider ideal equipment for any proposed trip afield, will promptly answer with a list of guns, ammunition, flies, tackle boxes, etc

But most overlook one piece of equipment which adds as much to the excursion as any other item — the ordinary camera.

There's quite a thrill in shooting accurately, but there's just as big a thrill in snapping a picture of some wild creature in his native element.

The camera doesn't have to be a professional type piece of material. Some of the best outdoor shots are obtained with the use of a $3 box camera which can take quite a beating before it goes out of commission. However, the sportsman dislikes being encumbered with bulky equipment and soon learns that a small folding camera or 35 millimeter job is just the ticket for hunting and fishing pictures.

Few sportsmen can remember all the thrills of any past hunt or trip, but a few snapshots scattered throughout an album bring back memories of successful trips. And any field trip where the person has captured the activity of wildlife on film can be classed as successful.

SMALL CAMERA BEST

For a few tips on using a camera in the field: as previously stated, look the smaller types which can be carried in a pocket without being in the road.

Always have an extra roll of film available. There is no means of knowing just what will be encountered after the last picture has been snapped on a roll.

Don't pose a picture with a hunter or fisherman standing with his face to the camera and holding his catch. Use initiative and put action into the picture. A good fishing shot would be of an angler netting a fish, stringing it, measuring it or even in the act of casting towards a likely hole. The subject is looking at the center of interest, the catch, and the viewer isn't distracted.

Along this line, it is essential that a "frame" be provided for good scenic shots. The picture may be snapped so that an overhanging tree limb cuts off part of the sky, thus framing the picture; a fishing cabin may be shown setting between two trees, thus serving as the primary point of interest. This is one secret of coming home with interesting outdoors pictures. Always select an angle which leads the viewer's eyes directly but not too obviously towards the heart of the photograph.

AVOID FACIAL SHADOWS

Shadows are often the only item which keeps a commonplace picture from being outstanding, and the photographer has several means of overcoming this fault. He can use metal pans to reflect light onto the desired spot; hats can be tipped slightly back from the faces of the subjects; and even an ordinary white handkerchief can make a good reflector to light dark spots.

It takes a little experimentation and work to learn how to gain the best results from photography, but the results are well worth the trouble.

An action-filled picture is as much to be desired as an action-filled hunting or fishing trip.

Writer Discusses the Many Different Calls of Quails

By TED KESTING
(Sports Afield)

Sweetest upland game bird for many men is the common bobwhite. In New England they call him a quail, and down south he is a partridge which is, ornithologically, a little closer to the facts. But famed naturalist Donald Culross Peattie thinks we should accept the bird's own name for himself: Bob-WHITE! Bob-lo-lo-WHITE! Ah, bob-white.

Students of the bobwhite list such phrases as the following: the food call given by the cock bird when bringing home the bacon; the screaming battle cry of the cock when another male takes too much interest in his mate; the flicker-like cackle of the male in pursuit of his love affairs; the note of the hen that invites the male; and a great deal of baby talk.

That is to say, the various notes of the chicks—the metallic piping of the lost chick, the childish chatter of youngsters keeping in touch with each other while feeding in the grass, and the curlew-like wail of the captured chick, a sound that brings down upon your head a demon in feathers—the parent bird.

All this is but a fraction of the bobwhite language, yet the sweetest note of all I haven't mentioned. It's that liquid, far-ranging ka-lo-ee-hoe that sounds like some Polynesian song of welcome. Ornithologists call it the scatter call, meaning it calls the scattered flock together.

Sometime you might be lucky enough to hear the "whisper call" given when danger is near but not so close as to dictate retreat. It's like the cherry bob-bob-white, but so soft it carries only a few yards.

And if you listen long enough and know what to listen for, you might detect the caterwauling note of "walks dis way, walks dis way."

Ornithologists say it is used for bluffing other males.

Porkies Invade Washington City

SPOKANE, Wash — Spokane police are considering a prickly question these days. "Wild" porcupines have been launching a peaceful invasion of the city in increasing numbers.

City police are going around armed with large boxes. Once a porkie has been spotted, the officers creep forward and pop the box over the creatures. The captured porcupines are taken to the humane society for extermination.

Safety Jacket Saves Hunters

Latest of hunting novelties is one with a definite safety factor, a flaming red article known as a Sal-T-Jac.

The light jacket is made of "cold-fire" fabric which glows with a flaming red fluorescent brilliance. It can be seen for long distances on murky as well as bright days. One advantage is that since game is believed to be color blind, the jacket helps preserve hunters yet doesn't frighten game.

Pet Skunk Disrupts Ft. Worth Pet Show

FORT WORTH — The all-city pet show here was a big success until one of the entrants disrupted proceedings.

"Something went wrong," one youth reluctantly admitted as he departed. Under one arm was a pet skunk which had protested against the show.

'Amateurs' Stage Tests

A simulated emergency test by Mansfield s amateur radio operators will be conducted here today under the leadership of J R Anderson, 174 South Main street, who is emergency coordinator of the American Radio Releay League for this area

The test will be held with the idea of perfecting a community plan to provide Mansfield and the area with communications facilities in the event of disaster.

Anderson said that during the tests a number of short-range radio stations will be set up at strategic points around the city in order to provide local communication and several high powered long-range stations will supply contact with distant points

An interesting feature of the tests Anderson said will be the mobile radio stations operating from the automobiles of participants These will be tied into a nation wide network of amateur stations

This simulated emergency test here tomorrow is one of a series of nation wide tests which are being conducted during this week end

Mansfield men who will participate in the tests will include members of the local ARRL Emergency Corps who are amateur radio operators

Women's Group To Meet Today

The fall meeting of the Mary McLeod Bethune Negro Democratic Women of Ohio will be held at the Future Outlook League building, 566 Lida street, at 2 p m today

Speakers will include Charles O Anglin Democratic candidate for mayor, and Mrs Dorothy Davis, president of the Dolly Madison club

The meeting, which is open to the public, will be in charge of Mrs Shirley Conway, president

Police Ball Monday Expected To Attract Nearly 4,000

Advance ticket sales for the 16th annual Policemen s ball Monday indicate more than 3 500 persons will throng the Coliseum for the dance, Identification Officer Paul Martin, publicity chairman, said yesterday

"I figure 3 000 to 3,500 people will be a normal crowd" he added "If the weather is nice we may get 4 000"

Members of the police department will sell tickets up to the time of the ball, or a ticket may be purchased at the door, he said

For the past several weeks policemen have turned carpenters in their spare time to construct a 20 by 24 foot band stand for Lee Barrett and his orchestra.

The 13-piece Barrett band played at the Policemen s Ball last year 'It was the most popular band to play at our ball and we were glad we could get the band again this year," Martin said

The grand march will be held at 10 p m Martin said The American Legion color guard will lead the march followed by the uniformed policemen All of the people at the ball will be asked to join the march, Martin said

The doors will open at 8 p m and organ music will entertain the crowd until 9 p m. when the orchestra will make its appearance.

Concessions and the coat check room will be handled by members of the VFW and its auxiliary, Martin said The veterans' group will use the proceeds in its rehabitation program

The Capitol building in Washington, D C covers approximately three and one half acres

City's Community Chest Drive Opens Monday Morning

MRS. JANE WILLIAMS

PAUL ENDRISS

800 to Aid In Reaching Highest Goal

1949 Quota Set At $141,663

Monday morning will mark the official opening of a concerted solicitation campaign by 800 volunteer workers to raise $141,663 in Mansfield with which to operate the ten Red Feather agencies of the Community Chest.

This is the largest number of workers ever recruited in the history of the Community Chest, which marks its 30th anniversary next January.

The workers have been organized by a number of young Mansfield businessmen and women, headed by James R. McConnell, the youngest campaign chairman in the chest's history, and have been divided into two competitive units, the "Feathers," headed by Orlo L. Smith, and the "Stars," of which Robert Salsbury is chairman.

Co-chairmen o fthe general division are Mrs. Ralph Z. Sorenson and Mrs. C. H. Guy.

Other committee chairmen are Frank Mayer, commercial "A"; George Keyser, commercial "B"; Henry Huber, construction; Robert M. Myers and Howard Richards, industrial "A"; Marshall Seybold and Roy Waxler, industrial "B"; W. H. McConnell, finance; Charles Robertson, professions; W. L. Miller and John Dalton, public employes; Nelson Neff, public services; James Clark and William Flinn, co-chairmen small industries; George L. Draffan and Avery Hand jr., special gifts, and Paul Endriss, publicity.

Mansfield's Community Chest supports ten Red Feaather agencies in Mansfield, including the Friendly House, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Hospital Bureau, Visiting Nurses' association, YWCA, YMCA, Salvation Army, St. Vincent de Paul society and the Dental Clinic and Milk Fund.

Officers of the chest are W. E. Slabaugh jr., president; Lewis Hartman, vice president; Orlo L. Smith, treasurer, and Desmond Walker, secretary. Mrs. Jane Williams serves as executive secretary of the organization.

Campaign headquarters for this year's drive will be set up in the office of A. B. Grafton, Inc., on Park avenue west, McConnell said. In past years the campaign headquarters have been in the YMCA building, but with the association's heavy membership this year, the space usually allotted for the campaign headquarters is not available, he said.

The $141,663 campaign goal is a 15 per cent increase over the amount sought in the 1948 drive, McConnell said, but is necessary due to the large increases in membership of various Red Feather units.

He cited as examples of the membership gains the Girl Scouts, whose membership in 1941 was 352, while this year it numbers 1,300 girls as well as 400 adult leaders; the YMCA, whose enrollment now numbers 2,070 as compared with 627 in 1941.

Increased costs in maintaining many of the agencies also was cited as a reason for the greater amount of money sought. These figures include the cost of milk for school children, which has jumed from three cents a bottle in 1941 to the present cost of five cents; visiting nurse calls which formerly cost $1.80 now average $3.03. Fees for hospitalization have jumped from $5.50 per day to the present charge of $10.77, McConnell said.

SPECIAL DRIVE STARTED

While the general Community Chest drive officially opens Monday morning, the industrial and special gifts division of the campaign opened their separate solicitations last Monday.

An innovation in this year's campaign was the industrial rally in the Westinghouse cafeteria last Monday night at which E. J. Hegarty, sales training consultant of the company, was guest speaker.

As has been the custom for several years, George L. Draffan entertained members of the Special Gifts division, which he heads, at a luncheon at the Mansfield Leland hotel Monday noon.

The current drive will be officially opened at 8 a. m. Monday morning, when W. A. Brandenburg and the Brandenburg Chevrolet company are hosts for a breakfast for an expected 300 campaign workers in the ballroom of the Mansfield Leland hotel.

This marks the fifth consecutive year that the Mansfield company has been host for the breakfast. A highlight of the Monday morning affair will be a talk by Elmer L. Lindseth, of Cleveland, president of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating company and the Edison Electric Institute.

Farmers' Group Plans Election

The Monroe-Washington township Farm Bureau group will meet Tuesday evening at Lucas High school to elect officers and discuss varied local, state and national problems that affect farmers and rural life.

Every family is to bring a pumpkin pie, the program committee announced.

SPEAKER—Elmer L. Lindseth, (above) who in 21 years rose from the job of test-helper at the Cleveland Electric Illuminating company to presidency of the company, will be guest speaker at the Kick-off breakfast of Mansfield's 1949 Community Chest campaign Monday morning at the Mansfield Leland hotel. Lindseth is the son of Swedish parents who came to this country shortly before the turn of the century, and earned his scholarship to Case Institute of Technology where he began his study of engineering. His academic background includes degrees from Case, Miami university and Yale university. In 1946 he was awarded an honorary degree of Doctor of Science by Case. He is a Phi Beta Kappa. He is a past president of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, director of the American Management association, trustee of Case institute and the Cleveland Community Chest, and director of the National City bank of Cleveland. He is a trustee of the Cleveland YMCA, the YWCA, and the Cleveland Hospital fund, and a member of the Cleveland Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Galion Couple Building $150,000 Florida Home, Business

Apartments Erected In Resort Area

Plan Occupancy In November

By CATHERINE RORICK
N-J State Correspondent

GALION — The Seachest is the "story-book" name given to the future home and business of a popular young Galion couple, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Monroe jr. It now is being completed on Treasure Island off the west shore of St. Petersburg, Fla., and it has been given considerable publicity in the Florida city.

About the first of November, the Monroes and their two sons, Eddie 5, and Freddie, 2½ will move into their future home on the island which is fast developing into a resort area.

They are putting finishing touches to a modernistic stucco building which will have a two story section of nine apartments for guests on the right, separated by a breezeway from the owners' adjoining home on the left. The development is estimated at $150,000. It will be ready for occupancy by the owners by Nov. 1, and for guests by the middle of December.

Key architectufal feature will be the 30-foot high tower above the breezeway entrance. On the six-foot-wide main surface of the tower will appear an outstanding design of a seachest and bird which will be illuminated at night.

The site has a 125-foot frontage on the Gulf of Mexico. The nine units for guest consists of eight apartments and one hotel-type room. This side of the building is two stores high with double-deck porch along the inside.

Each apartment has a living room, bedroom, tiled kitchen and bath and dressing room. Built-in dressing tables and drawers and terrazo floors are other features. Construction of the apartment side of the building is two-story masonry with steel and concrete joists.

In the adjoining one-story home of the owners, a master bedroom faces the gulf with picture windows along the entire gulf-side wall of the room. The living room also faces the gulf and has a simular wall of picture windows looking out to the gulf.

There are two other bedrooms and dining room besides kitchen and baths in the plans for the home. It will be equipped with aluminum awning-type windows. Offices will be located on the home side of the construction adjacent to the breezeway.

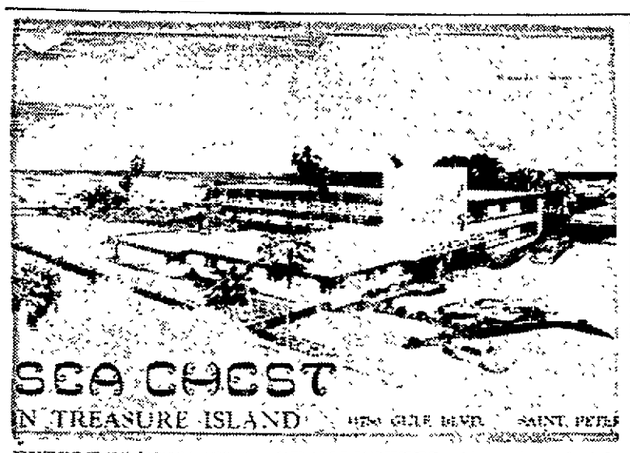
★

The Monroes are planning typical Floridian landscaping for the development. There also will be shuffle board courts and a wading pool. A commodious parking area on the boulevard side of the building is being provided.

Mrs. Monroe who has been in Florida with her husband to plan the furnishing of the apartments and home returned to Galion recently to rent their apartments here. While the Monroes will make Treasure Island their permanent home, Monroe will retain his business in Galion, the Monroe Standard, Inc., in the Wyandot building. The business will be in charge of W. L. Tanner.

Treasure Island may be reached by taking the Central Avenue Causeway from St. Petersburg across the Boca Crega Bay. The Seachest home and apartments of the Monroe family are about a half mile to the right after crossing the Causeway.

Mrs. Monroe, who is the former Virginia Hocker said, "We are looking forward to Treasure Island as a future home because, it will be an ideal place for our boys to grow up. The beach is very shallow and therefore will be a grand place for them to play."



FUTURE FLORIDA HOME OF GALIONITES—Above is a sketch of "Seachest," future home and business of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Monroe jr., of Galion. It will be ready for occupancy the first of November and its cost is estimated at $150,000. The site has 125-foot frontage on the Gulf of Mexico on Treasure Island off the west shore of St. Petersburg, Fla., and contains nine apartments in a two-story section on the right with a breezeway separating them from the owners' adjoining home on the left.

Franchester Cattle Sales Set Monday

West Salem Offers Guernsey Auction

WEST SALEM — The Guernsey cattle sale at nearby Franchester Farms tomorrow is expected to attract 900 persons to this north Ashland county area. Sales headquarters will be established today in the Ohio Hotel in Wooster to acquaint early arrivers with the stock being offered at the sale.

A chicken dinner, parade of sales stock and party feature today's program. The party will be held in the Wooster Country club and be given by Charles Bolton, manager of Franchester Farms.

The Franchester Farms, so named after the owners — Congresswoman Frances Bolton and her late husband Chester are managed by their son, Charles. Years ago the Franchester Farms sales were held in Mansfield. This is the first one scheduled here.

Most of the sales stock is Franchester Farms cattle but stock will be consigned here from leading Guernsey herds in the country. Louis Merryman and Sons, of Sparks, Md., will be sales directors. The entertainment today is being sponsored by the Ash-Medway association, composed of Ashland and Medway county cattlemen.

A tent has been erected at Franchester Farms to accommodate the 900 persons expected at the sale. It will seat 900 people. In addition to the program today, persons attending the sale will visit Guernsey herds in this area.

Contractor-Farmer's War-Born Richland Venture In Spotlight

Circle 4 Farm Raises Poled Beef Cattle

By BILL HERRING
News-Journal State Editor

BELLVILLE — The war-born Circle 4 Farm of Emory L. Myers, midway between here and Lexington on State Route 546, has gained an enviable reputation as a raiser of poled Hereford beef cattle in its four years of existence.

Myers, raised on a farm in Mifflin township in Ashland county, returned to farming when wartime restrictions and shortages throttled his activities as a home building contractor in Mansfield. He had been in business for 25 years in Mansfield and has resumed his contracting work there since the war's end.

The Circle 4 Farm was so named in honor of his four sons, all attending college at the present time. Three sons are students at Ohio State university and the fourth is at Bowling Green State university.

★

Acquiring 320 acres of farm land in Richland county, Myers started doing general farming but now specializes in Hereford cattle raising. He has developed 70 acres of grazing land since purchasing the farm in 1944 and has 160 acres in grass and hay crop.

"We found it foolish to plow up banks and plant them into grain crops," Myers remarked. "Now we plant the banks in grsss. We can raise as much corn as needed on 15 acres of Clear Fork creek bottom land."

Myers won the 1948 Richland county hybrid corn growing contest by producing 118 bushels per acre. Most of the food needed for his cattle is grown on the Circle 4 Farm and he buys only supplement feed — such as bean meal and concentrated feed (known as pellets) as booster feed.

★

Starting with two head of Hereford cattle four years ago, Myers now has 35 head at the Circle 4 Farm. Besides the steer beef cattle he has a senior herd bull, EER Rolo Domino 11th from the Mississippi EE Ranch, and a junior herd young bull, C4 Domino Bullion. All Myers stock is pure-bred registered cattle.

At this year's Ashland county fair four Circle 4 Farm entries took four firsts, two grand championships and two senior championships. His junior herd bull was fifth in his class at the Ohio State Fair in 1948 as a yearling.

The grandsire of the senior herd bull was a national champion in 1944. Beef Herefords are sold between 12 and 13 months of age. They average about 1,000 pounds in weight at 12 months.

★

Jack Myers, the oldest son, is studying civil engineering at OSU while Roger will graduate from the OSU College of Agriculture in March and Douglas is studying medicine at OSU. Ralph Leslie, known in Mansfield as 'Les', is studying physical education at Bowling Green State university and a member of the powerful Falcon basketball squad there.

"I get up at 5 o'clock every morning," Myers explained. "That is a 'must' nowadays with the boys away. Roger comes home week ends to help me and his return home in March will ease the load as I continue my contracting business in Mansfield."

His firm bears his name, the Emory L. Myers company, but his Bellville, R. D. 2 mailing address serves as office headquarters. State Route 546, on which the Circle 4 Farm is located, is the Lexington-Fredericktown road. The farm is four miles west of Bellville and four miles south of Lexington.

Each year Myers fattens and sells 100 head of pure bred Tamworth hogs. The Tamworths are ideal ham and bacon producing hogs. Mrs. Myers raises some chickens but only for domestic use and not for their egg production and sale.

Remodel Bucyrus Store After Sale

BUCYRUS—Purchase of Nick Caporini's shoe repair shop here by the Thoroclean Cleaners of Bucyrus was announced Saturday. The shop is undergoing extensive remodeling and will be managed by Lee Orewiler, Bucyrus. Joseph DeGeorge, of Ashtabula, will be in charge of the repair department.

Caporini was killed here last Aug. 10 when his auto hit a parked truck. He had operated the shop for more than 25 years.

Martha Picked Pigskin Queen

LOUDONVILLE — Miss Martha Jane Curren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Curren, a junior in Loudonville high school, will reign as queen of festivities at the annual homecoming game Friday evening. Martha was chosen by popular vote of the Red Bird's football squad. The game will be played with Rittman. Miss Curren will be crowned at a dance following the game, in the LHS gym.

Chosen to serve as attendants were Mary Crow and Donna Messner, both juniors and Deloris Horn and Jeanette Young, seniors. The new queen and her court will be introduced at the half time of the game.

Scout Retreat Set In May

BUCYRUS — Preliminary discussion of a mass Scout retreat to be held in Ohio next May were discussed at a meeting of Harding area Scout council held here last week.

Joseph Kebe, chairman of the Crawford district Scout council, said the site for the retreat will be announced later. It will be the first event of its kind ever held in the United States and is expected to attract more than 1,000 scouts.

Plans were made for a Halloween party to be held at Camp Michael, southwest of here, also were discussed. Dr. A. J. Wagner, of Marion, will be chairman for the affair, which will be limited to council members and scout leaders. He will be assisted by Kebe and C. D. Albright, both of Bucyrus, and Rev. Byron Hughes, Marion.

Oct. 31 Street Party Set In New London

NEW LONDON — Plans were completed at last week's Jaycee meeting, for the annual Halloween street party to be held here on Monday, Oct. 31.

The usual costumed street parade will be held, with prizes awarded in the various divisions. The street dance which follows will be held to the music of the Washburn orchestra.

The Jaycee "voting committee", of Geo. Ford, Del. Barnes, M. C. Day and Eugene Funk, is laying plans for a record turnout here including transportation facilities for those needing it.

Attending College

BELLVILLE — Juanita Celeste Humphrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Humphrey, local residents, is enrolled at Anderson college, Indiana's youngest liberal arts school with 831 students enrolled. Miss Humphrey is an English and history major and a member of Cihu club women's social groups.

"Don't smoke in bed, that last cigarette may be your last cigarette," is a printed slogan found in many hotel rooms today.

Good Samaritan Acts Pay Off

Kids Win Awards For Kindness To Pets

By TOM WARD

CHICAGO — (AP) — A Pittsburgh policeman peered down a long, narrow sewer tile. A trapped puppy whimpered inside.

"Stand back, everybody," the officer ordered. "The dog will have to be destroyed."

The crowd shifted uncertainly. A mother led her little boy away.

Tim Suter, a 16-year-old high school boy with a strong love for animals, shoved his hands in his pockets and crossed the street. At the next intersection he looked speculatively at a manhole.

He studied the contour of the large round cover. Then he looked back at the crowd gradually dispersing 250 feet away. Quickly he rolled up his trousers, tugged the heavy iron cover aside and lowered himself in the hole.

At the bottom he found an 18-inch pipe leading towards the trapped dog. It was slow work crawling through the narrow tunnel, but Tim pushed ahead on his hands and knees. An hour later he arrived beside the puppy.

The pet had a broken leg. It barked joyfully as Tim carried it back the slow way he had come, up through the manhole and out into the street.

Cheers went up as the boy emerged, grimy and exhausted. That was in 1945. Later that same year Tim received the National Humane act award, given annually by the American Veterinary Medical association.

The AMVA believes that "a cornerstone of veterinary medicine is the relief of suffering of domestic animals and livestock." IT presents the award to youngsters under 18, either boy or girl, for an exceptional act of kindness to animals during the year.

Nominations are received from throughout the United States and Canada. Winners are chosen by a three-member committee of veterinarians. Presentations are made at the association's annual convention. Winners get a certificate describing their act of kindness and a $100 U. S. saving bond.

The idea was originated by Dr. W. A. Young, 51, director of Chicago's celebrated Anti-Cruelty society. He headed the award committee until last year when he was succeeded by Dr. S. T. Michael of San Francisco.

Not every award is won for a single act of heroism. The committee also takes into consideration a candidate's record of consistent gentleness and mercy towards animals.

Activities of the youthful entrants include, in addition to the rescue of animals from danger, the staging of benefits for the care of lost dogs and volunteer work in animal hospitals.

Three of the association's six awards have been for heroism; the others for humane deeds for animal friends.

Twelve-year-old John Newton of Columbus, Ohio, won the 1946 award for establishing National Cat week. He gave up his vacation in summer camp to take over the job of winning nationwide recognition of the cat.

Suzanne Weller, 14, Pittsburgh, Pa., is the only girl honored. Pretty blonde Suzanne received the 1947 award for her singlehanded capture of a rabid fox terrier which had bitten more than 30 persons, including herself.

Winner of last year's award was Richard Swank, 15, of Mentor, Ohio. He rescued an abandoned and ill puppy. With the aid of a local veterinarian, the boy nursed it back to health. Later he worked to earn his own money to pay for an operation needed to save the animal's life.

Bucyrus Plans Parade Prizes

BUCYRUS—Fifteen prizes will be awarded in the parade, which will be the feature of a Community Mardi Gras here Monday night, Oct. 31, Dr. Arnold Talbott, general chairman, announced today. The event is being sponsored by the local Kiwanis club.

There will be five classes of costumes for which awards will be offered. They include: the most beautiful, original, comical, authentic copy of a period and elaborate.

Participating in the night parade will be members of Battery B, Ohio National Guard, and the Civilian Air Patrol, both units being stationed here.

A pet parade for youngsters will be held in the afternoon with all participants receiving treats.

Trip On Sidewalk Costly To Autoist

BUCYRUS — James Teynor, 21, Bucyrus, found out the hard way here last week that law-abiding motorists don't use the sidewalk as a highway.

Teynor, when arrested by police as he was driving his car down a sidewalk in the residential district, told the arresting officers that he didn't know it was unlawful to drive an auto on the sidewalk.

At his arraignment before Mayor R. L. Hertzer, young Teynor pleaded guilty to a reckless operation charge and was fined $5 and costs.

New London P-TA Program Set Tuesday

NEW LONDON — Six girls from a Cortland dance studio will present a special dance program, featuring costumed dances, at the 8 p. m. Tuesday meeting of the New London Parent - Teacher association. The group will be accompanied by their instructor, Lila Jean Partridge.

Mrs. Crystal Knapp is in charge of the October program, with Mrs. Dorothea Tulk, refreshments. P-TA officers for the year, include Mrs. Harold Hyatt, president; Mrs. Lyle Knapp, vice president; Mrs. Ida Bradish, secretary, Mr. Charles Frank, treasurer.

Band Officers Chosen At Loudonville High

LOUDONVILLE — Members of the Loudonville high school band last week elected officers for this school term.

Those chosen were: Douglas Yeager, president; Jerry Weidner, vice president; Virginia Stafford, secretary; Patty Rush, treasurer; and Alice Long, business manager.

During a discussion which followed the election of officers they decided to visit other schools and watch their bands march and play.

Native Allen Countian Aids Bluffton Industrial Growth

BLUFFTON — This Allen county village of 2000 offers a good example of one of the best ways for a community to get a flourishing manufacturing industry, the Ohio Development and Publicity commission reports.

The formula is to produce a native son of an inventive turn who devises the equivalent of the better mouse trap and goes back to his home town to manufacture it.

Bluffton's internationally known industry is the Triplett Electrical Instrument company producers of measuring devices for television, radio, radar, and all the other ramifications of this electronic age.

The home town boy who made good at Bluffton is R. L. Triplett. Aged 20, he founded the company in 1904. Testers were needed then for the dry batteries used in automobile ignition. Triplett started in one room, expanded into a small factory in 1905, and continued to grow, building whole new plants in 1928 and 1935.

Radio and all the other electrical developments brought business to Triplett. During the second world war, building instruments for the government, the company employed 900 persons from a radius of 30 miles. Besides television, general manufacturing is a great user of meters such as Triplett makes.

"Americans became instrument minded during the war," explains Triplett. "Pilots got used to watching a bank of dials. Now industry demands exact control by means of instruments."

Location in Bluffton gives Triplett ready access to the television industry, roughly limited to Chicago on the west and Philadelphia and New York on the east, over night by train and a few hours by plane.

Triplett workers, from Triplett on down, also feel that location in Bluffton combines the best features of town and country. The town is the seat of Bluffton college; the surrounding farmland is rich; and Lima, a city of 50,000, is only 16 miles away.

Oil, Gas Output In Ohio Tremendous Fuel Assets

COLUMBUS — Oil and gas production, in which Ohio led the nation about the turn of the century, still are tremendous fuel assets of the Buckeye state. A new map of the geological survey of Ohio shows the size, shape, and location of Ohio's 488 oil and gas fields.

In the nearly 90 years since Ohio's first oil well came, in at Macksburg in Washington county, about 200,000 petroleum wells have been drilled in the state. Besides yielding oil and gas, the wells have given much information about Ohio geology.

The map shows two petroleum producing areas in Ohio. One is in the northwest part of the state, concentrated near Lima and Findlay. These fields had their greatest production about 1900. The other area is the eastern part of Ohio, east of a line between Portsmouth and Lorain. The fields in this region are scattered patches or pockets. Much of the oil is Pennsylvania grade, highly prized for lubricating qualities.

Ohio now ranks 18th in oil production, with the output valued at $10 million in 1947. Much of the oil refined in Ohio now comes in by pipeline from the southwest. In gas production Ohio is 10th with a yield worth $15 million in 1947.

About three - quarters of the gas burned in Ohio is imported from other states, with West Virginia contributing the lion's share.

Chamber Suggests Employing Counsel

LOUDONVILLE — The local Chamber of Commerce and Junior Chamber of Commerce last week held a meeting in the school to discuss methods of raising money to employ legal counsel in protesting proposed increased rates of the Northern Ohio Telephone company.

Earlier in the week village officials, here attended a protest meeting in Ashland but the lawyer Ashland employed wouldn't handle the fight on a joint basis including Loudonville. The protest against the proposed phone rate increase must be filed with the Ohio Public Utilities commission by Oct. 23.

Edgar Raby, Chamber president, suggested that if all of the 1,266 phone subscribers in this area would donate the amount of their rate increase proposal enough money would be secured to employ a lawyer. The proposed rate hikes would be from 25 cents to $2.50 per month, depending on type of service.

Ashland set aside $500 for attorney fees and retained Tom Maxson, Columbus lawyer and former PUC secretary, as counsel.

The Ashland and Loudonville Chambers will meet this week to formulate a plan whereby this village can secure needed legal assistance in waging the fight against the proposed phone rate increases.

Thompson and who resides on Sloan avenue in Ashland, represented his unit, Company H, 35th Infantry Regiment, 25th Division, in the pistol matches during the third annual Far East Command small arms tournament at Camp Drake, command post of the First Cavalry Division in Tokyo, Japan. Lt. Thompson served in the Pacific Theater during World War II, participating in the New Georgia and Philippine liberation campaigns. He wears the Bronze Star medal and the Purple Heart. Thompson has been shooting since 1940 and last summer participated in the 25th Division invitational matches at Shinodayama, Osaka, Japan.

It's Sure Sign War's Over

Juvenile Warriors Become Cowboys

NEW YORK — (AP) — Rest easy. The war is really over now, and the kids are back home on the range.

The American cowboy has made a sensational comeback in the minds of the younger set, which evidently is convinced there's no fight left in the Germans or Japs or even all the unseen enemies on the other planets.

Sales of cowboy equipment for the 4-12 age group are zooming. They're 25 per cent higher than before the war, reports the boy manufacturers of the U.S.A. Co-incidentally, traffic in Indian wear is up 15 per cent.

The trend, says the trade association, is away from the toy bazookas and machine guns which knocked over Hitler and Hirohito, the exterminator and ray guns for interplanetary strife and even the atomic pistols with fission indicators."

For both offense and defense, young men of distinction are returning to the good old-fashioned six-shooter.

About 12,000,000 boys now have some form of cowboy equipment, the association estimates. Also, the followers of the purple sage show a growing equality of the sexes. Sale of cowgirl equipment is up 10 per cent. More than 1,000,000 girls now have some.

You can spend as much as $50 to equip one juvenile cowpoke. But if he insists on fine leather or fur — trimmed embroidered chaps. But standard gear goes for about $3 and involves a hat, lariat, chaps, shirt, holster, belt and gun.

That's the basic equipment. But, to be really turned out for attack against [illegible] ders hidden behind the ash cans, the arms manual demands at least two guns.

This broad trend is reassuring to Dr. Esther Lloyd-Jones, child psychologist, and Dr. Emma D. Sheehy, assistant professor of education at Teachers college, Columbia university.

"Very constructive," says Dr. Lloyd-Jones. "The cowboy stereotype is more acceptable in our national folklore and yet permits youngsters to swagger and play roles outside themselves. They can feel more aggressive and less defenseless."

"It gives them a sense of power over their environment," says Dr. Sheehy, who has observed many thousands of children at play.

Banking Hour Changes Due Nov. 1 In Galion

GALION — Effective Nov. 1, Galion financial institutions will have a change in hours.

The banks will close every afternoon at 2:30 o'clock except Wednesday when they will close at noon. The banks now will be open on Saturday until 2:30 o'clock. Prior to the change, the banks had been closing on Saturday noon and at 3 p. m. each day.

9 Loudonville Cubs Graduate To Scouts

LOUDONVILLE — Scoutmaster John Solomon last week welcomed nine Cub Scouts into the local Boy Scout troop on their graduation into the older division. Mrs. Dick Painter was appointed Cub Scout den mother.

Floyd Dent and Hank Day, Mansfielders, spoke at the monthly pack meeting with fire safety the month's Cub Scout theme. November's theme will be "Be Strong." More than 100 Cub Scouts and their parents attended the meeting.

...oweeners Ask European Relief Items

MILLERSBURG — Traditional Halloween eve cries of "Tricks for Treats" will be replaced here Wednesday evening with childish cries of 'Tricks for Relief". The new kind of party is being sponsored by the intermediate young people of the Presbyterian church as collections will be sought for European relief.

The intermediates are students in Grades 6, 7 and 8. Officers of the group are Marjean Mast, Miriam Raymond, Nancy Plant and Margaret Mast.

The All Saints party is open to anyone who wishes to attend. It begins at 7 p. m. with all material collected being handled through Church World Service the Protestant agency for European relief.

Clothes, shoes and soap are the main items of need at the present time. Local citizens who would like to give the young "Saints" a donation may call the church office to assure a visit to their home Wednesday evening.

MASQUERADE PLANNED

MILLERSBURG — (AP) A Halloween masquerade party for young married folks of the Benton Lutheran church will be held in the church basement on Saturday evening, it was announced yesterday by Rev. K. R. Roberts, pastor.

Crestline Host On Nov. 6 To Lutheran Choir Festival

CRESTLINE — The annual choir festival of the United Lutheran churches of this vicinity will be held here Nov. 6, in the high school auditorium with the First English Lutheran church as host.

Rev. S. A. Metzger pastor of the church, and its choir director, Mrs. Gregg Pennington, extended the invitation to the group at the festival held in Shelby last year.

As has been the custom each choir will sing one or two individual numbers and will sing the following massed numbers, "O Clap Your Hands", "O Morn of Beauty", "Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Light," and "Now the Day is Over."

Prof. E. E. Snyder of Capital university, will be the critic and guest conductor of the massed numbers.

A rehearsal for the massed numbers will precede the program and a social hour will conclude the evening.

Choirs expected to participate in the festival are from Upper Sandusky, Nevada, Bucyrus, Mansfield, Galion, Leesville, Plymouth, Shelby and Crestline.

Rural School Bus Drivers Honored

LOUDONVILLE — Lapel buttons awards and certificates have been given all rural school bus drivers in this area by the National Safety council. The button states the drivers are better than average drivers for the 1948-49 school year.

Nine bus operators received the buttons and certificates. They include Russell Adams, Arthur Fritz, Ralph Griffen, Earl Mutchler, Carl Otte, Earl Sharpe, Coulter Vanscoeur, W. F. weaver and H. A. Zimmerer.

Meeting, Fete Listed

MILLERSBURG — The congregation of the First Presbyterian church will meet at the church for a covered dish dinner Thursday evening. A special meeting will follow.

Judge Elmo M. Estill, moderator, will be in charge. Charles Marr, New Philadelphia, architect, will present the program.

Picker Hard On 'Punkins'

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The pumpkin growing next to the cornstalk is the latest victim of the mechanical age.

For many years farmers have planted pumpkin seed with their corn, raising an abundance of both. That was before the mechanical corn picker entered the picture.

Farmers now say the two just don't mix. Pumpkins growing in corn fields either are smashed by the pickers or they clog up the machinery.

Dr. Evan K. Alban of the vegetable crops division of Ohio State university's department of horticulture has noted the change. But he says there is a good demand for pumpkin — canned pumpkin, that is.

"The Housewife doesn't like to remove the fibers from fresh pumpkin and prepare it herself," he says. "She would rather get her pumpkin in a can.

"Around this part of Ohi, the demand for fresh pumpkin is seasonal — around Halloween when figures are carved from them."

Pumpkin is just as popular as it ever was on the table, he says. Some farmers plant pumpkin patches, selling their crop to canning factories. In recent years, he added, the price paid per ton has fallen.

Pumpkin formerly was canned in Fayette county and the immediate vicinity. But since farmers have ceased growing pumpkins in their corn fields, the factories have been without a supply.

Congress To Combine Money Bills

Senator Byrd Backs Measure

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia, who might be excused for having some doubts, thinks Congress is going to save money next year by putting all its appropriations eggs in one basket.

Byrd, who broke with the late President Roosevelt when FDR shifted gears from economy to spending six months after he first took office, has been trying to get Congress to cut down government outlays in every peacetime year since.

Now he thinks he and those who go along with him have a chance to whittle spending through the consolidation of all money bills into one measure.

That will mean that about 19 big money bills, previously handled one at a time by Congress, will be bundled into a measure that will rival in size, if not complexity, the big tariff bills over which Congress used to argue so long, before it gave up and passed the tariff juggling powers to the president.

The senate already has approved unanimously a bill by Byrd to set up the new system. While the House may not act on it officially, Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the House appropriations committee already has announced that the method will be followed by his committee.

To Byrd this means that a budget which may run around $44,000,000,000 for the year beginning next July 1 will be spread out in intelligible form for the first time when members of the Senate and House are called upon to vote upon it.

If the formula is followed, accompanying this bill will be an official treasury estimate on how much money Uncle Sam expects to take in during the same period. Cannon said that by April 15, when the House would be expected to get the big bill, the treasury ought to be able to make "an authoritative forecast" on income.

It has been difficult for Byrd to get over to the public the fact that the President's budget is based on how much money he expects actually will be paid out of the treasury in the coming year.

In the past, Congress has voted on appropriations bills without much attention to the actual expenditures involved for the coming year. Congress often appropriates money that isn't paid out until a couple of years later. It authorizes contract making that turns up as expenditures at even longer periods in the future.

Byrd's plan is to have all of this information laid out in a table. Then, when Congress appropriates money for warplanes, for instance, it will know how long it will take to spend that money.

"This is the only way that the average senator or House member can get even an idea of what congress is doing in fiscal matters," the Virginia senator said.

Doctor Advises Observance of 10 Modern Commandments To Grow Old Gracefully

NEW YORK — (AP) — Ten commandments for a person to grow old gracefully, as listed by Dr. Herman Seidel of Baltimore:

He should continue to work at his vocation and retain his accustomed position in society as long as possible.

Avoid sedentary habits and inactivity, continue with whatever open air activities or hobbies he may be accustomed to; if he has none he should acquire some.

Engage in systematic daily exercises, designed to prevent or overcome physical deformities; these should include the practice of deep breathing.

Make full use of helpful gadgets such as hearing aids, eyeglasses and dentures.

Keep face and body free from unsightly blemishes.

Always maintain self-respect and dignity, be jealous of his appearance, dress neatly, and retain good manners.

Continue contact with buddies and lifetime friends, and learn to make new ones.

Follow good body hygiene and sanitation; eat sensibly— a well-balanced diet of nourishing food.

Seek medical advice at frequent intervals, and carry out in full the advice given.

Above all avoid despair and an outlook of futility, and "Fear God and keep his commandments, for this is all that is required of a man."

Dr. Seidel, chief of medicine, Hebrew Home for the Aged and Infirm, Baltimore, is author of one chapter in a new book, rehabilitation of the handicapped (Ronald Press) edited by William H. Soden.

One reason for a more cheerful outlook for older people is that the nation has so many of them, and will have even more in the future. This fact is compelling research into the changes and processes of aging, and how to help people age more gracefully, he says.

"It is inaction that is harmful to the aging person and not action," Dr. Seidel writes.

When old people develop bad manners or habits, it isn't necessary to think these are due to physical or mental changes, he adds.

"The ill manners and bad behavior of the aged person may very well be explained on the basis of a defiant attitude that the aged person may assume. He resents being left out from the social or economic activities in which he played his role for many years of his life. He resents the segregation to which he is subjected.

"He resents even the overflowing kindnesses showered upon him, the commiseration and undue sympathy extended to him. Thus he assumes an attitude of futility and hopelessness. He transfers that attitude even to his outward appearance and in that way he gets caught in a vicious circle. The treatment accorded the aged makes him defiant and spurs him to acts that make him even less desirable."

Dr. Seidel recommends light exercises to keep muscles strong, to limber up joints, and prevent other muscles from bending the body forward.

Deep breathing can prevent shrinkage of the lungs and flattening or caving in of the chest. Hearing aids and care of the eyes and teeth can prevent other handicaps.

"Vigilance is the price of good health as well as phycical liberty. The aging person will do himself a great deal of good if he will remain on the alert for any defects and institute proper treatment as soon as they make their appearance."

Crestline Lions Club Sponsors Nov. 1 Mardi Gras

2 Parades Highlight 1949 Event

Alfred Bollerer General Chairman

CRESTLINE—The Lions club, sponsors for Crestline's Mardi Gras this year, have announced the affair will be held Tuesday evening, Nov. 1.

The children's parade is scheduled for 4 p. m. and the adult parade at 8 p. m. Alfred Bollerer is general chairman.

Robert Tracht will be chairman for the iddies parade; Robert Capell chairman of concessions; Richard Ditwiler, chairman of bands, Ralph Taylor chairman of drawings, track chairman of publicity and prizes.

The Lions club has financial backing of Crestline merchants for the affair.

A special meeting of the Lions club committees has been called Tuesday evening to arrange for the judges and complete other plans such as prizes for floats for the parade, for unorganized bands and other groups.

Nominates 19 Judges

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman Saturday nominated 19 new federal judges, including Gov. William H. Hastie of the Virgin Islands to be judge of the Third Circuit Court of Appeals.

Hastie is the first Negro to be named to the federal circuit bench.

The third circuit embraces New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and the Virgin Islands.

The list of nominees also includes the name of John F. X. McGohey, U. S. District attorney who successfully prosecuted the 11 communist party leaders convicted Friday, to be judge of the southern district of New York.

The nominations are for 15 of the 22 new positions remaining out of the 27 created under recent law. Four are to fill vacancies.

Generator Due Before Shelby Plant Readied

SHELBY — Shipment of the 5,000 kilowatt turbine-generator for the local municipal light and power plant is promised in February. Utilities Manager F. P. Adkins reports prospect for completion of the building to house the new unit appears unlikely by that time.

Specifications for expansion and remodeling the South Broadway plant to house the new equipment will not be ready for three weeks. Advertising for bids on the construction will be made after the specifications arrive from the Toledo engineering firm.

Bids will be received Nov. 29 by the city for modification of switch gear and motor control equipment in anticipation of the new generator. Installation of the generator is part of the municipal plant expansion program that last year saw the third boiler go into operation.

Huller Still Works

DES MOINES, Iowa — (AP) — A clover huller, 51 years old, was in operation this summer on the Jake See farm three miles north of Amana, Iowa.

The machine is owned by Frank Delane, of Norway, Iowa. It was bought by his father in 1898. It has been used practically every year since.

Fall Lambs Arrive At Farm Near Lucas

By VIRGINIA LEE
N-J State Correspondent

LUCAS — Spring or fall, there are baby lambs on the J. G. Woods farm near here.

Five lambs, including two pair of twins and a single, have made their appearance there in the past three weeks and more are expected momentarily in the flock of Corriedales that are the pride, and much of the revenue, of the farm.

"You gain about a half year by having fall lambs," Woods pointed out. "Lambs from my registered stock will be ready for breeding next fall, while those from the grades can be fattened in time for the best markets around Easter."

He does not, however, breed the same ewes twice yearly. All the lambs in his current flock belong to yearling ewes.

The new arrivals that weighed around nine pounds when they were born about doubled their weight in two weeks. The mother of one of the pairs of twins weighs 180 pounds and was one of the ewes that produced 18 pounds of wool last spring. The other mothers fall a little short of the record, Woods said.

The ram that sired the lambs is the son of Walker-Donley's $3,000 ram.

"Most sheep authorities recognize Dorsett horned ewes as famous among approved mutton breeds for the production of 'hot house' (early) lambs but Corriedale enthusiasts have long contended, and proved, that this breed is hard to excell in any respect," Woods went on.

The Corriedale breed was developed in New Zealand about 1866 by crossing Lincoln rams and Merino ewes. Lincolns have abundant coarse wool while Merinos carry fleeces of fine, high quality wool. The resultant Corriedales are heralded as ideal dual-purpose sheep that produce thick, medium grade wool and quality meat.

Woods says he has had little difficulty in breeding fall lambs. He began the practice to win a bet from a GI buddy.

'Maybe it is just a native characteristic," he opined, "after all our seasons are just opposite to those of New Zealand where the breed originated."

In an effort to be of service to the prospective home builder, we have compiled the following authoritative answers to questions most frequently asked about concrete masonry and pumice block home construction.

Q. What type of window sash should be used in pumice block buildings?

A. Any type desired . . . wood, steel or aluminum. Metal is usually preferred, however, because of its permanence and low installation costs. Whenever possible the dimensions of the sash should be in multiples of 8" in order to avoid the necessity of cutting the blocks.

Q. How are electrical conduits installed?

A. Simply run the conduits down through the cores of the blocks after walls and partitions are laid. Outlets are installed by cutting a hole in the blocks with a cold chisel and inserting the box.

Q. Is workmanship important?

A. The importance of good workmanship cannot be over-emphasized. Whenever possible, secure the services of a reliable and experienced mason or masonry contractor, for his knowledge and "know-how" will assure lasting satisfaction.

All our concrete products are steam cured and tested daily in our laboratories, consequently they are state certified.

Famed Educator Still Working Hard At 90

NEW YORK —(AP)— John Dewey, father of progressive education, celebrates his 90th birthday anniversary Oct. 20 and figures he is going to live to a ripe old age.

The great philosopher, teacher and psychologist, whose thought has had great influence on modern education said, in an interview in his apartment overlooking central park, that he was deeply moved by the preparation being made all over the country to celebrate the event.

Then, with a twinkle in his eye, he added: "In Siberia there are men and women who live to be well over 120 years of age. Why, recently, one fellow, about 125 years old, asked reporters not to mention his age because he was going to get married again. If they can live that long, why can't I?"

Currently, Dr. Dewey is at work on a new introduction to his "Experience and Nature", which is about to be republished. In addition, new translations of his works are being readied for Italy and Japan.

Alert and deeply interested in the world about him, indulgent of the foibles of mankind so long as they do not seem to him to involve fatal consequences, Dr. Dewey feels that "people need to realize that while there is so much cause for depressions and fear at the present time, to give way to it is equivalent to losing faith in one's fellow-men.

"No matter what may be the results of the atomic bomb and other scientific advances, above all," he said, "we must not lose faith in our fellowmen."

Speaking of the "new education," he fathered, Dr. Dewey asserted that despite the distortions and enthusiasms of misguided teachers, it can do much to prepare a child for life in an industrial society.

IDEAS SPREAD

"It has taken about fifty years for my methods to permeate our school systems, but then that is about what it takes for any idea to get around our schools," he says.

Dewey was born at Burlington, Vermont, Oct. 20, 1859, the son of a local farmer turned grocer. After graduation from the University of Vermont, he went on to receive his PHD at the Johns Hopkins university. He taught philosophy at the universities of Minnesota, Michigan, Chicago and Columbia.

At Chicago, where he was director of the school of education, he put his philosophical ideas to work.

Of medium height and typically New England in appearance, Dr. Dewey's thin, almost ascetic-looking face broke into a smile as he recalled his own school days.

"School was a pretty deadly place whe I attended. We were forced to learn a given number of pages of text and recite them orally the next day. What we learned had no relation to the world we lived in.

"Discipline was then the key to education. A discipline inflicted with a rawhide or a ruler.

"I remember how glad we were when vacation time rolled around. We would sing: 'Goodbye school, goodbye teacher, damned old fool!' "

"When I began to teach the time was more than ripe for a change. At the university elementary school, I tried out a new type of education, one that would educate children for the vocational and cultural world they would live in. My pupils were going to do the things they would have to do later on in life.

"When I was planning the school, I went to a supply house and described my needs. 'Why, Mr. Dewey,' exclaimed the supplier, 'I see you want your pupils to have places to work at, not to study at!'

"And that is exactly what I wanted. I wanted their activity to be practical and fruitful."

PROBLEM SOLVED

In essence, explains Dewey, he sought to set problems for his pupils to solve. Or, if they accepted the solutions of others, they were to go over the grounds to see how the conclusions were arrived at. Under his methods, pupils share with the teacher in proposing, planning, executing and judging results.

Dr. Dewey's ideas have received world wide attention. He has visited Japan, China, Turkey, Mexico and Russia as advisor and consultant. Russia adopted his methods literally until the communists decided they did not conform to their ideology.

As a philosopher, John Dewey is listed as a pragmatist, a school of thought which believes an idea must be judged by how it works rather than by how it looks or sounds.

Karen and Jimmy McConnell and Sally and Buddy Huber liked the idea of going with their mothers, Mrs. James McConnell and Mrs. Henry Huber, members of the Pleasant Valley Garden club, to hunt for corn, pumpkins and leaves to be used as decorations at the Community Fund kickoff breakfast tomorrow morning.

District of Federation To Convene

Of interest to seven Mansfield clubs is the meeting of the middle north district of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs to be held Wednesday in Sandusky. Sessions will take place in the Trinity Methodist church, 504 Wayne avenue, with the Sandusky Federation of Women's Clubs as hostess for the fall conference.

Mansfield clubs affiliated with the state federation are The Round Table, Mansfield Civic Club, Conversational, Mansfield Sorosis, Beta chapter, Sorosis, Victorian and The Tourist.

Mrs. Eugene D. Merkel of Wooster, president of the district, has arranged the day's program which includes an address on 'Women in Action," by Mrs. J. Burlin Johnson, Dayton, president of the state organization.

Registration for junior and senior clubs will begin at 9 a. m. The morning session includes a departmental forum with state and district chairmen presenting the new projects for the year. Mrs. Walter V. Magee of Lakewood, dean of departments in the state federation, will serve as moderator.

A member of the state nominating committee from the district will be elected at the morning session.

Society Takes Backseat For Campaign

Mansfield women from all walks of life are concentrating their efforts on the 1949 Community chest campaign which will start tomorrow morning with a kick-off breakfast in the ballroom of the Mansfield Leland hotel.

Social life for these 91 women will be shoved in the background for the next week as in reaching the goal of $141,663.

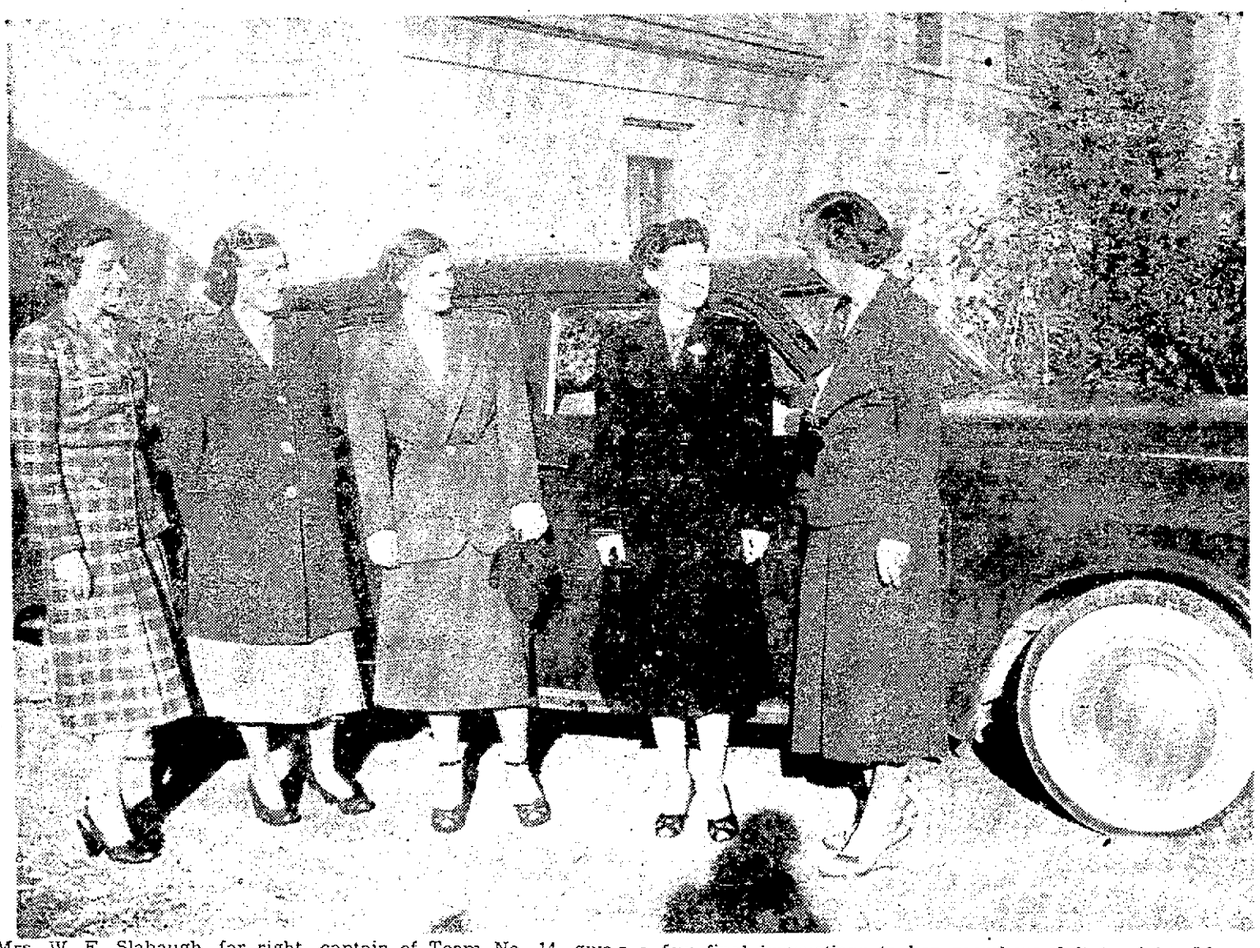
For the 5th consecutive year the Brandenburg Chevrolet company will sponsor the kick-off meeting. Responsibility for the campaign rests on the shoulders of James M. McConnell, the youngest campaign chairman in the Chest's history. More than 300 men and women are expected tomorrow at 8 a. m.

Members of the Pleasant Valley Garden Club have arranged seasonal and attractive decorations for the table. Included on this committee are Mrs. Karl Johnson, Mrs. Robert Kuhn, Mrs. McConnell, Mrs. Huber, Mrs. Fichter and Mrs. Ripper.

Mrs. Ralph Z. Sorenson and Mrs. Charles Guy, co-chairmen of the general division, man one of the most important posts in the annual campaign with 91 workers and a quota of $11,500. Neither, however, is new to the work. Mrs. Guy has worked in the Chest drives for nine years, most of the time as team captain. Mrs. Sorenson has six years to her credit in Mansfield and many more in her former city of Evanston, Ill. She also serves as glasses chairman for the Richland County Junior Red Cross. The two chairmen who are wives of Westinghouse men, recruited 21 teams for the current drive.

Working on Advance Gifts division for the Community Chest campaign are Mrs. Joy Herbert, Commissioner of the Girl Scouts, Miss Agnes Kessler, general secretary of the YWCA, and Mrs. George Kirtley, member of the Girl Scout Council. Agencies of the Chest are taking a keen interest in the campaign this year, with every one doing his share. Mrs. Herbert and Mrs. Kirtley have worked on the Red Feather campaigns for many years, but this is Miss Kessler's "christening" into the work here, as she came to Mansfield only last fall.

Mrs. Howard Ripper and Mrs. Robert Fichter of the Pleasant Valley Garden club took their babies out this past week on one of their hunts for autumn decorations for the Community Fund breakfast. Mrs. Ripper holds Robin Sue and with Mrs. Fichter are Carol Ripper, and her own two youngsters, Jimmy and Michael.



Mrs. W. E. Slabaugh, far right, captain of Team No. 14, gives a few final instructions to her members, left to right, Mrs. Tom Mowry, Mrs. John L. Catlett, Mrs. Franklin Ackerman and Mrs. H. L. Mahoney. Not present for the picture, but included in this team is Mrs. C. G. A. Johnson. More than 50 years of service in Community Chest campaigns is represented by this team. Mrs. Slabaugh has worked for the 12 years she has been in Mansfield, three of these as team captain. Added to these are the years her husband "Watty" has served as general chairman of the campaign, and now as president of the Chest. Mrs. Catlett has worked for 10 years, first on commercial divisions, and now on the general division. Having two small children does not keep Mrs. Johnson from making her contributions. She has lived here three years and worked in three campaigns. Mrs. Mowry, a native of this city, has worked the least here, due to living out of this city most of her married life. Mrs. Ackerman has been a solicitor for more than 10 years, working wherever needed. Mrs. Mahoney, a resident here for two years, has two campaigns to her credit.

Miss Mary O'Donnell and Mrs. Bessie Wagner, members of the National Secretaries' club, do their bit in soliciting for the Community Chest. They are shown above signing Mrs. Mae Miller, beauty operator. Ten members of the Secretaries will solicit local beauty shops. This is Miss O'Donnell's first year at this work and Mrs. Wagner has helped in various capacities.

3 Nations Ease Curbs On Imports

Action Rated As 'Unity' Bid

By SIGRID ARNE

WASHINGTON — (AP) — British, French and Italians have just taken the first real step toward a "United States of Europe".

It is a dry-as-dust trade step. The three governments have agreed their people can buy more of what the other Europeans sell. Other European nations are expected to follow.

This agreement hasn't any of the fine dramatics that surrounded the meeting of our colonies at Philadelphia when the constitution was written. But some of our European experts in Marshall plan headquarters think the step is as important as some of the first steps the colonies took.

Here's what happened, and the background:

First, you need to understand how European governments kept out goods from other nations.

They use the tariff little. That is the way we keep foreign goods out. We charge a fee for its entry into this country. That fee sends up the price, and makes it more difficult for foreign goods to sell here.

Europe uses the "import quota".

Through it European governments say how much of anything their people can import: How much Italian silk the British can buy, how much Belgian steel the French can buy, and so on. In each case the import quota protects domestic manufacturers, just as our tariff does.

PRICES HIGHER

The result of either system is that prices are higher because there is less competition. Most importantly, the consumer—you and I— can afford to buy less, and we have less to enjoy. There is, of course, the other side of the picture, emphasized by tariff advocates: domestic industry is protected from cheaper foreign goods, and domestic workmen are not in such danger of losing jobs, because of loss of sales.

But the U. S. drive, in the Marshall plan, is to put more comfort into common European homes, so there is less chance for communism. Our Marshall planners have urged European governments for a year to make it easier for Europeans to buy from the whole continent, just as we buy from all the 48 states of our union.

Paul Hoffman, director of the economic cooperation administration (ECA), says, "Europe has got to achieve a broad consumers' market so that European industry can take advantage of large-scale, low-cost production. This means that Europe must, in its own interest, achieve a single market of 275 million consumers, for whom European industry and farms can produce, and to whom they can sell freely."

This is what Britain, France and Italy have just tried. They increased the amount of goods their people can buy from other European nations by cutting down the import quotas. It is merely a first step in solving Europe's trade problems, ECA people say, but it is a "hopeful first step."

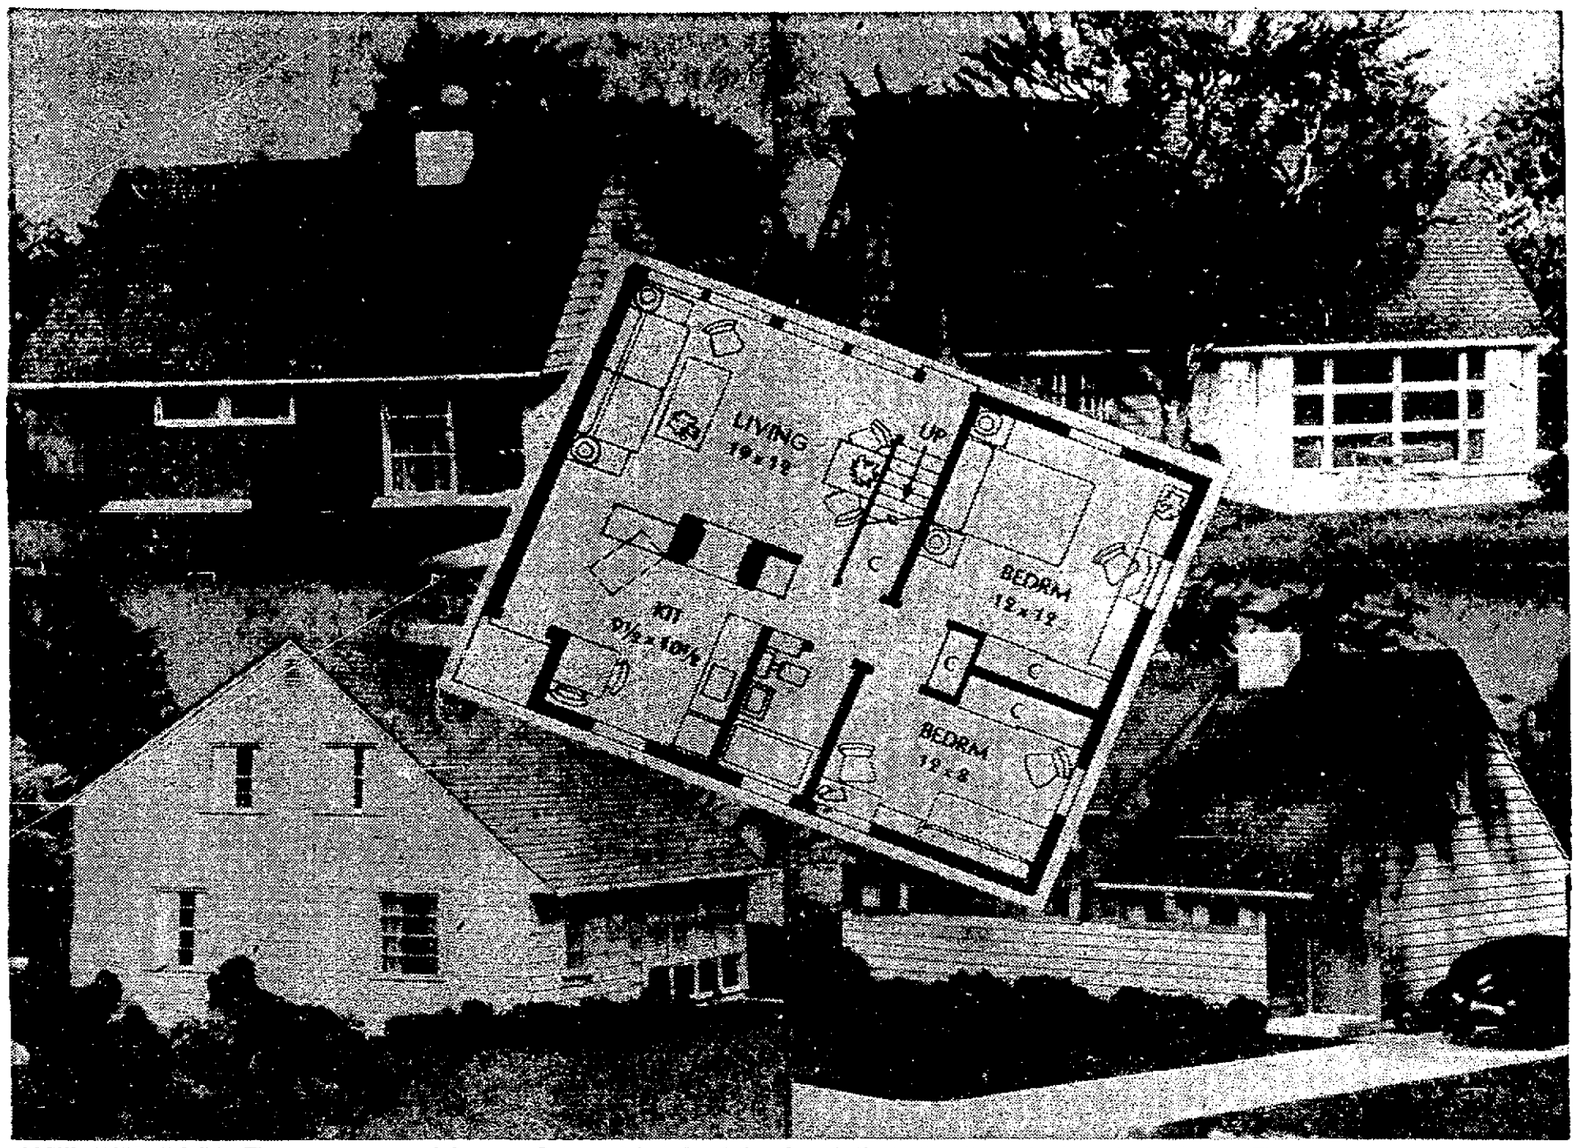
It means that British, French and Italian manufacturers will have to compete with goods from other nations. They may be forced to greater efficiency and to cut prices.

Owner Loses Private War

INDORE, Central India — (AP) — Thakur Narwar Singh, Jagirdar (landlord) of Jhaknawada, recently tried the methods of his ancestors to regain his estates, but within 12 hours learned he was two centuries behind the times.

When the Madhyabharat princely union was formed in Central India, the Thakur was one of those who had to surrender their 200-year-old states and estates in return for compensation. He did it with a vigorous demur and went underground to evade orders of arrest.

When he reappeared, it was with a band of 200 fighting men armed with bows and arrows and some home-made guns. He "stormed" his ancestral fortress and occupied it. But he found the government much too quick for him. Before nightfall his "forces" had "surrendered" and the Thakur had fled. The warrant for his arrest was renewed on fresh charges, but he still is at large.



COSTS HELD DOWN—The answer to minimum-cost homes for families who need a two-bedroom house can be found in these two home plans, designed by Levitt & Sons, spectacular Long Island builders. There are $50,000 worth of ideas in these plans—that is the amount that Levitts spent building the pilot model. The New York firm can build these homes for $7,990. Obviously, a home-builder could not expect a custom-built house of the same design for this price. But careful study of the plans indicate that it can be custom-built for less than practically any other home of equal size. Both of these plans are the same except for the exterior. The floor plans are the same. The homes are a modification of the traditional Cape Cod design. The most important single change is the shift of the front entrance from the center of the house to one corner of the house. This puts the living room in the rear and brings the kitchen up front. Sewer and water pipes run out to the street without crossing beneath the house. The second floor attic can be two bedrooms later when time comes for expansion. Dollar-saving features include: use of plasterboard, instead of plaster; each room is planned on a multiple of four feet, standard length of plaster board; and the house is built on a concrete slab, without basement, cutting excavation costs. Radiant heating embedded in the concrete can be installed. These are plans No. 1908A and 1908B designed for Better Homes & Gardens magazine.

Modern Heating Systems Fit Varied Needs, Preferences

There is no one best heating system or fuel for every type of home. Choice depends largely upon size of the house, local fuel costs, and the owner's preference. Consultation with a heating contractor is recommended to determine which type of fuel and heating system is best in a specific house.

Equipment should be installed that is specifically designed for the fuel chosen. No matter what type of fuel is used, a good flue is essential. The chimney should be located as near the center of the house as possible and the furnace placed nearby to avoid wasting heat.

The house should be made as easy to heat as possible, which means storm sash, elimination of all heat-leaking cracks by caulking and weatherstripping, and complete insulation.

The three principally-used types of heating systems are warm air, hot water and steam.

A gravity warm air system is the most economical to install, is best adapted to a house with compact plan, but since the furnace must be installed below the level of the rooms to be heated, gravity warm air is not suited to the basementless house.

Cool air, being heavier, flows from the rooms through return air ducts to the furnace casing where the air is heated and then rises of its own accord through ducts and registers into the rooms to be heated. No air filter can be used.

In a forced warm air system, positive circulation is maintained by a fan or blower. This draws the cool air through return ducts and an air filter, then delivers it under pressure into the space between the furnace and casing where it is heated and is then forced through warm air ducts to room registers.

The registers can be located in the ceiling, high or low in side walls or flush with floors. Since air circulation is maintained by a blower, this is the type of warm air heat recommended for basementless houses.

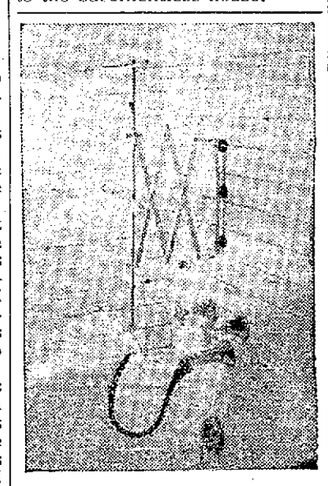
Both gravity and forced warm air systems are quick to respond to changes in heating demand. The amount of heat can be increased almost immediately by heavier firing without long waits for water to heat or steam to form.

HOT WATER, STEAM

Hot water and steam systems are preferred by many home owners because of their cleanliness and more even heat. Like warm air, these are divided into gravity and forced types. They cost more to install than warm air.

The gravity type is not suited to a basementless house, but forced hot water systems, which cost more than gravity, are widely used to heat such houses by pipes embedded in the concrete slab. This is called panel heating.

Neither one-pipe nor two-pipe steam systems are suitable for basementless houses. The one-pipe system cannot be modulated; steam must be all-on or all-off; but temperatures can be controlled with the two-pipe system at the boiler and at the radiators. Steam is most generally used in larger residences.



HANDY GADGET—Convenient for the home not equipped with a shower is this portable outfit. Suction cups hold the bracket to the wall, and the water connection is made with a hose attached to the tub faucet.

Gets Barn Painted By Making Job Fun

DES MOINES, IOWA — (AP) — Homer Peters, who farms northeast of Alta, Iowa, got his barn painted.

To make the job interesting for his two sons, Bruce and Dean, Peters fashioned a scaffolding by using his hydraulic-lift manure loader. He fastened a plank to the bucket end of the loader.

With the loader raised, the boys could stand on the plank and easily paint under the eaves. As they progressed downward, they could lower the lift. Also, the boys had the fun of getting to move the tractor when a panel of the wall was completed.

Family Occupies Farm 109 Years

DES MOINES, Iowa — (AP) — The Auer family has lived on the same farm near Garnavillo, Iowa, 109 years. The Auer farm of 240 acres is said to be one of the richest farming areas in Iowa.

In 1840, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Auer left Germany and emigrated to America in a sailing vessel. Their son, Frank, Jr., took over operation of the farm at the age of 16. He died in 1925 and his sons, John and Oscar, have since operated it. The brothers have raised purebred Brown Swiss cattle. They bring high prices and some have been shipped to Cuba and South America.

FLAVOR PRESERVED

WASHINGTON — (AP) — More flavor for canned fruit is foreseen by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Research on the apple crop has brought a new method to preserve flavor, says Dr. G. E. Hilbert. Gases from the first boiling of the fruit were preserved, condensed and returned to the final product.

Sure, you'd rather not see a helpless old lady.
...or a little girl with steel braces on her legs.
...or a 16-year-old boy being taken off to jail.
...or a child crying because Daddy and Mommy hate each other...are breaking up the home.

You could skip over your neighbor's troubles by turning a page. But this is our town and we all live in it together. Here's what you can do to help make it a better town for everybody.

Your contributions to Red Feather funds send out visiting nurses, maintain day nurseries, train the handicapped to become self-reliant, give our boys and girls interesting places to have fun, to build health, to learn the ways of good citizenship.

They do other things, too.

Many people benefit from Red Feather services; but everybody, everybody including your family, profits indirectly from the dollars you give to make this town a better place to live in.

So when a neighbor calls for your Red Feather Pledge this year, give as much as you can, enough to last the whole year.

BUCYRUS COUPLE WED IN LUTHERAN CHURCH

Miss Emma Mae Schott Becomes Bride of Stanley D. Winck In Open Church Ceremony Oct. 9

BUCYRUS — Miss Emma Mae Schott, daughter of Mrs. Lillie Schott, Bucyrus, became the bride of Stanley D. Winck, son of B. F. Winck, Bucyrus, in an open church ceremony solemnized Sunday afternoon in St. Paul's Lutheran church here. The double-ring ceremony was read by Rev. M. P. Paetznick, pastor of the church.

The bride's gown was of slipper satin with a sweetheart neckline. At the low waistline the satin was gathered at the hips of the full skirt flowing into a long train. She wore a crown of seed pearls and ribbon rosettes.

Miss Wanda Rettig of Bucyrus was maid of honor. Best man was Russell Lutz of Mt. Zion. Robert Schott, Elton and Robert Winck and Fred Dicks were ushers.

A reception was held in the church parlors for more than 100 guests. Mrs. James Hern, the Misses Helen Willie, Polly McFarland, Virginia Beattie and Mrs. Martha Vollrath served.

The new Mrs. Winck was graduated this year from Bucyrus High school. Mr. Winck, who is a 1946 graduate of nearby Mt. Zion school, is associated in farming.

The newlyweds will live on a farm on Route 30-N, west of here following their return from a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada.

Naomi Chapter Holds Celebration

GALION — The 54th anniversary of Naomi chapter, Order of Eastern Star, was observed Oct. 11. Two distinguished guests present for the occasion were Della Dolby of Groveport, Ohio, worthy grand matron, and Ada Kiess, of Bucyrus, deputy grand matron.

Headed by Mrs. Charles Cunningham, worthy matron, the officers of the chapter had charge of a ceremony to commemorate the anniversary.

Mrs. Haag Becomes Bride In California

CRESTLINE — The nuptials of Mrs. Donna Jean Haag, who formerly resided with Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Luce, 319 Columbus street, and Ensign Jack Gordon Hindes, USNR, of Stayton, Oregon, have been announced by Mrs. Haag's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley L. Nolder, 810 North Crestline street.

The wedding took place Oct. 1 in Little Chapel of Roses, Chula Vista, Calif. Rev. T. K. Ferguson solemnized the vows. The bride was given in marriage by Jack M. Lydick.

She chose for her wedding dress, a powder blue lace gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and ballerina skirt. She wore a matching sweetheart hat with a shoulder length veil and silver slippers. Her nosegay bouquet consisted of pink roses, white carnations and bouvardia centered with gardenias.

Miss Margaret Penwarden served as maid of honor in an iridescent grey puckered nylon frock with rose accessories. She carried a nosegay of mixed flowaers. Ensign Roger Aldrick, USN served as best man. Ensign Murray Cook, USN and Ensign Roy McLain, USN, escorted guests to their pews.

Following a wedding trip to Big Bear Lake, near Los Angeles, the couple took up residence at 1486 Sunset Cliffs boulevard, Ocean Beach, Calif. The bridegroom is attached to the Naval Air station in that city.

MRS. MARTIN FUHRER

Miss Bunning Becomes Bride

LEXINGTON — Announcement is being made of the Sept. 3 wedding of Miss Margaret Jean Bunning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bunning, of Lakewood, to Martin F. Fuhrer, son of Mrs. Dan Fuhrer, of Lexington. The nuptials were solemnized in the chapel of the Lakewood Methodist church by Dr. Harold F. Carr.

Music for the double ring service was played by the church organist. Violet Chokreff and Phil Nolte, friends of the couple served as soloists.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white slipper satin gown fashioned with a yoke of lace which dropped slightly over shoulders and was outlined with a wide collar of satin.

She wore a finger tip veil held by a lace tiara and carried a bouquet of white mums and fern centered with two large glamellias.

Mrs. LaDonna Fuhrer was the bride's only attendant in a gown of turquise satin fashioned like the bride's gown. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and ivy.

Daniel Fuhrer was best man for his brother. The ushers, college friends of the couple, were William Sigler and James Shull.

Mrs. Bunning chose for her daughter's wedding a blue outfit with beige accessories. Mrs. Fuhrer wore a brown dress with aqua accessories. They both wore orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom, centered the table.

Mrs. Fuhrer attended Ashland College. The bridegroom, a graduate of Ashland college, is now a student at Ohio State university. The couple now resides at 84 West Lane, Columbus.

Music Society Hears Records

GALION — When members and several guests of the Pro Arte Music society met this week at the home of Mrs. Eugene Drexel, the program of the month, "Symphony," was presented by Mrs. Ted Kirtland, of Crestline.

She gave accounts of the composers of great symphonies and illustrated their works with recordings. One movement of Shubert's "Unfinished Symphony," was presented in piano duet arrangement by Mrs. Kirtland and Mrs. Robert Poole, guest performer. The program was concluded with the singing of rounds and folk songs. In serving refreshments, Mrs. Drexel was assisted by Miss Joan Spaid. Next month, the society meets at the home of the president, Mrs. Carl Freeman.

Semi-Annual Meeting Held; 45th Anniversary Observed

GALION — A book review of "China, Twilight or Dawn," was given by Miss Miriam Sayre for the semi-annual meeting of the Women's Guild at First Reformed church, Wednesday night. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Vincent Shawber. Worship service was in charge of Mrs. R. R. Elliker, and it was presented by Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. A. Denton, Mrs. Burrall Iams, Mrs. Ralph Hollanshead. During the service, Betty Chase and Janet Rensch sang a duet.

A Chinese painting was interpreted by colored slide.

The meeting was closed with a refreshment hour in the church social rooms. Mrs. Fred Hessenauer was chairman.

• • •

An address on Latin America was given by Mrs. J. B. McCarter of Crestline as a feature of the program in observance of the 45th anniversary of the Ladies Guild of First Lutheran church, Tuesday evening. More than 100 members and guests were present, and greeted by Mrs. W. E. Sharrock, president of the guild. Mrs. E. D. Horn was program chairman. Those taking part besides the speaker were Marlene Bender, Ann Elaine Hottenroth, Mrs. Horn, Mrs. William MacAdam, Mrs. Elwood Dinkel, Mrs. Howard Holtshouse, Mrs. B. E. Knisely and Carol Ann Kightlinger. A buffet lunch was served at the close, with Mrs. Sharrock pouring. Decorations on four tables were in keeping with the seasons of the year and were in charge of Mrs. Herbert S. Garnes, Jr., and committee.

Benefit Party Held At School

CRESTLINE — Sixteen tables of cards were in play for the benefit bridge party held by Crestline Woman's Club, Oct. 10, for its opening meeting in the high school cafeteria.

Mrs. E. T. Remy received the high score award for contract bridge, Mrs. W. C. Marquart, auction, Mrs. William Guiss, pinochle, and Mrs. Philip Stentz, rook.

Mrs. L. J. Scanlon and Mrs. Reid Pittenger were co-chairmen for the card games. Mrs. Frank Strauch and Mrs. H. C. Hagan were co-chairmen for the tea which followed the games. A short meeting of the board members was held at the close of the party.

Review of Reviews Has Dinner Meeting

The October meeting of the Review of Review's Club was held last evening at the home of Mrs. M. L. Barnett, 575 Maple street. a covered dish dinner was served at 6:30 at a table attractively decorated with fall decorations.

During the social hour colored movies were shown of summer vacation travel. Mrs. L. C. Couchman was welcomed as a new member. The next meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. J. G. Schnitt, 100 Carpenter road, on Nov. 10.

GARDEN CLUB

LUCAS — Sixteen members and one guest attended the Lucas Community Garden Club meeting Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Emery Culler. Mrs. Russell Kohler was assistant hostess.

Planting signs and superstitions were given in response to roll call before Mrs. Louis Worley presented a paper on that subject. Some of the planting signs, she revealed, have logical explanations and are not actually in the realm of superstitions.

The dining room of the Culler home was decorated with corn and pumpkins, with refreshments in keeping with the Halloween.

Sunday morning waffles or hot cakes will taste specially delicious with this flavorful nectar sauce. Combine 1½ cups apricot whole fruit nectar with ¾ cup honey and a few grains salt. Simmer 15 minutes or until desired consistency.

Miss Luba Petroff Exchanges Vows With Robert M. Geiger

BUCYRUS — The marriage of Miss Luba Petroff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steven Petroff, Bucyrus, to Robert M. Geiger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Geiger, Bucyrus, was solemnized Wednesday in Holy Trinity Catholic church here with the Rev. Fr. Leo L. Reinartz reading the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a white satin gown with a full skirt which swept into a circular train. Her tulle veil was fastened to a Queen Anne's style cap.

Mrs. Charles J. Geiger of Sandusky was matron of honor. Her husband was best man and Ernest Vandel and Richard Kronenberger, both of Bucyrus, were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a buffet style lunch was served in Holy Trinity school auditorium.

The bride is a deputy in the marriage license bureau of Probate court here. She was graduated from Bucyrus High school in 1940. Mr. Geiger served three and one-half years in the Coast Guard during World War II. A graddate of Bucyrus High in 1936, he is associated with his father in Geiger's market here.

The newlyweds are spending a 10-day honeymoon in New York City. They will make their home here.

BUCYRUS — Nearly 300 attended the annual fall ladies' party of the Bucyrus Shrine club held Wednesday night at the Elks' home here. Twenty newly-initiated members served as waiters.

The program included a variety of musical and vaudeville acts. The entire staff of officials of Aladdin temple of the Shrine in Columbus was present, including Potentate Raymond J. Lewis.

When Egypt's Stepped Pyramid was unearthed by archaeologists, they found the tile lining of the pharaoh's burial chambers still in good condition 6,000 years after installation.

Even folks who don't live along the coast can now enjoy scallops—a delicate shellfish. These are being canned in New England in No. 1 flats and No. 1 talls as well as a 7-ounce tin.

Margery Wappner Wed To Mr. Kenerson

A lovely white slipper satin wedding gown which had been worn by Mrs. Floyd Roberts at her wedding, was chosen by her sister, Miss Margery Jane Wappner, when she became the bride of Edward Francis Kenerson of Cleveland.

The couple repeated their vows before a beautifully decorated altar at the St. Paul Lutheran church Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Martin W. Wappner, uncle of the bride, officiated for the double ring open church ceremony. He was assisted by Rev. John G. Gensel.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Wappner, 162 Gibson avenue, and Mr. Kenerson is the son of Mrs. Anna Kenerson, 16508 Euclid avenue, Cleveland.

Preceding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was played by Mrs. Harvey Lisle.

Two altar vases filled with white chrysanthemums, palms, ferns, and two lighted seven branch candelabra formed the pretty background for the rite.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown, fashioned with leg-o-mutton sleeves and a net yoke, trimmed with seed pearls. The bodice was buttoned down the back to the waist line, from where the skirt fell, extending into a long train. Her fingertip length veil, worn virgin style, was held in place with a tiara of orange blossoms.

She carried a white Bible, a gift from the bridegroom, and it was topped with a white orchid and a shower of white ribbons.

Miss Esther Ziegler, a close friend of the bride, wore a light blue satin gown, styled with a narrow bertha collar and fitted bodice, falling into a full skirt. In the back was a large bow, forming a bustle effect. Completing her ensemble were long matching gauntlets.

She carried an arrangement of yellow and rust mums and Talisman roses, tied with light blue ribbon.

Mrs. Wappner wore a taupe crepe dress with dark green accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. Kenerson was attired in a brown crepe dress with dark green accessories and wore a corsage of yellow roses.

William Kenerson of Cleveland served his brother as best man. Ushers were Edward Bullock and Ray Phillips, both of Mansfield, and close friends of the couple, and Eugene Wappner and Karl Wappner, both of Mansfield, and cousins of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for 100 guests. The serving table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. White lighted tapers were also used on the table. Mrs. Cecil Bachelder and Mrs. Miller Halsey poured.

When the couple left for a short trip through northern Ohio the bride wore a beige gaberdine suit with pink blouse and brown accessories. The orchid corsage was taken from her bridal arrangement.

After Oct. 18 the newlyweds will reside at the Euclid avenue address, Cleveland.

The bride is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and has been employed at Scattergoods and Sons, Inc. Mr. Kenerson was graduated from Collingwood high school, Cleveland, and spent five years in the U. S. Army, three years of which was overseas. He is employed at the Lindsay Wire Weaving company, Cleveland.

Guests were present from Cleveland, Tiffin, Newark and Murry, Ky.

Who Will Win Battle of Hemline?

NEW YORK — (INS) — Madame Elsa Schiaparelli may raise eyebrows by raising skirts in her first American collection to 16 inches — or two inches above the accepted hem-length.

In so doing, the grand dame of French fashion says she will "please the American man."

"And," as she coyly points out, "when a man is pleased, an order is placed!"

Jacques Fath, whose collections have been sold in America for two years, appeared surprised when he learned of Schiaparelli's decision.

"Well!" he smiled, "Schiap knows what she is doing. Nevertheless, I shall continue to make my hems 14 inches from the floor."

NEW Colgate-Palmolive-Peet product...
VEL* cuts dishwashing time in half!
Dishes, glassware gleam without wiping!

It's a marVELous miracle—this Vel! A dream in your dishpan that saves up to half your dishwashing time! Wash dishes in Vel suds and rinse . . . no wiping is necessary! Dishes glisten . . . glassware dries sparkling clear! That's because this great, new soapless suds made by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet leaves no soap scum or streaky film; actually cleans dishes cleaner than soap!

Pots and pans get shiny-clean without hard scouring!

Soak pots and pans in Vel suds while you do the other dishes . . . then wash them so clean no hard scouring is needed! Vel does the dirty work . . . cuts grease faster, more completely than soap . . . leaves no dishpan ring to scrub out!

*Vel is the trade-mark of the Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Co.

MILDER TO HANDS than any product made for washing dishes and fine fabrics!

Actual skin tests made by an independent laboratory—name on request—prove that Vel is milder to hands than any leading product made for washing dishes and fine fabrics.

MarVELous for DISHES STOCKINGS · LINGERIE · WOOLENS!

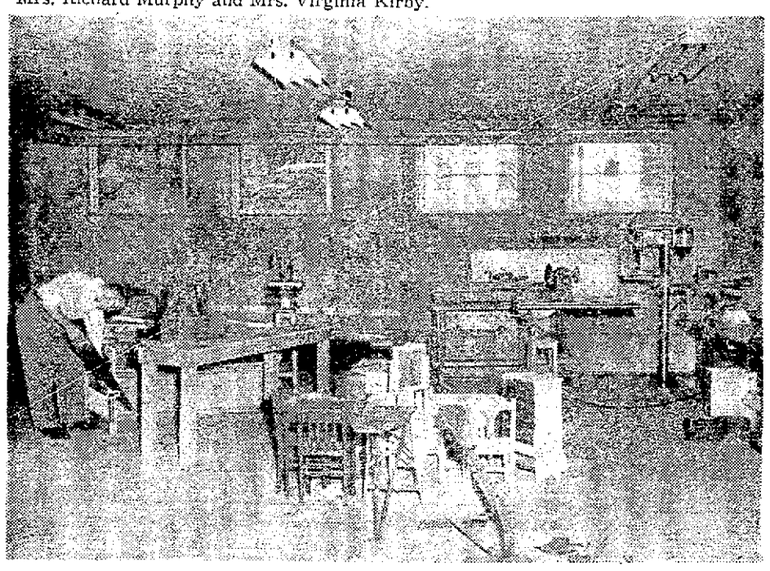
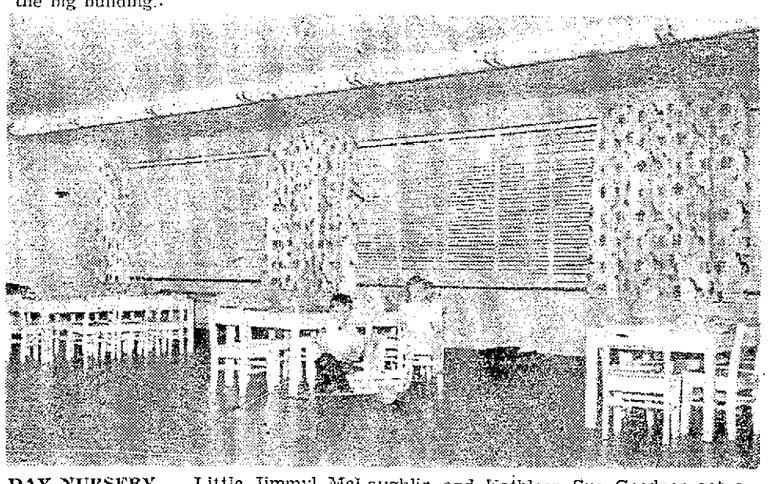
THE BIG GYM — A group of City Recreation players try out the new gymnasium, 50 by 80 feet, facing north. Left to right are Ruby Waters, Mrs. Rachel Brewer, Mrs. Richard Murphy and Mrs. Virginia Kirby.



WOODWORKING SHOP—Russell Gimbel demonstrates use of the complete equipment installed for use of Friendly House boys in the crafts shop, in the basement of the big building.



DAY NURSERY — Little Jimmyl McLaughlin and Kathleen Sue Goodner get a preview of what's going to happen when they enter the new Friendly House nursery on Oct. 29.

FRIENDLY HOUSE — Here is the new $285,000 building, erected through the generosity of Mansfield citizens. The landscaping around the building is the gift of the Buckeye Garden club and includes a smooth, green lawn and shrubbery.

New Friendly House Is 'Castle In Air' Converted to Reality

By NITA BRANSON

Dedication of Mansfield's handsome new settlement building, "Friendly House" Wednesday night at 8 p. m. will mark the culmination of a dream which began, rather nebulously, even before Russell Gimble joined the staff as director in 1933.

It took definite shape in 1937 when he and Mary Gimbel had tentative plans drawn up. It became a reality on Aug. 30, 1948 when the cornerstone was laid, with appropriate ceremonies, on ground on North Mulberry street, donated by Carl Sternbaum in memory of his son, Lt. Jacob Sternbaum killed in World War II.

The history of the new building can be briefly summed up in a few sentences. In December 1946 a campaign to raise $60,000 was launced here with Paul Endriss as chairman. It exceeded its goal by almost $3,000. The remainder of the original $235,000, set as the cost of an adequate building, was to come from the Mansfield manufacturers through the Richland foundation.

However, increasing labor and material costs, boosted the price until by the time the first shovel of earth was turned in the spring of 1948 the contract, let to Simon Small and Sons company, it had reached $285,000. This was for construction only. Into the building has poured cash and equipment gifts amounting to thousands more.

HAS 37 ROOMS

The new building constructed of tan brick, contains 37 rooms. It is complete in every detail, with every piece of equipment and material of the latest educational and coordinating design.

Each room of the building contains equipment attesting to the generosity of Mansfield citizens. Starting at the northwest corner of the building is the cheerful meeting room, which will be equipped with 35 chairs, a piano, tables, bulletin boards and blackboards. Equipment for this room will be the gift of the Mansfield Bricklayer and Mason's Local No. 31. The flower cretonne drapes were a gift of a Mansfield woman.

The library is built with folding leatherette doors and contains a big world glope, gift of the Journey club in memory of Mrs. Jay Palmer. Furniture for the room given by Glenn W. Taylor in tribute to his family.

The big lobby has been furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hedeen, with metal and green leather chairs, tables and several lamps. Other lamps in the lobby with its big fireplace and background of red cedar walls is one of the building's most attractive units.

The control office, where Miss Sarah Elmas will have charge as secretary and receptionist, will include a complete public address system, purchased with earnings of the Friendly House boxing team. Through this PA system, may be heard all programs, games, messages or other communications.

Just off the lobby is a checkroom, something the old Friendly House never had and a powder room for girls, furnished by the 1948-49 publicity, social service and alumni committees of the Women of the Moose.

HAS LARGE CANTEEN

The canteen, 40 by 40 feet has a terrazzi floor, with a 20 by 30 foot stage and at the east side a canteen kitchen completely equipped with Tappan stoves and Westinghouse refrigerators, gifts of the companies. Two garbage disposals in the building, were the gifts of the James Hoffman family. A soda and ice cream bar may be opened between the big auditorium-canteen and the kitchen.

Huge mirrors, installed in the canteen and other rooms the gifts of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company and its employes. The beige back drops and brown velour stage curtains, with all lighting, were given to Friendly House by the Kiwanis club.

The Goodfellows club raised money for the purchase of gym equipment, installed on the 50 by 80-foot floor at the north of the building and just back of the canteen. This club also purchased all the locker equipment for the downstairs locker rooms.

Back of the big gym, is a storage room, where athletic equipment and bleachers may be placed in safe-keeping.

A between-floors health clinic will be furnished with gifts obtained through the redemption of sales tax stamps, engineered by a number of Mansfield doctors and their friends.

This health clinic will be one of the most important units of the new home. Here free physical examinations, including those for teeth, eyes, ears, nose and throat, may be had by all members of the Friendly House families.

In addition there will be a baby clinic and educational classes in pre-natal care. This service will be offered to Friendly House families through the cooperation of Mansfield doctors dentists and health department officials.

CHINESE ROOM GAY

The gay Chinese room on the second floor will be reserved for use of staff and volunteer members. It has been equipped with green and blond furniture in Chinese motif by the Montgomery Ward company.

Other rooms on the second floor include living quarters for the nursery teacher, Antioch College cooperative students, who will take turns working on

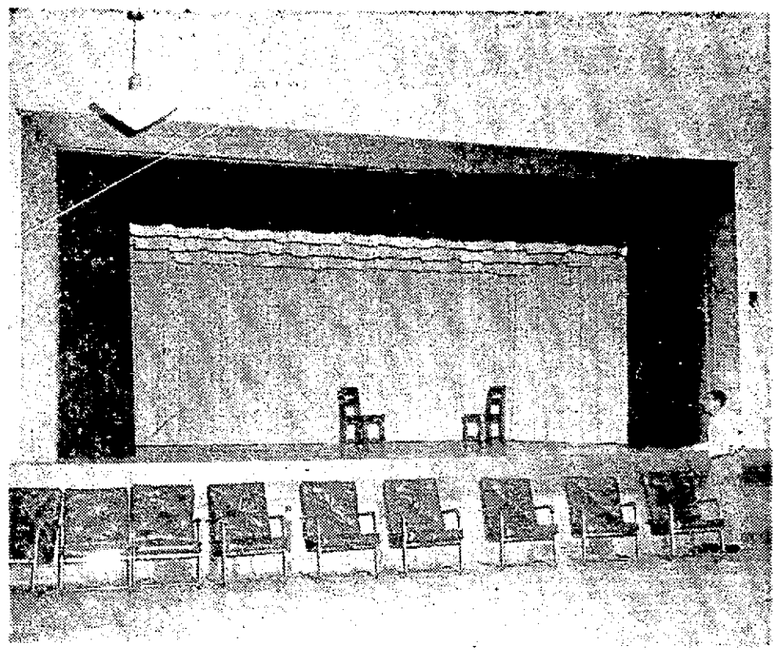
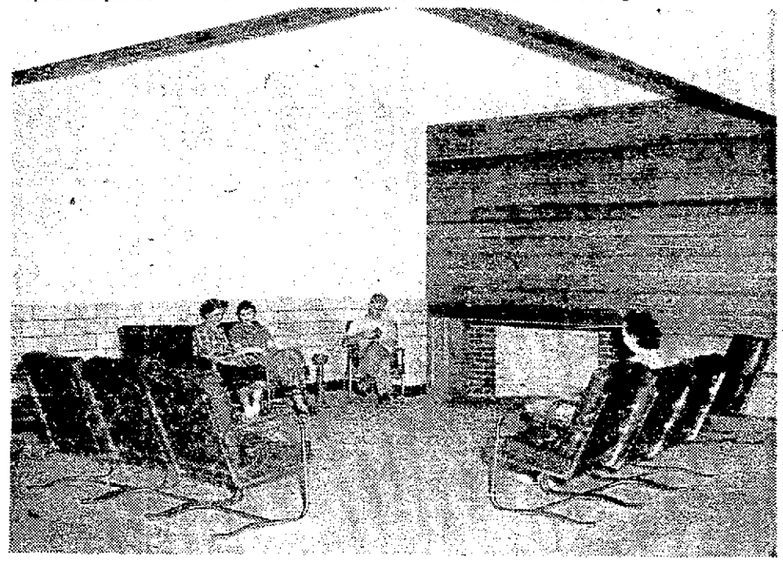
JIMMY DEMONSTRATES — Just to show one of the things the children of the nursery will be required to do during a day, Jimmy McLaughlin washes his face in the nursery wash room, styled to miniature size for the convenience of little folks.



STAGE — At the right Mike Wentz, Friendly House staff member, looks over the spacious platform which will be available for dramatics and other public events.



LOBBY ENTRANCE — Visitors to Friendly House enter this handsome lobby on North Mulberry street side. Seated on the far side, lf to right, are Mrs. Esther Smith, a volunteer helper; Sarah Elmas, secretary, and James Hevelyn, a cooperative student from Antioch college.

STAFF LOUNGE — Joyce Lindberg, an Antioch college cooperative student, who has joined the staff for several months, tries out the telephone in the gay lounge, set aside for use of volunteers and staff members.

Memorial Group Elects

Frank Mitsch jr., a member of the McVey Post, American Legion, will be the 1950 president of the Mansfield Community Memorial and Patriotic association. He will head arrangements for the annual Memorial day parade.

Other officers chosen to serve with Mitsch, are: John Schnorr, United Spanish American war veteran, honorary president; Miss Mary Beilstein, Women's Relief Corps, secretary; Mrs. James Brownscombe, American Legion auxiliary treasurer; Della M. Cochran, Daughters of Union Veterans, director of publicity.

Mitsch succeeds Frank Schneider as president.

James Rizer of the McVey post, was chosen grand marshal for the annual Memorial day parade, with William Thull as first assistant and Virgil Hagerman, second assistant.

Rizer, commander of McVey post, American Legion, asked that all association members join in the Armistice Day parade.

Hypnotist To Speak

Mansfield - Shelby Foreman's club members will hear hypnotist, magician and sleight-of-hand artist Clyde Powell of the Lehigh Safety shoe company at their monthly dinner meeting Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. at the Richland Recreation.

Director of public relations for Endicott Johnson corporation and the Lehigh company, he combines his magic tricks and hypnotism with talks on safety.

Powell will speak on "Influence Human Behavior". He links plant accidents to employes' "uncontrolled thinking" and demonstrated with subjects through hypnotism.

Entertainment for the "Safety Night" will be furnished by Barnes Manufacturing company, Art Rattan, Inc., and Hartman Electric company.

Bridge Club Rattled

McGREW, Nebr. — (AP) — Mrs. Ward Wise's bridge club meeting. Mrs. Benny Roberts and Mrs. V. E. Gatch scored a grand slam against a rattlesnake that slithered across the front yard as they were leaving.

They used honest-to-goodness spades and clubs (not the card variety) to do the job. Mrs. Fred Foster took home the prize — 11 rattlers from the snake.

Boy Proves It

DENVER — (AP) — "He couldn't do it," insisted Elmer Johnsen Sr. "He isn't big enough." "Oh, yes, I did," said Elmer Jr., "I'll show you."

So little Elmer showed his dad and an assistant fire chief how he turned in a false alarm. He just stood on the seat of his tricycle and reached into the box. The chief let Elmer Sr. carry on from there.

STYLELINE SPECIAL 4-DOOR SPORT SEDAN
Delivered Price, Mansfield $1466*

We are very happy to announce that we are now able to give immediate delivery on some models of the 1949 Chevrolet — "The Most Beautiful Buy of All!" And, in some instances, you may have a choice of color!

Before placing this ad we made every effort to contact all of those who had placed orders with us for delivery on new cars. We regret that there were those of you with whom we were unable to make contact, and hasten to assure you that we will give your order preference if you will get in touch with us immediately.

Home Job Exams Due

Civil service examination applications for the positions of Children's home matron and superintendent are available at the office of the auditor or county commissioners at the Richland county courthouse.

The examination will be held Oct. 28. The superintendent's job carries a salary of $200 a month and the matron's job $150 a month. Both positions will be awarded maintenance also.

The civil service commission notes that applicants must be between the ages of 30 and 50.

Applicants must be residents of Richland county. Other qualifications are listed on the applications.

George Stelts, chairman of the child welfare board, said today the job is open for competition and the present superintendent and matron, Mr. and Mrs. George Reece, who were appointed temporarily by the board, will also have to take the examination.

Charge Driver After Mishap

Jesse W. Guill, 22, Mansfield R. D. 5, was ordered to appear in traffic court Oct. 19, after he was charged with failure to yield the right of way on Park avenue west at 7:40 p. m. Friday.

According to Guill, he was leaving a filling station on Park avenue west, just east of the overhead bridge, when the gas accelerator on his car stuck and the car plunged into the side of a passing truck, driven by Mrs. Agnes L. Stuhldreher, Mansfield R. D. 6, who was traveling west on Park avenue.

Both the car and truck, which is owned by Mrs. Stuldreher's husband, Leo, were damaged in the accident.

MOON MULLINS

by Frank Willard

NOW DON'T FORGET, LORD PLUSHBOTTOM, TONIGHT AT EIGHT.

NOW, MY DEAH GIRL, COULD I EVER FORGET?

TAXI

NO KIDDIN', KAYO - WAS SHE GOOD LOOKIN'?

WELL, I NEVER SEEN ONE WHICH LOOKED BETTER.

SAY, PLUSHIE-

SORRY, OLD BOY, BUT I HAVE NO TIME TO TALK TO YOU. I HAVE A VERY IMPORTANT ENGAGEMENT.

DO ME A FAVOR, MOON - PHONE MISS GLADYS GORGEOUS AT THE ST. RITZ AND TELL HER I MAY BE A FEW MINUTES LATE.

SURE.

TSK-TSK-- ALL THE JUNK IN THE WORLD IN THIS CLOSET, BUT I CAN'T FIND MY GOLD-HEADED CANE.

OPEN THAT DOOR!

HELLO, MISS GORGEOUS---THIS IS LORD PLUSHBOTTOM'S PAL, MR. MULLINS. HE WAS UNAVOIDABLY DETAINED AND I COME OVER IN HIS PLACE.... HUH?... OH, I'LL BE TH' GUY BY TH' ELEVATOR WITH A DERBY HAT.

I'LL BE RIGHT DOWN, MR. MULLINS

UGH!

WELL, LET'S GO! MY NIECE KNOWS HOW CRANKY I AM ABOUT BEING LATE. THAT'S WHY SHE TOLD LORD PLUSHBOTTOM TO PICK US UP AT EIGHT SO WE'D BE AT HER WEDDING AT EIGHT-THIRTY.

WELL, DON'T STAND THERE LIKE A NINNY, MOON. GO GET US A TAXI.

W-WHY- YOU IDIOT!

CUR!

SAY, I'D OF LET YOU STAY IN THAT CLOSET IF I'D A KNEW YOU WERE GONNA GET SO HUFFY JEST BECAUSE KAYO'S ALWAYS BUTTIN' INTO SOMEBODY ELSE'S BUSINESS.

KITTY HIGGINS

KITTY, AH'M GONNA BE A LITTLE LATE GETTIN' HERE IN TH' MORNIN', SO AH SET DE ALARM CLOCK IN YOUAH ROOM SO YOU'LL GET TO SCHOOL ON TIME, HONEY.

HUH-AND SHE'S SET IT FOR SEVEN O'CLOCK!

SO I'LL JUST SET IT DOWN HERE WHERE I CAN'T HEAR IT GO OFF.

Willard
